Son of Mayor Woods Killed in Auto Crash

Jonathan Woods, son of Arlington Heights Mayor John G. Woods, was killed in a California auto accident Saturday.

Accident In Calif. - - 4 Dead

Jonathan Woods, 22, soldier son of Arlington Heights Mayor John G. Woods, was killed Saturday in a four-car accident near Blythe, Calif. Three other persons were killed in the crash.

Woods was a passenger in a car driven by Horace Nelson, 20, of Orange, Calif. Both were military policemen at the U.S. Army base at White Sands, N.M.

The California Highway Patrol said Nelson's car was traveling on Interstate 10 about 30 miles west of Blythe at 3 a.m. They said Nelson apparently tried to pass a slow-moving car and collided head-on with another auto.

NELSON and the two women in the other car were killed instantly, according to the Highway Patrol. Woods died en route to a hospital in Blythe. Six persons in the other two cars sustained minor injuries.

The Highway Patrol said Woods and Nelson were traveling to San Francisco where Nelson was to have been married this week. He was on orders to be shipped to Viet Nam.

Young Woods was a 1963 graduate of Prospect High School. He is survived by his parents Mr. and Mrs. John G. Woods, 214 S. Belmont, and four sisters, Susan, 15, Karen, 6, Marie, 5 and Kathy, 3.

The body will be returned to Lauterburg & Oehler's Funeral Home in Arlington Heights. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Sue's Summer Assignment Is 'First' for Park District

Susan Eder is a "first" for the Arlington Heights Park District.

The 21-year-old student from the University of Illinois in Champaign will be employed at the park district this summer as a recreation field worker. The park district is co-operating with the University in a program to provide practical experience for students.

Miss Eder is a Recreation and Municipal Park Administration major and the summer field experience will give her six hours of credit toward a degree.

She will be a playground leader at Recreation Park and will help with the day camp for the mentally retarded. She will assist with the adult swim lessons and will supervise some evening activities at Hasbrook Park.

PART of the required course includes writing a paper on her work each week. She will be observed at work several times by professors from the university.

"We feel she will be an asset to our staff and we are very proud to have a field student with us," said Demmaree Sunkel, recreation Supervisor.

"I like to help people have fun," said Susan.

She also enjoys sewing and music and has worked in day camps and YWCA recreation facilities at her home in Freeport, Ill.

Roundup For The Day

Reds Kill 10, Lose 14 in 2 Raids

SAIGON -- The Viet Cong mounted two daring raids today. One raid succeeded, the other failed. The Communist triumph was scored in the ancient central Vietnamese capital of Hue. They overran a government enclave and slaughtered the district chief and 10 of his men, then blew up the building just five blocks from the local U.S. military headquarters. But when the Communists tried a sneak attack 50 miles down the coast they were hurled back by U.S. Marines before they could damage an artillery emplacement. Fourteen members of a 50-man Communist suicide squad were killed.

Cholera Suspected in Pagoda

SAIGON -- Buddhists barred from leaving their main Saigon pagoda have reported 10 suspected cases of the dreaded disease cholera. The Buddhists made the announcement after government troops ringing the pagoda permitted a 12-year-old youth suspected of having the disease to leave. There are 200 persons -- including Monks, lay adults and youngsters -- virtually sealed in the pagoda where they've been since Saturday. They have been subsisting on water and rice and little else.

'Glad' He Was Overruled

WASHINGTON -- Army Chief of Staff General Harold Johnson says he's glad that the President overruled the Joint Chiefs of Staff. The Joint Chiefs -- including General Johnson -- had recommended three times that reservists be called up for service in the Viet Nam war. The general said he's glad the recommendation was overruled because he now realizes that a callup would -- as he put it -- send "shivers and tremors throughout all of the world."

Begin 10-Day Welfare Walk

CLEVELAND -- About 200 mothers from Ohio's metropolitan areas are embarking on a 10-day walk today to support what they call decent welfare benefits, and to protest inadequate welfare payments. The mothers will march from Cleveland to the state capitol in Columbus.

Bird Attacks Boy in Milwaukee Park

MILWAUKEE -- Marke Soweke suffered painful head wounds Sunday in Milwaukee. Police said a red wing blackbird apparently became annoyed at the boy's bicycling through Noyt Park and attacked him.

Cellar's Owner To Speak Up

Paul Sampson, owner of The Cellar, a teen-age club at Salem and Davis, has indicated that he is "looking forward to meeting with the Youth Commission to present some constructive ideas" in connection with the refusal of Village Manager L. A. Hanson to renew the license for the club.

The meeting between Sampson and the commission is set for June 27. Hanson said he wants the advice of the commission on whether to renew Sampson's license to operate.

Hanson said recent complaints of fights prompted him to deny the license to establish a "cooling off period."

IN REPLY to a statement by Hanson that he was "concerned that it takes seven off-duty policemen to keep order at The Cellar", Sampson said the police are there at his request.

They are there as chaperones, he said, and are paid by The Cellar for their time. Three of the officers handle parking and direct traffic, he said.

"We have co-operated with the police 100 per cent and they have done the same with us," Sampson said.

Sampson said he is "delighted" with the chance to appear before the commission.

Schaumburg.

Youth, 19, Kills Self In Colorado

A 19-year-old Hoffman Estates youth wrote he would rather be dead than drafted, then killed himself.

The body of Robert Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark, was found Saturday in the front seat of a borrowed car parked in the Rocky Mountain foothills at Morrison, Colo, near Denver.

Aathorites said young Clark shot himself with a .22 caliber rifle.

A Colorado coroner said the youth had received a draft notice shortly before he graduated from high school last month.

Clark had been west on a trip with his mother. Authorities said he borrowed a car and rifle and drove east, and apparently ran out of money near Denver.

Police File 5 Charges After Chase

A motorist was charged with five traffic violations Friday after a chase in which police curbed his car at Arlington Heights Rd. and Cedar.

George W. Poplawski of 1118 S. Highland was charged with attempting to elude an officer, driving without lights, defective mufflers, passing a stop sign and failure to display register- and failure to display registration plates. He is free on $300 bond and is to appear in court July 13.

Lions, Jaycees Help Clearbrook

The drive to raise funds for the construction of a new addition to the Clearbrook Center for the Retarded has been given impetus by a donation of $2,000 from the Lions Club of Palatine.

The check and an additional $2,000 pledge were presented last week by H. E. Anderson, club president, and David W. Tyrell, vice - president. Morris Bryson, chairman of the Clearbrook board of directors accepted for the center.

The Arlington Heights Jaycees made a $1,000 donation to the school Saturday night during the Jaycees annual installation and awards banquet. The money was raised during the sandbox sale and is the second payment in a three-year pledge to raise $3,000 for the center.

THE PRESENT Clearbrook Center building at 3201 W. Campbell, Rolling Meadows, was dedicated May 25 in a ceremony attended by Governor Otto Kerner. At the time the governor announced approval of a federal grant-in-aid of $42,097 to the school. The sum represents 39 per cent of the total cost of the addition.

There is a $120,000 mortgage on the present facility which the Clearbrook board hopes to reduce in the new fund raising campaign.

The center serves 48 preschool and school age children in a day care center and 20 adults in a sheltered workshop and vocational training activity. The addition will house a supplementary four-classroom, pre - school center and office and counseling space for evaluation and diagnostic services.

Bryson said the continued success of Clearbrook depends on substantial cash donations and pledges from industry, service organizations and individuals in the Northwest suburban area.

"CLEARBROOK is in the process of developing a five - to ten-year plan to increase broadly the scope of services available to the mentally retarded and severly handicapped." he said. "These long-term plans are closely related to Clearbrook's receiving local funds to match those available through state and federal programs.

"The matching funds approach is basic to all such programs aimed at developing health and welfare services at the community level."

James D. Nelson, of Chicago, was charged with following too closely after an accident at Euclid and Stratford Saturday.

Police said. Nelson's car struck the rear of one driven by Demetrios T. Lekkas, also of Chicago.

He will direct public and community relations activities in the area which includes Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, Elk Grove Village, Mount Prospect Palatine, Park Ridge, Rolling Meadows, and Wheeling. A fire of undetermined origin caused an estimated $50 damage to a house under construction at 1411 S. Evergreen Saturday evening. A neighbor noticed the fire in a rear wall of the home, owned by Realcos Inc., and turned in the alarm.

Earlier Saturday firemen were called to put out a fire in a garbage bin at the rear of 1015 S. Evergreen. A janitor at the building discovered the fire.

A false alarm at St. James School, 821 N. Arlington Hgts. Rd., brought trucks there Sunday morning. A temporary interruption in electrical power caused the alarm to go off.

Teen Day

Save the Cellar

By Lee Strobel

"The Cellar," an Arlington Heights Teen Spot located at Salem and Davis Sts., was recently denied a license to operate by Village Manager L. A. Hanson.

This action came after an outbreak of fights between youths. The seven off-duty policemen on duty at the establishment are hired by the Cellar management to keep things peaceful and to help direct traffic.

A new idea how order could be kept in the Cellar has been presented. The idea is to sell Cellar membership cards. These cards would be presented with the usual $1 admittance fee before teens can enter.

In this way, membership cards can be denied those who cause trouble and they could be revoked for those who step out of line.

Because of the number of fights recently, though, the Village Manager said a cooling off period should be used.

Hanson, Paul Sampson, the owner of the Cellar, and the Arlington Heights Youth Commission will meet later this month to review Hanson's action. The commission may advise Hanson to award Sampson a license.

TEEN DAY, in the past, has been known to editorialize in some of its feature articles. This is one of those cases.

According to police figures, vandalism in Arlington Heights is increasing. Much of this is caused by teen-agers lacking sufficient activities to keep them occupied.

By closing the Cellar, Arlington Heights teens will have even less to do. The village should seek ways to establish its own teen-age activity programs to tranquilize the teens instead of closing establishments which "keep them off of the streets."

While the suggested solution to the Cellar's problems may or may not be successful, it is worth a try as a step to a better community.

Automation Display at Randhurst

An educational exhibit "What Makes America Great" will be on display at the Randhurst Shopping Center, Mount Prospect, through Monday, June 27.

The exhibit on automation is the fifth educational exhibit created by Leighton A. Wilkie, board chairman of the DoALL Co., as a public service.

The first move toward automation is portrayed by a working model of Oliver Evans' flour mill and the first power plant is demonstrated by a working model of his "Columbian" steam engine.

One of the historical dioramas that constitute a 36-foot long educational display "What Makes America Great" will be shown for the first time at the Randhurst Shopping Center in Mount Prospect June 20 through June 27.

Day by Day

Young and Homeless

by Catherine O'Donnell

There are 1,000 children, ranging in age from infancy to teen, waiting for foster homes at one of the bureaus in Chicago. If Dan and Mary Healy were able, they would take all of them into their home at 821 N. Haddow.

Right now they have two 4-year-olds, a boy Johnny and a girl Sandy, in addition to their own four, Dan, 10, Mary Anne, 8, Michael, 6 and Tommy, 18 months.

"I wish that something could be written so everyone would open their hearts and take a foster child into their homes.

"Please issue an invitation for anyone to come over and see our two. They're adorable. They were part of the family within two days of their arrival almost two years ago. Anyone who is interested can call me at CL 3-7272," Mrs. Healy said.

"The little girl is one of three sisters, the youngest. When we first met her, she called all men 'Daddy' and all women 'Mommy.' She just wanted someone to love her.

"The court had taken the three away from a poor environment. The oldest sister is still in an orphanage. She didn't want to go with anyone because she had been hurt so much.

"The second sister had been placed in a foster home and she was beaten so she, too, is at the orphanage. Our foster children retain their own surnames. It's part of the law.

"There are long term or short-term children available. There is no age limit for foster parents. It's a wonderful chance for anyone to pick the child they want. There are so many to choose from."

Secret Is Out

Congratulation to the three young ladies from Sacred Heart of Mary High School who appeared on television's "It's Academic" Saturday.

The girls have known since April 23 that they had placed second. That was the date the program was filmed at WMAQ in the Merchandise Mart with some make-up and some warm-up questions.

The three girls are Nancy Killeen of Palatine, Donna Klein of Arlington Heights and Donna Burns of Des Plaines. They competed with boys from Crown Point High School in Chicago.

Clipped Again

The Day by Day column clipper has struck again and a total of 14 women hit the dust.

The first cutting happened to the account of the salad and champagne luncheon co-hostessed by Mrs. Jack Pohlenz in her home on S. Windsor and Mrs. Arthur Jackson of Woodford. Mrs. Woodford is secretary of the Auxiliary of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society which was celebrating the year's end.

President is Mrs. Edward Nicklaus of S. Ridge. Vice president is Mrs. Martin McGuire and treasurer is Mrs. Edward Graf, both of Park Ridge.

And once more with feeling – the Crippled Children's Rehabilitation Center has 11 volunteers who live in our town. Each woman promised to earn $20 and donate it to the group. Mrs. Charles Pipher, who'd had similar experience in another town, was the guiding spirit. She began knitting sweaters that sold for $5 and up and is still taking orders.

There were garage sales and a big buffet dinner featuring a jazz concert by Art Hodes.

The 10 women besides Mrs. Pipher are Mrs. Robert Jochims and Mrs. Donald Dereby of N. Hickory, Mrs. Jack Griffin and Mrs. William Stueber of N. Beverly, Mrs. Hartley Bond of S. Yale, Mrs. Richard Kelly of N. Belmont, Mrs. Donald Hammerstrom of N. Derbyshire, Mrs. Homer Neilsen of N. Brighton and Mrs. Carl Dilsaver of N. Salem.

The 11 are expanding their membership to 15 in the fall. Details on this exclusive and wonderful group may be obtained by calling Mrs. Hammerstrom at 392-5087.

Some Day

. . . by Frank E. Von Arx

This is the time of year that women come out of hiding. They come right out in the open in shorts and slacks.

Some of the new colors may frighten little boys. They glow. But for the men who have been around a summer or two, the season is primarily a means to determine which women put on the most weight during winter hibernation.

The weight contest is always close. The winner is usually the gal who tries to squeeze into a pair of pants more than one year old, thus gaining the illusion of more than her fair share of extra weight.

The natural female reaction is a crash diet that last two days. There is a new diet plan that Some Day is offering on an exclusive franchise basis to travel agencies. It not only compensates for the traditional lack of will power, but it promises to be a boon to travel.

There are three options to the plan:

1. A 21-day ocean voyage. This is patterned after those folders promising fun and romance at sea. The cruise has a few innovations, however. It starts on a raft dropped in the middle of the ocean where prevailing currents normally promise sight of land in the allotted time.

The raft is stocked with one box of 24 candy bars (any choice) and five gallons of water. Barring hurricanes or high seas, the girl should reach shore in excellent, slender shape.

No. 2 is a vacation patterned after the novel idea of visiting the old homestead down on the farm. This vacation is offered under arrangements with the Bulgarian salt mines and the potato farmers of Poland.

Take your pick; both diets will emphasize proper exercise. The salt mines operate from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. with a half a day off on Sunday. The potato farms run from dawn to sunset with time off on rainy days. The food is plentiful in both; all the potato soup you can eat.

After two weeks of fun and providing there are no difficulties with exit visas, the girl will return the picture of health.

No. 3 is the Go-Go girl. It provides a 14-day orbit of the Earth with the usual quota of dehydrated foods in the squeeze-type containers. This is for the girl who wants to lounge and relax.

It is wise to take an extra change of clothes on this trip. We've had some problems on re-entry.

Vantage Point

. . . by Jack Vandermyn

Why, the politician wanted to know, it is anyone's business how much money I make, how much I spend on campaigns to get elected and how much I am worth financially?

This question came from one of the winners in last week's primary election, who took exception to our statement that a public figure's financial business should be public knowledge.

Annually, Sen. Douglas releases a complete financial statement, telling how he spends his approximately $38,000 a year gross income.

"Public office is a great honor" says Paul Douglas. "We should not exploit it for personal gain. We should try to legislate with an eye exclusively on the public interest, avoiding personal interests which are in conflict with the public interest."

ONE OF Sen. Douglas' pet projects throughout his years in the Senate has been to elevate the image of politicians in the public's eye.

"I personally believe that the standard of ethics of public officials is much higher than some critics believe and indeed higher than that of a very large proportion of the critics," Sen. Douglas said recently in a public appearance.

As a U. S. Senator, Douglas is paid $30,000 a year. He believes this is "adequate" despite the heavy expenses connected with running for public office.

From his $30,000 salary, Sen. Douglas estimates that it costs him about $7,000 to travel back and forth from Washington and to maintain a residence in the capital.

THE SENIOR Senator from Illinois earns about $8,000 a year from annuities from the University of Chicago where he was a professor before entering politics and from various speaking engagements. He adds about $2,000 a year to his income from dividends and capital gains from his investments.

"It should be remembered," Sen. Douglas points out, "that those in Congress are still in a very favorable economic position. Those in Congress should never forget that at least 40,000,000 Americans, or slightly over 20 per cent of the population, are living in poverty and that 90 per cent of American taxpayers have incomes under $10,000 a year."

DOUGLAS has proposed legislation that would make it mandatory for public political figures to regularly file the amount of and the sources from which they receive income.

"Until such a practice becomes widespread," Sen. Douglas says, "It is necessary to rely on voluntary declarations by individuals to allay public suspicions and to bolster the confidence of the citizens in the integrity of their representatives.

IS IT self-righteous for a public official to announce his financial position?

Sen. Douglas explains it this way. "To serve in the congress of the United States is a great distinction. In making a disclosure of our financial affairs, we should be as meticulous as possible, not in a self-righteous manner but to assure those who elect us that we have the integrity to match the distinction of the office we hold."

Douglas reveals that his personal bank account contains $2,912 and that of his wife, $1,950. Including a $6,000 mortgage on his home, Douglas lists his total debts as $9,600.

Revealing his personal income is nothing new with Paul Douglas. It is not an election year ploy. He has been releasing personal financial statements since 1940, the year he was elected to serve as an alderman of the City of Chicago.

Kingswood Methodist

A Young, Growing Church

BY BETTY AINSLIE

A machine shop, a stable and a double garage were transformed by paint, partitions and lots of hard work into a very attractive small church known as Kingswood Methodist Church at 813 East Dundee Rd. in Arlington Heights.

Resembling an elongated ranch house, this church offers a surprise to those who enter the door into the sanctuary. Here are bright new pews, a polished lectern, soft lights and a organ. This small chapel is carefully painted, is cheerful and quiet, a friendly place to worship and is enjoyed by the 159 confirmed church members.

Two families heard a preacher was coming to their area back in 1963 and gathered 25 other families together to help in the painting, polishing and partitioning of the building which had been purchased earlier as a future Methodist Church.

"This congregation has been wonderful," said the young minister Noel Clark Holt, founding Pastor of this church.

"The volunteer work here is really terrific. People clean up the church, the secretarial help is all volunteer, our nursery helpers offer of their time and even our organist, Emerald Hall is a volunteer."

HOW DOES Kingswood differ from other Methodist Churches:

"I believe," the Pastor said, "it's just size and we're more liberal in theological thought than some of our sister Methodist churches."

A Commission on Social Concerns headed by Zora Spencer is an important part of this church. This group helps to prepare members to be active in community affairs.

"We're promoting a blood bank and we've had two men just finishing their term on District 21 School Board, and a woman just newly appointed. Quite a number of the congregation are active in village affairs in Buffalo Grove," Pastor Holt said proudly. "For a small church we really do rather well in community things."

"One of our difficulties is that this is a brand new area--mostly young marrieds with young families all very busy buying homes, cars--just getting started in their jobs and there really isn't a great deal of money left over for building a new church--but we will someday." he added.

KINGSWOOD places more emphasis on family worship and its organization for women. The Women's Society of Christian Service has Mrs. George Kaage as president and meets for worship and program.

"They raise money for our Missions and help Newberry Center, a community center in Chicago," the Pastor said. "They also do many service projects for the church here."

The Methodist Youth Fellowship is made up of both Junior and Senior High students. Greg Messina is the president. The youth sponsor a yearly Easter egg hunt for the children.

"The problem with the youth group here seems to be the difference in ages. They just aren't all interested in the same thing. So we'll probably need to make two groups soon," said Pastor Holt.

THE CHURCH is governed by the Quarterly Conference, but Kingswood has an Official Board which does the day to day planning and is headed by Bob McKenzie. This group is divided into several different commissions namely; Membership, headed by Arleen Messina, Finance with Rag Prokof as President, Education led by Bob McKenzie, Missions directed by Jo Reid, Worship headed by Emerald Hall. Dwight Hall is Sunday School superintendent and choir director.

"The Men's Club here," said the Pastor, "seems to keep mighty busy looking after the building and our six acres of land here."

There's a Soft Ball team which takes part in the Wheeling Park District competitions and an annual Church picnic held on the church property.

THIS church gathers its congregation from Buffalo Grove or the South--Wheeling on the West and Arlington Heights to the North and the majority of the people have never had any experience in running a church.

"It's actually the first time for most of our congregation to be involved and we're training people to do church work."

PASTOR Holt was born in 1935 at Cape Girardeau, Missouri.

"My father was a Methodist Minister and during the war was a Chaplin on we traveled around quite a bit." he said.

He graduated from Central College in Fayetteville Missouri where he met and married his wife Rosalie. He studied for a short time at Eden Theological Seminary in Webster Groves Mo., but completed his Bachelor of Divinity Degree at Garrett Seminary in Evanston.

The Pastor and his wife have three children, Sidney who is 10, Jennifer who is 9 and Julie who is 2. Rosalie has a degree in social work and worked for a time as a case worker.

PASTOR Holt proudly opened the door to the lovely chapel. "Once we get people inside the church here, they are always pleasantly surprised. With a little money and lots of hard work donated free we've really a nice place for worship."

"The laymen can run this church--in fact I want them too," said the minister. "But I want no tampering with the pulpit. It's my responsibility as an ordained clergyman to speak as I understand my bible--my preaching is always from the bible--that I feel is my most important job here."

For a Safe Summer

School is out and a long season of play outdoors is underway. There are a number of things that we can all do to make the difference between a carefree, fun-filled for youngsters -- or tragedy.

The majority of motorists pay special attention to school zone warning signs during the school year. But, how many of us consider the entire village a "school zone" during the vacation months?

This is a period during which we should be especially watchful. Children become so involved in play that they forget about traffic. Therefore, motorists should take extra care, be alert and ever watchful for a cyclist or young ball player who may unexpectedly dash in front of or into an auto.

This also is a good time for parents to conduct a "personal safety crusade to check into community child hazards. The Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co., warns of ten common hazards found in nearly every community of the country which are responsible for hundreds of tragic child deaths each year.

They list most serious community hazards for children as:

(1) Water-filled holes, pits and ditches; also, unprotected natural streams.

(2) Old iceboxes and refrigerators.

(3) Steep cuts and banks, particularly sand banks.

(4) Community junk heaps.

(5) Junked autos and unused machinery.

(6) Accessible electric wires.

(7) Unsafe outside stairways and ladders left standing against buildings.

(8) Abandoned sheds and buildings.

(9) Unprotected chemicals and building materials.

(10) Unguarded construction projects.

Controlling or getting rid of these ten leading community troublemakers should be the objective of every parent with young children.

Youngsters love to explore and have little real sense of danger. Warning them about unsafe places to play is not enough.

The first step for parents is to list all such sources of danger in the vicinity of their homes and then decide what can be done about them. If any are found on your property, you should correct them yourself without delay. Where the hazards are located on another's property, parents should not hesitate to seek the owner's cooperation. Should the owner refuse to grant this cooperation, the danger should be pointed out to the police or other town authorities.

By crusading for a safer community, by eliminating local child death traps, and by keeping a watchful eye when behind the wheel, we can all make this a safer and fun-filled summer for children and adults alike.

Letters to the Editor

GOP Is Not Split

Editor:

In this week's Tuesday and Wednesday editions, you again give editorial comment to an alleged split in the ranks of the Republican Party. In traveling about this country, it is possible to pick up certain newspapers in any major city on a given day and find similar editorial comment, apparently when constructive subject matter is lacking. The simple truth ignored by all such articles is that wherever you have thinking people, you must have at least some controversy. The Republican Party still has many people in its ranks who can think. When we all line up and obediently nod approval to the boss politicians' command, we will have stopped thinking: we will have stopped all controversy - and we will be quite DEAD.

Since you are new here, may we briefly review some past history. The writer can testify to almost ten years prior to 1962, when even a good Republican could not find a Republican block inquiry to be sure there was a Republican Committeeman.

Then in 1962, we waged a heated committeeman race in the primaries. Many of us who worked equally hard in both that campaign and in this recent one, will attest that the 1962 contest was more bitter. Then in 1964, when the Republican Party took a good thumping generally, Wheeling Township gave Goldwater the third largest plurality in Illinois, gave Percy the fourth largest plurality in Illinois, gave Rumsfeld the largest plurality in his district, gave Bickley the second largest plurality in Cook County, as well as made several other notable accomplishments.

Thus in two years, from almost no organization; through a heated committeeman race, into an extremely poor Republican general election year, we accomplished all of the above. So - who was split then? And we are not split now.

May we suggest that your big brothers had worn out editorial comment on this subject long before you were a glint in your founder's eye.

George E. Gandsey

So You're Mother Of Summer Bride

Suffering from the fidgets because your daughter is going to be a summer bride?

Pour yourself a cup of hot coffee and relax for a few minutes. Everything will be fine if you, the bride's mother, can stay calm and remember a few basic hints.

Keep in mind that no matter how nervous you are, you must be a tower of strength as your daughter prepares for her special day.

SOME BASIC do's and don'ts:

All female attendants at a formal wedding should carry flowers that reflect the wedding motif and complement their gowns. Everything should be understated so the bride will be the focal point of the ceremony.

Although short dresses are considered proper and pretty, mothers may look more distinctive in floor - length gowns and long gloves. And the mothers' corsages should be without ribbons.

The bride, if she doesn't plan to dress at the church, should smooth her gown under her and place a sheet on the car seat unless she's positive it's spotless.

The bride's train should be "started" when she goes down the aisle. She should remove the stitching from the ring finger of her glove so her wedding band can be slipped on without removing the glove.

FOR AN informal summer wedding, the bride should wear a street - length dress in off-white or pastel, although a long gown isn't improper if she prefers. Her veil, if she wears one, should be short and her bouquet small.

Attendants should wear street - length dresses, short gloves, little jewelry and small hats. It is smarter for their shoes to be darker or lighter than their dresses — not dyed to match.

Day AT HOME

Shades of Hollywood, Glamorous Sunglasses

To quote an ungrammatical cliche that applies well, them days are gone forever.

Even the most practical lady shopper today is buying sunglasses for attractiveness as well as protection.

Glamorous sunglasses shown currently in area stores tend to be avant-garde in design of both lenses and frames.

Better glasses for this purpose are optically correct, design to filter harmful rays while letting the wearer seen normally.

Such glasses are ground and polished to eliminate distortion.

BEFORE YOU purchase good sunglasses that also are attractive, here are some tips:

If you wear jewelry close to your face, such as earrings, select a simple frame with a minimum of decoration. If you normally wear little or no jewelry near the face and have a conservative hairdo, select sunglasses with more decoration.

Also, when selecting a shape in sunglasses, take a good look at your eyebrows. For round glasses, curve the brow up. For wrap-arounds, accent the slant of your eyebrows so you don't look like a glass-eyed wonder from outer space.

Carpet, Carpet Everywhere

BY MARILYN HELFERS

Carpet, carpet now is everywhere.

This is possible because a use has been found for a previously untapped product, waste gas from petroleum refining.

Because of this development today's housewife is using carpeting in areas never before carpeted.

Waste gases compounded of hydrogen and carbon are heated and compressed and the molecules rearranged to convert into a solid. The solid is dyed, melted, and then extruded into filament form.

The first useful application of this filament (Vectra polypropylene) was Ozite carpeting.

All the properties of this carpeting are attractive to homemakers. It doesn't fade, rot or mildew. In tests, it has resisted spotting and bleaching from ammonia, chlorine, coffee, tea, soft drinks, shoe polish mustard and catsup.

WHEN THE carpeting is used outdoors on a porch or patio, it may be cleaned by hosing it down.

Ozite indoor - outdoor carpeting comes in 16 colors: terrace green, oatmeal, terrace cardinal, avocado, terrace bronze, charcoal, regal blue, brownstone, sapphire, galleon gold, orange ice, Alice blue, limeade, lemon drop, taffy and peppermint. The carpeting is available at Mayfair Rug Cleaners Inc., Palatine.

Alexius Auxiliary Wash Day

The St. Alexius Hospital Auxiliary will hold its second annual "Auxiliary Wash Day" from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday, June 29 at the Frigidaire Coin Laundry.

The laundry is located in the Grove Shopping Center in Elk Grove Village at Arlington Heights and Biesterfield rds.

PROFITS from coin operated washers and dryers will be donated to the auxiliary by the laundry's owner. The owner also will award a round-trip plane ride for two to the Wagon Wheel in Rockton or The Lake Lawn (Wis.) Lodge and a free luncheon.

Auxiliary members will supply customers with free Loft detergent, sold through the auxiliary. An official of the Sanford Chemical Co. will donate the soap.

Mrs. William F. Marton of Elk Grove heads the arrangement committee. Persons wishing to purchase soap may contact her at 437-2068.

DOCTOR SAYS

Traumatic Encephalopathy

W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q -- My son has traumatic encephalopathy. Is this a form of brain damage? Will it get worse as the years go by?

A -- This term means headache following a head injury. Although the headaches may persist for months or years, there is no permanent brain damage. The condition improves rather than worsens with time.

Q -- When my fifth child was born I was given Pitocin to induce labor. Following this I had a violent headache that lasted a month. All the usual remedies were of no avail. Neosynephrine nose drops, however, helped me. What caused the headache and why did the nose drops help it?

A -- Oxytocin (Pitocin) causes water retention in some persons. If this process involves the brain, the excessive pressure inside the cranium would cause headache. Since phenylephrine (Neosynephrine) is a decongestant it shrinks the blood vessels in the nasal passages, including the sinuses. This could relieve some of the pressure in the cranium. On the other hand, perhaps you had sinus headaches.

Q -- About a year ago I had a complete hysterectomy. Although microscopic examination of the removed uterus showed the presence of cancer the doctor believes he got it all but he wants me to have a checkup every three months. How can a Pap smear show whether the cancer has spread elsewhere in my body?

A -- The Pap smear will not show cancer in other parts but should be done to determine whether there is any malignant change in the operative scar. If such a change is found, prompt removal or cobalt needles would give you the best chance for a cure. Your checkup should include a physical examination as well as a Pap smear.

Browns Get 6-0 Shutout Over Hawks

Bob Edgerton and Wayne Miller pitched six innings of shutout ball Saturday to lead the Browns to a 6-0 victory over the Hawks in the Arlington Heights Boys' Baseball Senior League.

The winning duo held the Hawks to six hits while their mates jumped off to a three-run lead in the first inning. Martin Frase was the losing pitcher.

IN A SEVEN-INNING cliff-hanger, the Bengals nipped the Warriors 5-4 behind the seven-hit pitching of Mike Creswell. The winners managed only three hits, but three unearned runs in the first inning gave the Bengals all the momentum they needed.

Steve Shawhan turned in another sparkling mound performance for the Indians, as they tripped the Mustangs 4-1 Saturday. Shawhan gave up only five hits, while striking out nine and walking no one. John Musial, Dick Hetke, and Norm Klein got all six of the Indians' hits.

The Mustangs also dropped a 9-5 makeup decision to the Bengals. Three Bengal pitchers gave the Mustangs five hits, with Steve Stratton getting the win and Gary Anderson taking the loss. Bob Romma was the hitting hero of the night with a triple, double and single in three trips to the plate.

In two free-swinging Varsity II brawls, the Orioles clobbered the Bears 14-4 and the Phillies tamed the Bobcats 13-6. The Orioles' runs came on only eight hits, two of them doubles by Scott Douglas and Bill Kirchoff. Santos Borrafate was the winning pitcher and Bob Esvanec the loser.

Bill Brodericks drove in four of the Phillies' runs with a single and a double, while Chuck Herschline got credit for the win. An eight-run fourth was the Phils' big splash.

RANDY HALL limited the Rams to two hits, while his Viking mates romped 7-3. Rick Colloton took the loss after yielding seven hits, including a double and a triple by Jay Benson. The Eagles rounded out the Varsity II schedule with an 8-4 triumph over the [illegible] cops. Rick Fuggiti got the win, through he needed help from Bruce Knoll. Knoll also chipped in with a double, and Gerry Richardson lashed a triple.

Mike Locascio's no-hitter highlighted major division activity Saturday. Locascio struck out nine and walked no one as the Giants blanked the Cubs 4-0. The only Cub baserunner was a hit batsman. John Coulter's triple drove in three Giant runs in the first inning.

Terry Drmsbee pitched the only other major division shutout Sunday, hurling the Yankees to a 4-0 win over the Senators. Drmsbee struck out seven and walked one, and loser Brad Koerwor whiffed eight and walked four. Gregg Hanttly and Glenn Kost tripled for the Yanks.

Sunday's win was the second in a row for the Yankees who also tripped the White Sox 8-6 Saturday. Brian Hogan was the pitching hero in that one, yielding six hits.

The Braves got two-hit pitching from Dick Kolari, Mark Weber, and Steve Loughmon Saturday when they toppled the Pirates 13-2. Gene Dougherty doubled and Dave Kubik tripled for the winners, while Bob Sesterhenn got a double and a triple for the Bucs.

In other major league action, the Red Sox beat the Athletics 11-6; the Mets edged the Cardinals 5-3, and the Dodgers and Astros battled to an 8-8 tie.

THE BRONCS PICKED up two wins in North White Intermediate play, topping the Celtics 6-1 Friday and the Triplets 3-1 Saturday. Dave Nordyke was the hero of Friday's contest, as he pitched a two-hitter and tripled in one run. Curt Manning was the winning pitcher Saturday, and Gerald Krewer the loser.

The Saints ripped the Lancers 13-6 in another North White Intermediate tilt. Gary Brannereuter helped his own winning cause with two bases loaded doubles. Roger Obst and Chris Matzeick blasted home runs for the Redbirds, as they clipped the Celtics 13-8 to round out division action.

The Angels' 6-5 squeaker over the Cadets got the top prize for suspense in the North Red Intermediate loop. Ken Schoneck bested John Meinking in the mound duel, and Jim Boyle and John Meinking matched home runs for the two squads.

The Hornets' Bob Hall whiffed 10 Bruins Saturday, setting them down 6-2. Jim Jenkins was pinned with the defeat. In the only other division contest, Rick Miller pitched the Twins to a 9-3 conquest of the Doves. Ted McKown had a single and a home run for the Twins.

THE SEALS DROPPED a 10-9 heartbreaker to the South Blue Intermediate Rangers Friday, but bounced back with a 9-6 win over the Dons Saturday. Tim Sands struck out 11 en route to his victory over the Dons. Brent Bauske was the Rangers' winning hurler Friday.

The Chargers ended the Rangers' streak in a hurry Saturday, blasting them 7-1 behind the one-hit pitching of Mark Preissing and Mike Weber. Preissing also contributed a triple to the Chargers' offense.

Kim Vollendorf pitched his second consecutive one-hitter Saturday, while the Stars shellacked the Ravens 23-1. Mike Martindell got the Stars' only extra base hit, a double.

In North Red Junior tilts the Gulls bowed 9-3 to the Rockets, and the Panthers devoured the Trojans 11-1. Craig Kennedy was the Rockets' moundsman, and John Lane pitched in a losing cause for the Gulls. The Badgers battled the Millers for four innings Friday before darkness halted the contest with the score knotted at 10-10. Paul Kastner got two doubles, and Bill Macaluse came up with one two-bagger.

THE HURRICANES outslugged the Jets 8-6 in the only South White Junior game yesterday. Kevin McAleer was both the winning pitcher and the author of a long triple. Dick Blocki also chipped in with a home run.

It was a busy weekend for the Jets who also beat the Jays 7-1 Friday in a rain-shortened match. Barry Brinn was the winning pitcher. The Jays bowed 4-2 to the Wrens Saturday, and the Bulldogs chewed up the Hurricanes 7-3 Friday.

The Bisons and the Bees both split in their weekend outings in the North White Junior loop. The Bisons came up with a five-run fourth to disappoint the Gophers 10-8 but fell short 8-6 before the Bees.

Tom Hurlbut was the winning pitcher against the Gophers, giving up eight hits including a Mike Herbert home run. The Bees' Randy Schiavo hung the defeat on John Munsch of the Bisons.

The Owls and Billy Rogan turned back the Bees 10-8 Saturday, John Husted tripled for the winners.

BILL WILSON pitched the Aztecs to an 8-2 conquest of the Robins, giving the losers five hits and whiffing 15. Gary Gables struck out 14 Cyclone batters, but his Wolves' teammates had all they could do to eke out a 10-9 win.

The North Blue Junior Boxers tasted defeat for the first time yesterday, falling 7-1 to the Rebels. Jim Fenderson struck out nine to earn the victory. It wasn't all joy for the Rebels this weekend however. The Blues nipped them with a three-run sixth 6-5 Saturday. Pat Poners was the Blues' winning hurler. In another North Blue tilt, the Sox cuffed the Larks 19-9. Jere Waber got the win.

THE BEAVERS gnawed the Spartans by an identical 19-9 count in the South Blue Junior division, with Randy Hollinger collecting a home run, double and two singles. Bruce Johnson was the winning pitcher.

The Tornadoes, behind Steve Harris, chilled the Gems 11-3, and the Oaks and Chicks had to settle for a 5-5 tie Saturday.

Looking Ahead

ATLANTA (NEA) — Georgia Tech's football coach Bobby Dodd has so interesting theory about spring football practice:

"You never know in the spring," Dodd said, "how good your football team is going to be in the fall — not really."

At least he's honest.

Cardinal Netters Lead J.C. Meet

Jim Esser and Bill Von Bockman had a lock on the hardware Saturday in the final round of the Arlington Junior Chamber of Commerce Tennis Tournament.

The Arlington High School varsity pair dominated their respective divisions, taking singles crowns and a piece of the doubles action in a field of 168 local netters.

ESSER BECAME the meet's 18-and-under singles king by tripping Cardinal teammate John Jarecki, 7-5, 6-1. The newly-crowned champ then teamed with Jarecki to take the doubles title by a 6-3, 6-4 count over John Brost and Jim Coleman.

Von Bockman had little trouble in capturing 16-and-under laurels. The Arlington High School junior rolled over Bob Gallagher 6-0, 6-2 for the singles honors and paired with Mat Weeg for a 6-0, 6-0 romp over Ken Jergenson and Rick Tindall in the doubles finals.

IT WAS A long day for Von Bockman who also had to play his semi-final doubles match on the high school courts Saturday. He and Weeg reached the finals by toppling Gallagher and Chuck Gibbel 6-1, 6-2.

Jergenson and Tindall played the only three-set match of the day in their semi-final doubles round. The local pair jumped off to a 6-4 lead over Bill Stalling and Paul Stevens, but bowed in the second set 5-7. They came back with an 8-6 win in the third to end the marathon.

FIVE OF SATURDAY'S competitors will journey to Waukegan on July 8, 9, and 10 for the state jaycee tournament finals. Included in the local contingent are Esser Jarecki, Von Bockman, Weeg, and Gallagher.

Singles and doubles winners at Waukegan earn a trip to Miami in early August for the national finals.

The Arlington Tennis Club launched its 1966 season on an encouraging note Saturday, tripping DesPlaines, in a dual meet on the losers' courts.

THE LOCAL NETTERS triumphed in three of four divisions, failing only in the women's competition by a 3-2 count. The men's A and B divisions won by identical 6-1 scores, while the juniors won 5-0 by default.

Don Johnson paced the men's A competition with a 6-1, 6-3 decision over Des Plaines' Pat Grant. Other singles winners were Bob Fink, Larry Brown, and Lothar Peistrup. Johnson also teamed with Dave Johnson for a 10-8 pro set doubles victory over Don Lathrop and Al Woods. Fink and Peistrup picked up the other doubles win by a 6-4, 6-2 score.

IN THE B DIVISION Ken Schaller, Dave Milligan, Clarence Feiereisel, Dick Ackerman, and Jim Rompa all collected singles wins for Arlington. Milligan and Bob Van Es won at number-one doubles 6-1, 6-1, but the shutout was spoiled when the local squad had to default the second doubles match.

Arlington Legion Nine Wins First Two Conference Tilts

"This season is far from over, but we are looking more like a ball club with each game."

Those words coming from Coach Lloyd Meyer summed up the Arlington Heights American Legion baseball team after its first weekend of conference play.

THE ARLINGTON squad posted a 5-1 win against highly-regarded Park Ridge Red Friday and a 3-2 thriller against Park Ridge Blue yesterday to gain a piece of first place in the early title maneuvering.

Southpaw Bob Young also hurled a six-inning no-hitter in an exhibition contest against Dundee Saturday. The Big Blue won that one 2-0.

Meyer's outfit had its ups and downs during yesterday's Park Ridge Blue contest, trailing for the first three frames and sweating out a seventh inning rally before everyone could relax and have a coke.

IN THE FIRST inning the visitors scored on a throwing error by catcher Mark Frase. Starter John Friedl retired the side, but the local crew had to live through the next three innings while trailing 1-0.

Arlington went hitless and scoreless through the first three innings before the locals made their mark in the scorebook.

In the fourth, center fielder John Loughman tied the score at 1-1 when Jerry Donahue singled. Loughman advanced to third by-route of a walk and a sacrifice. With teammate Jim Jorgenson on first at the time of Donahue's hit, Arlington had a golden opportunity for a big inning, but Jorgenson and Donahue were both thrown out on a quick relay at third and second respectively.

TWO MORE RUNS came in the fifth when Doug Fink and pitcher, Friedl, scored on Mark Newman's center field single. Both reached base on walks by pitcher Greg Macgergori.

With the seventh inning left, Friedl started things off by hitting the batter, and that was the start of a long fifteen minutes. With a runner on first, and two out, Bob Schroeder of the Blue's singled. Then Macgergori singled to score Jack Kures, who was running for the hit batsmen with Arlington's lead cut to one, Meyer walked to the mound with thoughts of a new pitcher.

Friedl walked off the mount after working 6 2/3 innings and was replaced by Jerry Donahue. Donahue finished the inning and the game by pitching five times while striking out his opponent.

YOUNG HAD complete control in Saturday's exhibition game. He faced 19 batters during the six innings and only once in the fourth was he in trouble. The "A"'s Tom Cakla reached third base after a walk and a steal, but Young retired the next three batters in order to kill the threat.

Arlington's two runs came in the third and fourth. In the third Loughman made it to first on a single, and after stealing second and third, broke the scoreless duel crossing home plate on a wild pitch.

In the fourth, Woodard added an insurance run when Dundee's short stop, Tom Knowles, had trouble with a hot bouncer off the bat of Paul Parish. Young finished the game retiring the batters in order in the sixth.

FRIDAY AT PARK RIDGE Arlington opened its 18-game schedule with an impressive 5-1 win over the local Red's. The extra inning encounter saw both clubs tied at one-all at the end of seven.

Woodard scored in the first for Arlington's lone run and the Red's tied the score in the fifth. The visitors scored all four runs in the top of the eighth with two out.

After Woodard and Newman popped out, Loughman and Jorgenson lined singles to reach base. With the help of a sacrifice, a walk, an error, and a wild pitch, all in order. Lestarge scored the winning run with Fink, Loughman, and Jorgenson following with three insurance runs.

Donahue finished the eight in order and received the victory.

Tonight at Recreation Park Arlington will play host to Des Plaines in a league game starting at 6:30 p.m.

PHILADELPHIA (NEA) — Somebody informed Gene Mauch that until the New York Yankees drafted pitcher Bill Kunkel in 1963, the present Phillies' manager had been the only Yankee draft choice in over 18 years.

"That's why the Yankees are so great," Mauch said. "They make a mistake only once every 10 years."

'Industry Should Sing It's Way to Success'

The Universal Oil Products Choraliers rehearse for the second annual spring concert to be presented Friday, June 24 at Clearmont School in Elk Grove Village.

Anthony Mostardo, director of the Universal Oil Products Choraliers, believes that industry group singing is just one way of total community participation.

Elk Grove educator Anthony Mostardo believes American industry can sing its way to better human relations and higher profits. He puts this theory into practice with an active baton.

Mostardo, principal of Elk Grove's Clearmont School is director of the Universal Oil Products Choraliers. He and the group are preparing for their second annual spring concert to be held at Clearmont School Friday, June 24 at 8 p.m.

"This is an advocation with me but it's one from which I derive a great deal of satisfaction. The people I'm working with at UOP are all good sight readers and they are willing to work to present the kind of program which will have popular appeal," Mostardo says.

THE CONCERT program will include a medley of show tunes, pop music and a novelty number built around audience participation.

"You never start a program with a slow number. The idea is to start fast, get them involved and then alternate your selections so that there is a deliberate pattern", Mostardo says.

He is a former special student at the American Conservatory of Music, holds a masters degree from De Paul University and currently is working on a doctorate degree at Northern Illinois University.

MOSTARDO believes industrial choral groups such as the one at UOP can promote a unique sense of participation for the employees.

"At the plant a man may be unloading drums on a shipping platform. But if that same man is a featured soloist with a company singing group, his sense of belonging and participation has to be greater," he says.

Mostardo believes industrial group singing is just one form of total community living. He cites a series of two - piano concerts he and Mrs. Jo Anne Kalina have given for youngsters at Ridge, Rapley, Forest View and Clearmont schools as a way to cultivate good musical taste in children.

He also is director of the Elk Grove Festival Chorus, an ecumenical group featuring 80 singers from several churches in the community.

Appoint Three To New Posts At Bruning

Charles Bruning Co., Mount Prospect's largest industry, has announced completion of a newly consolidated design engineering department at its Central Rd. plant.

Previously, design engineering facilities for the company were split between Mount Prospect and the company's Revolute machine plant in Rochester, N. Y.

JOHN L. Tregay was appointed to the post of director of engineering. Two new posts were created in the departmental merger. They were assigned to Frederick G. Wilde, chief engineer for diazo, and Donald E. Raterman, chief engineer for Electrostatics.

Tregay has served as chief development and design engineer in the Mount Prospect plant since 1957. He joined Bruning in 1955 as manager of machine development.

Wilde was formerly chief engineer at the company's New York facility. He will be moved to Mount Prospect to fill his new post. He has been a member of the Bruning management team since 1943 and was named chief engineer in 1956.

Raterman, of Mount Prospect joined Bruning in 1958 as a project engineer. In 1963, he was appointed manager of design engineering.

TREGAY SAID that consolidation is expected to engender greater cross thinking on all parts of research as well as design units.

"People in all phases of engineering design and research are now able to call on other departments for problem solving assistance when required," Tregay said.

Consolidation of the design engineering functions was made possible by greatly expanded physical facilities at Bruning's Mount Prospect plant.

SINCE 1958, the under-roof square footage of the local facility has grown from 240,000 to almost 700,000. Included in the expansion plans were new facilitea for design engineering with more sophisticated equipment, complete environmental testing, vibration testing, sound rooms, optics, electronics and physics laboratories.

A new model shop for the construction of prototype equipment is included in the overall expansion and consolidation program.

New heads of re-organized Bruning engineering department are (from the left) John L. Tregay, Donald E. Raterman and Frederick G. Wilde.

Know What You're Doing When Using Power Mower

Almost everybody seems to be using power mowers on their lawns. These have taken much of the drudgery out of cutting grass, prevented aching muscles and saved hours of time, but they have taken their toll in increased accidents every year, too.

The danger potential is far greater than with the old hand mower, but the majority of accidents are still caused by negligence and carelessness rather than through any inherent fault of the mower itself.

Manufacturers have tried to incorporate safety features in their mowers. In a rotary mower, look for a housing that comes close to the ground all around so that the blade isn't exposed. Discharge openings should not send the clippings back at the operator.

The most obvious cause of injuries is due to the direct contact with the mower itself. Other injuries occur when objects are picked up by a rapidly spinning blade and hurled with great force.

The reel mower is the old hand mower with power. The rotary mower has a propellar-like blade that turns at high speed close to the ground.

The reel mower operates at slower speeds than the rotary type but its blades are exposed and potentially dangerous for fingers and toes. Rotary mowers operate at a high speed, and a rapidly whirling blade can pick up a stone and hurl it with the speed of a bullet. The rotary mower has proved to be the more popular of the two types and its large numbers, combined with its great speed, has caused it to be involved in more accidents.

Clear Lawn

Safety precautions start even before you start your mower. Your lawn must be kept clear of all debris. Rake out all rocks and twigs. Toys and other small objects should be picked up. If there are obstructions that cannot be removed—pipes, stakes—mark them in some way so that you don't mow over them, perhaps breaking the blade and having an accident.

Start your mower carefully. Stand with your feet well away. Hold your left hand against the engine while you pull the starter cord with your right. This will keep you from pulling the mower toward you.

If yours is a self-propelled mower, be certain the clutch is disengaged before you start it. Know the controls thoroughly. Be able to disengage the clutch of a self-propelled mower quickly while you are running it. Pick a mower with controls within convenient reach on the handle.

Fill the fuel tank before you start. If you run out of fuel while mowing, allow the engine to cool before refueling. Never pour gasoline into a hot engine. It might splash on the outside hot surface and cause a fire.

Wear Shoes

Keep body bolts tight. Listen for rattles. No matter how much you like the feel of grass under your feet, never mow barefooted.

Watch that discharge chute. Don't let it point at anybody. Keep youngsters out of the way. Don't let them walk, run or play alongside.

If you must mow close to a gravel strip, leave a strip of grass to be trimmed by hand.

Careful use of your power mower can prevent accidents.

Never mow up and down a slope. Mow an incline from side to side starting at the top. Going up an incline is dangerous. The mower could roll back on you.

Never mow on wet grass—you could slip. Never leave a mower running unattended.

When turning the mower off, make certain it stays off. Disconnect the spark plug wire. If it's an easy mower to start and small children are around, remove the plug each time.

Stop the engine before checking for any trouble in the mower's operation. Keep hands away until the blade is stopped. Pull off the spark plug wire before touching the blade. Turning the blades may start some types of mowers.

Japanese Newspapers

Four newspapers in Japan account for nearly half of the circulation of that country's approximately 100 daily papers. Mainichi Shimbun, one of the largest, employs 5,000 persons, more than 1,000 of them on the editorial staff, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Illegal Coal

At one time in America, anthracite was thought to be useless and, in some places, the sale of anthracite was declared a fraud punishable by law. In 1812, a colonel was arrested in Philadelphia for trying to sell a few wagon-loads of this coal.

Grapes for Wine

Producing grapes for wine requires exactly the right kind of weather. The vines need a moderately cold, slightly humid winter; a warm, dry spring; a hot summer with a spot of rain during August; and early-morning fog from mid-September to harvest time.

Young Originals

Breezy and Billowy

SO FEMININE when nipped at the waist or, if you prefer, have it narrow and straight. Either way it's that perfect, "something special." The flattering V-neckline in the sleeveless version will be just the thing for the warm evenings ahead. Or if the occasion demands, make it with sleeves and for an added flair, try the tie-belt. Ideas for accessories, colors and fabrics can be found in our exclusive Co-ordinator.

B-91 is in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 12, 32 bust, 4¼ yards 35-inch.

Send $1 for this pattern to:

Today's Sharp Shop

NEW TACK: Fold-down handle on a power lawn mower makes storage simpler for homeowners. The new model has four-blade rotary cutting and a twist-go handle for easier control. A grass catcher will be standard equipment with the new unit.

Wing St. Assessment Approved

BY FRANK VON ARX

Wing St. residents got the news from the village board Monday night on their special assessment.

It was all bad.

"What did we hold all these meetings for?" asked one resident after village board members explained that the court, not the village, will set the assessment.

Wing St. people are protesting an 80 per cent levy for paving their street from Chestnut to Ridge. They have argued before the board of local improvements and the village board that they had a street once but it was ripped up when the village did sewer work.

Trustees Carl F. Mees had some sympathy for the group. Mees thought that if the residents once had a 12-foot pavement, even if it dated back to 1916, the village might work around the added 16 feet needed to bring the street up to minimum width requirements.

THE BAD news came when trustees explained neither they nor the board of local improvements can set the assessment. This is done by the county court.

At this point the residents obviously wondered why they had wasted their time appearing before either board.

"What about us? Who is going to represent us in court?" asked Mrs. Larry W. Sebastian of 412 Wing.

"The village, I am afraid, is not going to be in a position to represent the property owners," replied Trustee John F. White. The village is not looking for an extra share of the assessment, either.

Trustees mentioned Campbell St. improvements that the court decided the village should pay.

It was a lesson in local government for the people. They were told that the village would now prepare an assessment roll with the legal descriptions of property involved.

Property owners will receive a notice from the court with a final date for filling objections. Protests can be made individually or as a group. The court will set a hearing date, probably within 60 to 90 days, and then decide who will pay what portion of the assessment.

VILLAGE trustees had delayed action on the special assement ordinance June 6 so they could confer with members of the board of local improvements. Trustees apparently had two opinions on the question.

"I don't think Wing St. was ever any good, not since I moved to town in 1949," said Trustee Frank Palmatier.

Residents protested his evaluation.

"I don't like to see them people pay for a street twice," said Trustee Mees.

RESIDENTS claim they had a 12-foot street since 1916. Walter Hahnfeld of 505 Wing produced a document he said proved three lots were assessed $465 in 1916 for the improvement.

Trustee John J. Walsh Jr. said a 12-foot street could not be compared to a 28- or 32-foot street for modern traffic.

The residents will have to persue their protest into the court if they want less than an 80 per cent assessment usually ordered unless extra public benefit is determined.

About all they have to show for their effort todate is the oiling of the street shortly after they complained of dust and traffic the first time they appeared before the village board.

Band to Open 26th Season

The Bensenville Municipal Band under the direction of Fred A. Lewis will begin its 26th season of weekly summer band concerts with a "Summer Festival of Music," Wednesday, June 29, at 8:15 p.m. in the Lynn C. Huffman Park, Church and Irving Park Rds., in Bensenville. There is no admission charge for the concerts.

When the Living Is Easy

John Simon, 3, finds a cool place to rest in the Pioneer Park wading pool. Today officially marks the beginning of summer, but park district pools have been crowed since they were opened last week. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Simon, 727 S. Ridge. (More pictures on Page 2.)

School Dist. 25 Gets Federal Grant

The Arlington Heights Public Elementary Schools have received a one-year financial grant from the United States Office of Education to operate a diagnostic learning center under the provisions of Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The announcement of the approval of the grant was made by Arthur L. Harris, associate commissioner for elementary and secondary education.

Assistant Supt. of Schools for Dist. 25 Robert Campbell said the amount of the grant remains to be negotiated by the Office of Education and the school district.

While the center will be administered by Dist. 25, its services will be available to children in kindergarten through twelfth grade public and private schools in Elk Grove, Palatine, Schaumburg and Wheeling Townships who co-operated in the submission of the project to the Office of Education.

DIST. 25 Supt. R. E. Clabaugh said the center will provide the area with a highly specialized team of psychologists, guidance workers, learning specialists and medical personnel to assist parents and teachers in understanding children with severe learning problems and to help develop effective educational programs for them.

Children will be referred to the center by school personnel for complete diagnostic study. The center personnel will work closely with parents and teachers to effect changes in learning behavior, Clabaugh said.

The learning center will complement the present Northwest Suburban Special Education organization which provides special programs for children needing highly specialized education such as educable mentally handicapped, deaf, blind and perceptually handicapped.

The center will be primarily concerned with children who fall within the normal range of ability but who have academic problems reflected by lack of progress in school caused by emotional and environmental influences.

CHILDREN with these problems do not qualify for special education and, therefore, remain in the regular classrooms.

Tests, interviews and physical examinations will follow the referral of a child. An educational program is then de-

Buddhist Revolt Apparently Over

SAIGON -- The Buddhist revolt against Premier Ky has apparently crumbled. The rector of the Buddhist Institute in Saigon has appealed to the military leader to "recreate an atmosphere of unity and understanding." Tan Chau said Ky could return the country to normal by withdrawing troops from around the main Saigon pagoda and granting amnesty to arrested anti-government leaders.

No Hearing On Transfers, Parents Told

BY JIM BOSS

Parents in the Prospect Meadows - Wedgewood Terrace area have indicated that, to them at least, the dispute over elementary school boundaries is not over.

At the June 13 meeting of the Dist. 25 Board of Education it was decided that the board would stand by its' decision to bus children in the disputed areas to North School in September. They are now attending Kensington School.

Monday, board members received a letter from Mrs. Richard Mateja, chairman of the committee opposing the boundary change, demanding facts relating to the re-map, and calling for a special meeting of the board.

The letter demanded the following facts:

--Total enrollment of all schools in the district as of the 1965-66 school year and projected 1966-67 figures and the basis of the projections.

--Total enrollment of each school in the district for the 1965-66 school year and projected 1966-67 figures and the basis of the projections

--Enrollment of each individual class in each school in the district

--TOTAL number of classroom teachers in the district

--Total number of special teachers in the district

--Total number of children being moved as a result of boundary changes in Ridge, Olive, North, Windsor and Kensington Schools as of September, 1966

The letter called for a special board meeting on Tuesday, June 28, "for the purpose of reappraisal and debate of the busing decision so that at the next regularly scheduled board meeting the board can rescind its previous action to bus the students."

Finally, the letter demanded a complete copy of the minutes of the board meeting of June 13 and a copy of the map in which the district is broken down according to population.

At Monday's board meeting, the board indicated that it was still standing firm in its decision to re-map.

BOARD President Harold Sortor said there was little more to be said on the matter.

"We have considered this matter as thoroughly as any decision we have made. I don't think this group will be happy until we change our minds."

Sortor was directed by the board to share with the protesting group the material included in the presentation of the issue by Supt. R. E. Clabaugh with an indication that this is all that is available.

A motion to establish a special meeting date with the group was unanimously defeated by the board.

Board member Theodore Sailer explained why the meeting was denied.

"It would be unfair and selfish on the part of this group to expect us to spend any more time than has already been expended on the issue. It would be a disservice to the community to ask the administration to spend about a week of work in presenting and explaining the facts involved in the decision."

SORTOR said that the multitude of figures would be meaningless unless accompanied by explanations.

"This is largely a matter of judgement. It would take entirely too long to go into the reasons for the judgement. This is a representative form of government, not a town meeting," he said. "We have met with them once, Supt. Clabaugh has given several of their representatives many hours of his time, and I don't feel that, even if they have the facts and figures, they will be satisfied unless we relent".

Woods Family Plans Memorial

A scholarship fund for Arlington High School students in need of financial assistance has been established by Mayor John G. Woods in memory of his son Jonathan.

Young Woods, who was killed in an auto accident Saturday in California, attended Prospect High School for three years and was graduated from Arlington High School in 1963.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete. The body will be returned to the Lauterburg & Oehler Funeral Home in Arlington Heights. Donations may be made to the Jonathan Woods Scholarship Fund, Arlington High School.

Republican Office Moved

The Wheeling Township Republican Organization has opened new offices at 201 N. Dunton Av., Arlington Heights. The offices will replace the headquarters previously located in the Prospect Plaza, Mount Prospect.

"With the election of a new committeeman and the increase needs of the Republican Party in Wheeling Township, we believe it is advisable and necessary to establish an office conveniently located and within the population center of the Township," said Richard A. Cowen, deputy Republican committeeman.

"Eugene Schlickman, the newly elected committeeman, will announce regular office hours for himself and other services and facilities that will be available through the new offices," said Cowen.

The telephone number of the organization will continue to be CL 9-0730.

Woman Slugged By Man

Arlington Heights police have issued a warrant for the arrest of a Wheaton man who allegedly broke into the apartment of a woman and struck her in the head Sunday night.

Complaints were signed Monday charging Michael J. Lynch, 32, with battery and breaking and entering.

Miss Nancy Berry told police that Lynch broke into her apartment at 2234 Goebert while she was visiting a neighbor. When she returned he allegedly struck her.

Police said the door to Miss Berry's apartment had been forced open.

Miss Berry said she and Lynch had been dating for about a year. She could give police no reason for the attack.

Court Date

A 16-year-old student at Forest View High School is due in Arlington Heights court July 11 for an alleged battery that occurred May 13.

School Board Members Invited To Seminar

The Illinois Assn. of School Boards will sponsor a School Board Orientation Seminar at the University of Illinois Chicago Circle Campus Saturday, July 9.

The seminar is planned for new school board members in particular but all school board members and administrators in Northeastern Illinois are invited to participate.

Old Orchard Owners Offer Sale on Open Space

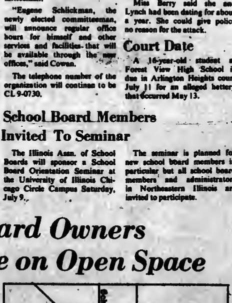
When Mount Prospect annexed the 200-acre Old Orchard Country Club an agreement provided zoning for high rises in the 25-story class.

That agreement has since been repudiated by the village and is being fought in the courts.

Marshall Holleb, representing owners of the property, has suggested four alternatives to the legal battle, including the purchase of the country club by the village.

Holleb said that if the village is interested in purchase of the golf course, valued at between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 federal funds might be available in the form of open space land grants.

Other alternatives suggested were: disconnection from the village; a moratorium with the high rise project postponed five years, and a modified plan of development with 12-story apartment buildings.



Old Orchard Country Club: Will it get 25-story high rises or does Mount Prospect want to buy the land?

Crissy Barone, 5, of 114 N. Forrest, finds it easier to swing into summer on parallel bars at Recreation Park. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Barone.

Mrs. James Sweeney of 143 S. Dwyer and her daughter Christine, 4, splash into summer with a basic swimming lesson in the Pioneer Park wading pool.

Youth Corps Program Gets $26,000 Grant

The summer Neighborhood Youth Corps in Dist. 214 has been approved by the federal government and a grant issued for $26,000.

Students in the program receive $1.25 an hour for their work in various departments of the schools and receive counseling service from George Theodore, program director and Donald Schroeder, a counselor.

Theodore said approximately $22,000 will be used for student salaries during the 10-week work program. Students are employed at all five Dist. 214 high schools and at the Slichenmeyer Administration Center.

The program began June 15 and will end Aug. 23. The NYC proposal for the 1966-67 regular school year has been submitted to the Office of Economic Opportunity for approval.

THEODORE said the students work a maximum of 32 hours a week and are employed as office aides, secretaries, typists and some do landscape work. There are 16 boys and 34 girls participating this summer.

"We try to get everybody a job. The students who attend summer school can work part time. We do what we can for them and we find out where we can help through counseling. We try to have the student fit the job and not the job fit the student. We feel this is important," Theodore said.

ONE GIRL is tutoring two blind students as part of her NYC work. She is teaching them to type and helps in other areas of their work.

"The best part of the program is Mr. Theodore. He treats everybody as an individual and not as a number," she said.

Theodore said transportation is the biggest problem. The NYC program has a limited transportation budget and it isn't always possible for students to work in the high school they attend. Theodore and his staff often transports the students to their jobs.

The NYC program in Dist. 214 was started in October, 1965.

"Reindeer Age"

The "Reindeer Age," 25,000 to 30,000 years ago, marked the dawn of human history. From that period, cave-man pictures have come down to us. The best were those of reindeer, principal support of man in that age.

veloped in conjunction with the child's regular classroom teacher. Parents of the children will also be helped to more fully understand their child's problem.

The center will open in the Elk Grove High School as soon as personnel can be employed and equipment and materials have been received. While the initial grant to the district is for one year, Title III projects of this kind are expected to be re-approved annually for a total of three years, Clabaugh said.

SINCE the inception of Title III, a total of four grants have been given to schools in the four-township area. Dist. 214 is presently operating a co-operative instructional resource and service center; Dist. 59 in Elk Grove has completed a planning grant for a model teacher training center, and Dist. 15 in Palatine has just received a planning grant to plan an outdoor education center.

Antarctic Icebergs

Giants of the iceberg family come from the Antarctic. One ice mass, floating off the Falkland Islands in 1893, was estimated to be as big as the island of Corsica, with a cubic content about equal to that of all Swiss lakes combined.

10 Bikes Stolen; It's the Season

Ten bicycle thefts were reported to Arlington Heights police over the weekend and police found four bicycles abandoned.

The outbreak of thefts of this kind is a seasonal thing, according to Lt. Maurice English of the Detective Bureau.

"Kids don't have a bike of their own, so they steal one," he said. "There is not too much we can suggest to stop these thefts other than to lock your bikes at all times."

English said that it would help police locate the owners of bicycles found abandoned if all bikes had licenses.

"Of all the bicycles we find abandoned, I would say only one in 10 has a license."

Bicycle owners could also protect themselves by recording the serial number of their bike, English said. This is an easy means of identifying a bike if it is recovered.

Sheriff Reports Holiday Patrol Shows Results

In his monthly activities report, Sheriff Richard B. Ogilvie praised the traffic patrol work of the Cook County Sheriff's Police during the three-day Memorial Day weekend.

Ogilvie pointed out that, although the national traffic toll reached 525 deaths, only one fatal collision involving two persons was reported to Sheriff's police.

The sheriff said maximum patrol techniques would remain standard procedure for each holiday during the summer season.

Rerun Touches Heart

by Catherine O'Donnell

An operation is usually a great topic for conversation. Surgery patients delight in play by play recounts and even President Johnson showed his scars to the public.

Richard D. Russell who lives on N. Evanston in Arlington Heights has it over surgery patients everywhere. He doesn't have to talk about his operation.

His heart surgery at Los Angeles County Hospital in 1951 was televised with the use of color for the first time, coast to coast, on a closed circuit.

At the time, he was given a choice of an ordinary operation or the one on television. He said he picked the latter because the thought flashed through his mind that with everyone watching the doctors would be sure nothing happened.

The operation was given mountains of publicity in Time, Life and newspapers. The defect was corrected, Russell has felt great ever since and he had almost forgotten about it. He didn't reckon with his son Jimmy, a fifth grader at Kensington School.

Prints of the operation were made by a pharmaceutical company that sponsored the telecast for use in Heart Fund Drives. One of the copies was given to Russell, who stowed it away in an odds and ends box in the basement of his home and forgot about it.

Awhile ago, his 13-year-old daughter Sharon, who goes to Miner Junior High, was looking for material for a speech and she and Jimmy were rummaging around in the old box.

Sharon couldn't find anything usable but Jimmy latched on to the film and talked about it at school. Last week, the fifth graders were shown the film of Jimmy's dad's heart surgery.

Jimmy was proud to be related to the star of the film and his classmates were fascinated.

It was a complete surprise to Richard Russell.

Down to Rio

Jim McCarthy of Verde St. has just returned from a three-week business trip in Rio de Janiero. Jim works for Kemper Insurance and the trip was mostly work with a few side jaunts to the Southern Palace of the Emperor, a round of golf at Guavia and glimpses of the fabulous harbor and the perpetual beggars.

"There's one thing you're certain of when you return from a visit to a foreign country," said Jim. "There's no place like the good old U. S. A.

"Everything is so much more expensive there this year than it was three years ago on another trip. There were not too many tourists but there were plenty of North American businessmen."

Jim stayed at the Copacabana Palace.

It'll Be A White Summer

White is the fashion word for summer, and it's a good word for women who love a fresh and cool look.

For the tennis court, white is expressed in a frosty short skimmer by Florence Walsh. One tanned arm looks trim and cool with a large white bracelet; the other might carry a watch with an elephantine mock leather white band.

On the beach, white shifts are practical and pretty over swimsuits. A fine pebbly knit pullover by Eve Boutique has sleeves to cover sunburned arms, leaves legs exposed below the bathing suit line to allow more tanning.

For afternoon dates, designer Doro contributes a stark white linen shift with a capelet, a good bet to flatter almost any type.

THE housewife may want to try white -- traditionally a most impractical color -- in an at-home shift. This experiment is likely to work if the white shift she buys is made of Arnel sharkskin, which resists dirt, dust and wrinkles.

The smartest of at-home white shifts are trim columns of material with cut-out necklines and no sleeves. They'll leave the arms of a busy homemaker and mother free for any duties.

IN EVENINGWEAR, white has gone wild in a glamorous slip dress with a built-in jewel necklace by Junior Sophisticates.

The white ribbon lace suit is smart for cocktail and theater engagements, an represents another style that will flatter almost any figure type. White lace also is a favorite with the matron as well as the young mother.

Young girls, who like to dance will love an Elizabethan dress by Micia Jr. of Rome. It features metallic yarn in silver and white, Tycora and Creslan.

Miss Judy Kervick wears a ribbon knit dress in elegant white by Sophisticated Miss. Available at Muriel Mundy Suburban Fashions, Arlington Heights, $70.

Nine area women attended the 75th Annual Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs held June 5 to June 10 in Chicago.

Three of the women attended as official delegates from the Park Ridge Women's Club. They are Mrs. H. C. Gates, 707 W. George, Arlington Heights, immediate past president; Mrs. W. C. Otis, 2800 Cherry, Park Ridge, club president, and Mrs. D. P. Howie, 819 Tomawadee, Park Ridge, public relations chairman.

Other Park Ridge Women's Club members who attended the convention are Mrs. Lawrence Hayner, 510 Miner, Arlington Heights; and Mrs. Melvin W. Piehl, 1401 Castle, Mrs. H. R. Tevis, 315 N. Stephens Alumnae To Hold Auction

Some Day

... by Frank E. Von Arx

It is difficult to see how anybody can get satisfaction from the recent troubles of the Cellar, the Arlington Heights youth center.

The suspension of the center comes just at the time youngsters have time on their hands. There should be an increase of activity, not a blackout.

Arlington Heights is not alone in this problem. Other communities experience the same difficulty in the operation of youth centers.

One girl had a long face on graduation night because the police closed the YMCA in her town when the party was at midpoint. These youngsters had the run of the building, dancing, snack bar and swimming pool.

The police blew the whistle when they detected several of the youngsters under the influence of alcohol. The bad apples spoiled it for the rest.

The Cellar has tried to avoid a violent record. But there are a number of teens who think it smart to get "looped" on beer, wine or whiskey and then roam the streets to see what kind of malicious mischief they can accomplish.

Mount Prospect had a rash of such incidents last weekend.

A checkout girl at a super market was lamenting her graduation party because she was assigned as "bartender." She knew in advance some kids would get "looped," as she put it.

An operation such as the Cellar should be encouraged. Parents of PTA caliber could accomplish considerable if they would take an interest.

Police should go out of their way to treat troublemakers with a firm hand. Maybe they could personally escort the "bums" to the doors of their parents' homes and meet the trouble at the roots.

Some communities have experienced a degree of success with a Youth Court. Teenagers sometimes seem to know how best to deal with their own kind.

If parents, police and village officials and a Youth Court could function effectively in the background, some day the good kids might get a decent break.

Vantage Point

... by Jack Vandermyn

To many educators, history is the fourth major discipline in high school curriculums, ranking close behind the basic reading (English), writing (composition) and arithmetic.

To help spark interest in history, the state of Illinois publishes a book of student writing on the subject throughout the school year.

The state historical society also makes awards to high school students on the basis of their contributions to the magazine and to the study of Illinois history in general.

Three Prospect High School students were among the 25 high school seniors from throughout the state to be named "Student Historian of the Year."

They are Roger Meyer, Bobbi Butz and Jeff Bates. All were honored last month at a banquet at Springfield.

Each received a certificate of merit from Gov. Otto Kerner for their outstanding contributions to Illinois History during the 1966-67 school year.

WE HAVE our own particular economy indicator. As we fight the traffic driving to and from work, we notice the number of cars occupied solely by the driver.

In the "back when" days, an automobile was a luxury afforded by only one or two people on the block. These fortunate ones would provide transportation for the entire neighborhood and seldom was the car cranked up without its seats being filled with passengers.

Not so, today. Everyone has a car. Many have two and the three car family is not uncommon.

Yet, Detroit says that car sales are down. Could be, but they are not down to the point where people are doubling up. Our latest count, of 33 automobiles headed north on Route 53 showed that 29 were occupied only by the driver.

MOUNT Prospect trustees are mulling over a swimming pool ordinance that could be so complicated its enforcement might be difficult.

None of the village trustees quarreled with the safety intent of the ordinances. They were, however, worried about it, enforcement, especially among small, public pools such as those that are cropping up at planned apartment developments and motels.

Safety is like motherhood -- you can't argue against it.

But ordinances that are so restrictive as to be impossible to enforce open the doors to what Mayor Daniel Congrove labels, "hanky-panky."

Without casting aspersions on those charged with the enforcements of such ordinances, it seems that care should be taken not to "over-legislate."

We hope that a pool safety ordinance comes out of the public health and safety committee where it was re-assigned by the trustees. But we hope it is a practical, enforceable ordinance that will climinate any chance for "hanky-panky."

VILLAGE president or mayor? How does one refer to a chief executive of a municipality operating under the village form of government where the top elected official runs as "village president."

Actually, the official title is village president. It is up to the discretion of the chief elected official as to how he should be designated, however.

In most cases, chief executives prefer the term, mayor, and according to the Illinois Municipal League this is their perrogative.

And mayor is easier to fit into a headline than village president.

CPL. RICK Harbour, former Arlington Heights Boy Scout who was wounded in Viet Nam on his second tour of duty, will be the guest speaker on Thursday, June 23 at the monthly meeting of the "Young Turks" in Arlington Heights.

Rick, who was very active in Eugene Schlickman's successful committeeman campaign, will tell of his experience in Viet Nam. He is on medical leave from the Marine Corps.

Planning a Trip? Caution Pays Off

A happy vacation can be turned into a gloomy one for the unwary vacationer who falls prey to any of the variety of crooks that lift millions of dollars in cash and belongings each year.

Eaton, Yale and Towne, manufacturers of locks and hardware, have released results of a recent security survey which list tips for guarding valuables while on vacation.

The survey said an item in the local newspaper that you plan to be away from home is an invitation to burglars. Inform the editor of your vacation when you return.

Leave shades up or drapes open when you go on vacation. Tell neighbors and police that you are going. Your house will look more lived-in if you ask neighbors to collect mail and newspapers placed on your doorstep.

Make sure the locks on exterior doors are secure and "burglar proof." Window locks are an additional security which would prevent entrance through a window.

THE SURVEY found it good policy to buy a "floater" insurance policy for personal belongings being taken on the trip. It will insure expensive items against loss from theft.

Flashing large amounts of money in crowded public places is a quick way to attract the attention of crooks. Police have found the safest place for a man to carry his wallet is in his breast pocket. The hip pocket is most vulnerable.

A LIST of the contents of each suitcase taken on the trip will serve as an aid when repacking. It may help to avoid an expensive lapse of memory.

Very often the theft of expensive items serves to ruin a vacation. Make a list of the serial numbers of watches, cameras and any other valuable item. This will help to prove ownership and may help police track down a burglar.

Invest in travel locks. These small but strong items may be used to lock motel or hotel closets and bureau drawers.

IN FOREIGN countries often a traveler is bilked into making a "fast killing" by doing something "perfectly safe," but shady. The traveler is generally the loser. Change money only at reliable business places where you can be sure you will not receive counterfeit bills.

Report loss or theft to the police as promptly as possible. The less time taken, the better the chance for recovery by police. It also improves the chance for recovery by police. It also improves chances to recover through insurance.

None of these safeguards consume a great deal of time or effort. But the practice of caution when planning on a trip is bound to pay off in an enjoyable, trouble-free vacation.

Urban Utopia: Old, New

One of the surest ways to stir up a civic fuss is to start tearing down something historic to make room for something modern.

Tradition versus practicality. Sentiment against commercialism.

So serious is the struggle in city after city that the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare had joined with the privately operated National Trust for Historic Preservation to form the Preservation Advisory Services Panel.

The panel - a group of top architects and city planners - has selected Salem, Mass., as its first laboratory experiment and is now working to see if historic old landmarks there can be preserved as the city meets demands of modern urban living.

Both hard-nosed realists and misty-eyed conservationists should be pulling for the panel to come up with a satisfactory solution.

You can't park cars in a lovely old tree-shaded home or a historic old court-house, but you seldom take groups of school children to see a parking lot.

Helping Pays Dividends

The United States government is taking more than a good-neighborly interest in something called "Operation Triangle" that was launched in Boliyia back in 1961.

The reason is tin, a metal that is finding increasing use in the automotive and aerospace industries, as well as being consumed in vast quantities in the tinplate and solder that are indispensable in consumer products. This nation is wholly dependent upon outside sources for this important commodity.

Currently, 63.4 per cent of the world's production of tin comes from Malaysia. Indonesia and Thailand, sources that could be cut off in the event of a major conflagration in Southeast Asia.

Bolivia's "Operation Triangle," supported by loans from the U. S. Agency for International Development, West Germany and the Inter-American Development Bank, is aimed at revitalizing its mining industry and eventually providing it with the capacity to meet the tin needs of this hemisphere.

Now mining 16.7 per cent of the world's tin supply, Bolivia last year realized its first profit from its ore-rich mountains in more than a decade. It also recently balanced its budget for the first time without American aid.

Paradoxically, the step-up in mining could result in a kind of embarassment of riches for Bolivia in that today almost all of its ore must be shipped for processing to Britian, the largest smelter of tin outside Malaysia. Thus another goal of "Operation Triangle" is to build enough plants to enable Bolivia to smelt a third of its own ore by 1967.

Letters to the Editor

It's No Waste of Time

Editor:

In response to the article "Some Day" by Frank E. Von Arx in Friday's paper:

Poor Frank, either he is a bachelor or his wife and children just don't like him. By his theory, we should also do away with Christmas, Easter, the Fourth of July and going to church, because it's just a waste of time. Evidently he doesn't know the meaning of Father's Day or even Mother's Day or Valentine's Day.

Father's Day is not just a day to make Dad feel like a king for one day and then demote him to jester for the rest of the year. It is a day we put aside to tell our fathers that the many things they do for us everyday, that we take for granted, are appreciated by us.

It's a day on which all the forgotten "thank yous" are said. It's a day we say, "Dad, we went to church today and thanked God because He gave us you." It's a day we say, "Dad, we love you." It's a day when Dad looks at the 10 cent card and the $1 tie and he knows in his heart he wouldn't take a million dollars for Mom and the kids and the feeling of satisfaction of being Dad.

A Proud Father

Never Left The Party

Editor:

"Are you going to re-join the party?"

Until your editorial quoted this query, I was unaware that as a Novotny supporter, I had left the party. I was under the impression that anyone had the privilege of running for office.

Mr. Novotny is a dedicated Republican. Those of us who worked for him are Republicans - some liberal, some conservative, some 'middle - of the - roaders'. We were FOR Tom Novotny not AGAINST Eugene Schlickman. This was a race between two qualified Republicans for committeeman. Each man has his strengths and each man is valuable to the party.

But it is the voter who is the most important figure in any election. If the 3,671 Republicans who cast their ballots for Tom Novotny were asked, "Are you going to re-join the party?", I'm sure the answer would be the same as Tom's.

Exhaustion Symptoms

W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q — What is the difference between physical, mental and nervous exhaustion? What are their symptoms? What is the best way to prevent them?

A — By physical exhaustion we usually mean that due to prolonged physical exertion as in a long-distance run. Mental exhaustion implies staying too long on a task that requires great concentration, as in cramming for an exam. Nervous exhaustion is that due to a series of frustrations or to insufficient rest. It may occur after several nights of late hours or interrupted sleep or after working under tension for a period of weeks or months.

The chief symptom of all three is an overpowering fatigue but it is often surprising how quickly a person who is physically or mentally exhausted can be revived with a short nap, a cup of coffee, or a change to a different set of interests. The victim of nervous exhaustion is much harder to revive. He is usually irritable and suffers a decrease in general efficiency.

The best prevention for all three is to get your rest well before the point of exhaustion is reached or to change your type of activity for a few minutes of every hour.

Q — What causes glaucoma? At what age does it usually start? What is the normal pressure in an eyeball? If eye drops are used to arrest it will the victim have to use the drops indefinitely?

A — Glaucoma or increased pressure within the eyeball is caused by a blocking of the flow of fluids inside the eyeball — probably associated with hardening of the arteries. It is rare in persons under 50. Normally the pressure in the eyeballs is between 15 and 25 millimeters of mercury.

Drugs to narrow the pupils are beneficial but, for lasting relief, you should have a part of your iris removed. Since glaucoma is the chief cause of blindness in persons past middle age it should not be taken lightly.

Kept Busy

In his lifetime, the average American male spends a full year telephoning, five years shaving and dressing, 20 years working, 16 years of recreation and three years of just waiting.

John Jay School Named

Mount Prospect's newest elementary school -- scheduled to open in Sept. 1967 -- got a name and an architect Monday.

Dist. 59 board members named the John Jay School after the first Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Jay, former minister to Spain, secretary of foreign affairs, and governor of New York, supported the United States Constitution in "The Federalist."

Cone and Dornbusch, Chicago architects who designed the Barrington Middle School, were chosen as architects. They'll build the John Jay School north of Algonquin Rd. and west of Busse Rd. in Mount Prospect.

AT THE same time, the architects will build the Admiral Richard E. Byrd Elementary School in Elk Grove Village, also scheduled to open in fall '67. Board members expressed hope that both school plans will be as similar as possible, so that the district can save money through simultaneous bidding and reduced architects' fees.

Additions to Devonshire, Einstein, and Brentwood Schools, and to the Administration Building were awarded to architect Fred Johnson. The firm of Orput and Orput will build an addition to Salt Creek Elementary School and a new junior high school in Elk Grove Village, both to open in fall, 1968.

CLARK WEBER

Clark Weber To Appear At Dance

Disc Jockey Clark Weber of WLS radio will be master of ceremonies for a teen dance Thursday, June 30, in the new Elk Grove High School from 8 to 11:30 p.m. Admission will be $1.50 for couples and $1 for single teens.

The Kiwanis Club of Elk Grove Village is sponsoring the dance in connection with the 10th anniversary of the village. The winning combo in the Elk Grove VFW contest will perform.

Minister Without Portfolio

Gerald P. McFarlin of Pre Finish Metals Inc., has been appointed Centex Industrial Park's "minister without portfolio" to the Elk Grove Village Human Relations Committee.

McFarlin will not officially represent the Park Assn. or its members and does not have the power to make any commitments.

"This stipulation is thoroughly understood by the Human Relations Committee," said Harry Cooper, president of the Park Assn.

"Under Park Assn. by-laws only the membership or the Board of Directors can make any commitments. McFarlin's function will be that of liason between the committee and the association. This way the association will be kept abreast of events and will be in a position to make any decisions or to take any action should it be required in the field of human relations," Cooper said.

Deaf Pupil Receives 2 Awards

Miss Peterson received the Buff and Blue key for her service to "Buff and Blue" the student newspaper and a Delta Epsilon Sorority Scholarship for scholastic standing and leadership.

She was graduated from St. Rita School for the Deaf in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Legion Spacemen Orbit in 1st Place

BY GARY YEAST

The win put the Big Blue into orbit atop the league standings all by themselves with a 3-0 record as Steve Allen and Mark Newman drew the honors as the day's hero's.

ALLEN PITCHED a neat one-hitter, allowing only a fifth-inning single. Newman sparkled defensively, and both rapped three - run singles at the plate.

Coach Lloyd Meyer hopes to keep the Blue in orbit tonight against Glenview. The 5 p.m. tilt at Arlington High School is a re-slated edition of last week's rained - out opener. Jerry Donahue is scheduled to hurl for the defending state champs.

ALLEN LOOKED like a 12-story Titan rocket on the mound last night, throwing four innings of no-hit baseball before Wayne Rozanski got to him for the fifth-inning single.

"My fast ball wasn't really sharp, but it was moving enough that I didn't have to rely on my curve," explained Allen after the game. Meyer added that Allen's fast ball wasn't sailing as much as it has earlier this season.

IT WASN'T ALL roses for Allen, though, and without some defensive wizardry by Newman, the game might still be going on.

In Des Plaines' last two at-bats, Allen loaded the bases on walks and errors, but a neat glove job by Newman on a line drive got him out of one jam, and a tough stop and a throw to first extricated him from another.

ALLEN FINISHED the game not only figuratively, but literally. Three runs had scored already in the fifth when he came to the plate with the bases loaded.

He made up for two earlier strike outs at that point with a sharp single, and rambled to third while the Des Plaines outfield played drop the hankie with the baseball.

AS HE RUMBLED safely into third, the umpire decided the massacre had gone on long enough, and cancelled further bloodshed with darkness as his excuse.

Arlington had pushed the scoring button in each inning, but the third and the fifth were the big ones. They led, 2-0, in the third when Newman singled home three runs, and a pair of singles and a walk led to three more before the inning ended.

Top Pros to Play At Open

U.S. Open champion Billy Casper leads a list of the nation's top touring pros entered in the annual Western Open golf tournament to be played Thursday through Sunday at Medinah Country Club.

Casper is also the defending Western Open champion having dethroned Arnold Palmer last year, and topping the field by two strokes. Both Chichi Rodriguez and Jack McGowan, last year's runners-up, will be back this year.

Palmer, who finished second to Casper in the U.S. Open last week, is another entrant in the 130 - man field. Buick Open champion Phil Rodgers and Medinah course record - holder Eddie Merrins are among the late additions.

Also on their way to Medinah are the winners of a dozen other regular tour tournaments. Included are Doug Sanders, Bert Yancey, Don Massengale, Ken Venturi, Dudley Wysong, Joe Campbell, Gay Brewer, Lionel Herbert, Harold Henning, and Tony Lema.

The Western Golf Association, sponsor of the Western Open, is offering an all time high of $100,000 in prize money this year. The first place winner will collect $20,000.

The Gems beat the Tornados 11-3 Saturday in the South Blue Junior Division of the Arlington Heights Boys' Baseball program.

The score was incorrectly reported in yesterday's Arlington Day, with the Tornados listed as 11-3 winners.

Jim Extrom was the winning pitcher for the Gems, striking out 12 and walking only two.

Boys' Baseball Report:

Warrior 9 Bows To Hawks 6-5 in Senior Division

The Hawks came to life last night, beating the Warriors 6-5 in the senior Division of the Arlington Heights Boys' Baseball League.

WINNING PITCHER Chris De Bow fanned eight and allowed seven hits on route to the victory. Though the winners got only three hits, one of them was a home run by Jim Kenny, who saved the game for De Bow in the sixth with a mop-up job on the hill.

The Browns are 3-3-2.

STEVE SHAWHAN showed outstanding control in picking up the win, allowing only four hits and no walks while striking out 13.

Rick Tully doubled twice off Shawhan, but Shawan's own two-run homer eased the irritation.

The Bullets won their second straight game in the second half competition of the North Blue Intermediate Division last night, beating the Mounties 8-4.

CHUCK MURDOCK got the win with a three-hitter, and had strong support from teammates Jim McBride and Rick Streng, who homered. Streng also tripled for the winners.

The loss was the Mounties' first in two second - half tilts.

The Dons scored 13 runs on 14 hits to overwhelm the Rangers last night in the South Blue Intermediate Division, 13-5.

The Marlins were even more prolific, drubbing the Solons 17-1 on a 16-hit plate performance. Mark Dick, the winning pitcher, was one of the prime offenders, getting a homer and a double in his own behalf.

The Marlins now sport a 3-1 league record.

THE APACHES had a fat 11-run first inning in their North Blue Division clash with the Sox last night, and went on to an easy 18-6 victory behind winning pitcher Steve Johnson.

Keeping Score

WITH BOB CASTERLINE

C'mon. Tell me how rough the weather has been the past few weeks. Talk about the rain and the wind and the chilly temperatures or yesterday's heat and tell me how uncomfortable you've been.

Then let me tell you about the worst weather that ever happened anywhere.

Think back to Thanksgiving, 1950. That's the day it started snowing in Columbus, O., and it continued right through the weekend.

THE TEMPERATURE dropped to near zero, and the wind blew so hard the falling snow was blown horizontally.

The lousy weather conditions, plus a red-hot football rivalry, combined to create what has become known in legend as the Snow Bowl game between Ohio State and Michigan.

The stadium's 82,000 seats for the game were sold out in August as the Ohio fans anticipated a great season and a possible Rose Bowl trip. The Michigan game is always the big one for the Buckeyes anyway, and the 1950 designation as homecoming made the game an even greater draw.

BY SATURDAY morning the snow was nine inches deep on the stadium tarpaulin, and the tarp was frozen to the ground. A crowd of Boy Scouts, college students, and stadium workers finally got the field uncovered by 2 p.m. - 30 minutes after the scheduled kick-off time.

Through the morning the game officials struggled with the desire to cancel the game, but the $200,000 that would have to be refunded, plus the fact that slightly better than 50,000 rabid fans showed up by game time, influenced them to go ahead as scheduled.

The Michigan team came by train and stayed overnight at Toledo in northern Ohio. The snow slowed the train from Toledo, but it finally arrived a couple of hours late Saturday morning and pulled to a stop on a spur a quarter-mile from the stadium.

A berth in the Rose Bowl was riding on the outcome of the game as Michigan had a 3-1-1 Big 10 mark to Ohio State's 5-1.

SHORTLY AFTER the tarp was peeled off the field, the snow erased the yard lines and out-of-bounds lines. The blowing snow and the three-degree temperature put a thin coat of ice on the ball, and a kerosene stove was set up on the sideline for a ball warmer. Every two or three plays a new ball was put into play.

All the scoring took place in the first half. Ohio went ahead early 3-0 on a field goal, but a safety in the second quarter gave Michigan two points.

With 47 seconds left in the first half, Ohio State elected to kick from its own 20, but the punt by Vic Janowicz was blocked by Michigan's Tony Momsen. It rolled into the end zone where Momsen fell on it to give the Wolverines a 9-3 lead. And that's where the score stood at the end of the game.

Michigan won the game, the Big 10 crown, and the Rose Bowl trip on Momsen's play, and failed to make a first down during the whole game.

It took the crowds in Columbus until the following Wednesday to clear out of town. The airport was closed, as were all the main roads in the area, and the trains were running 10-15 hours behind schedule.

AT LEAST TWO persons were hospitalized by frostbite suffered at the stadium, and others, able to get to hospitals on their own rather then by emergency vehicles, added to the toll.

Still, the official attendance was 50,503.

The Wolverines went on to win the Rose Bowl, defeating California 14-6 on New Year's Day, 1951.

Recently the members of that team gathered at Ann Arbor with their coach, Bennie Oosterbaan, for a reunion.

Eight of them are now doctors, three are lawyers, two are dentists, and one is a minister. Others are engineers, teachers, and businessmen.

MOMSEN, THE hero of the Blizzard Bowl, is now in the building business. Among the other standouts on the team were Chuck Ortmann, an all-American quarterback, who is now a manufacturer's representative in Glen Ellyn, and Jerry Burns, recently head coach at Iowa and now an assistant coach for the Green Bay Packers.

Lowell Perry, an all-American end on the team, is now a lawyer.

Roger Zatkoff, a tackle later with the Detroit Lions, is now in sales work. Don Dufek, who was a grid coach at Michigan for several years after graduation, is now general manager of a trailer firm.

Pedersen's Pointers

Proper Grip Can Correct Hooking

BY CHUCK PEDERSEN
Golf Pro,
Midlane Farms C.C.

A hook is about as common as a slice in golf, and its correction can cut many strokes off your score.

Move your left hand more to the top, or front of the grip, so that only one or two knuckles will be shown. Place the right hand so that the "v" formed by the thumb and forefinger points toward your chin.

GRIP THE CLUB firmly — more so with your left hand than your right.

Check your stance, and be certain your feet are square — or even slightly open. The ball should be played off the left center of your stance.

Start your backswing but try not to break your wrists. Avoid a flat backswing by starting the clubhead straight back from the ball, and don't pick up your clubhead with your right hand.

The ball hooks usually because the club face is closed.

By the way, don't forget the big Paul Hahn Show at Midlane Farms Country Club Friday.

THE ONE-HOUR performance will start at 6 p.m., and Midlane Farms is just off Route 41 in Wadsworth, Ill., just five miles northwest of downtown Waukegan.

Hahn, considered an excellent comedian, hits golf balls accurately from all positions, including kneeling, sitting, and even standing on one foot on a folding chair.

Hahn has performed in 37 countries, and flies his own airplane between appearances.

The show is open to the public, of course, and is free of charge.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Sunday our golf pro, Chuck Pedersen, won the Renwood Country Club Pro Member Golf Tournament, playing in a foursome that included members Joe Weiss, Truman Wright, and Ray Nichols.

Republicans to 'Get Well'

The Wheeling Township Regular Republican Club will sponsor a "get-well" party for Republican workers at its monthly meeting Thursday, at 8:30 p.m.

The club meets at the VFW Hall, Yale and Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights.

The party, originally announced in February, will feature newly - elected Republican Committeeman Eugene F. Schlickman as principal speaker. Thomas W. Novotny, president of the club and Schlickman's opponent in the primary election, will be a guest of honor.

After speeches, the club will adjourn to "enjoy refreshments and to become reacquainted as Republican co-workers," said Novotny.

"All Republicans who particiated in the recent campaigns are specifically invited," he said.

Former Village President Albert W. Goedke Dead

Held Office From 1940 To 1956

Former Arlington Heights Village President Albert W. Goedke, 75, died in his home at 220 W. Wing Tuesday night.

Goedke was village president from 1940 to 1956. He was considered one of the "old bloc" of conservatives composed of long-time residents of the village.

DURING the post World War II era he opposed appointment of the first village manager in 1954, maintaining that the village was not large enough to need one.

Goedke's wife preceded him in death in 1961. He is survived by three sons.

Funeral arrangements will be made by Lauterburg and Oehler Funeral Home.

Grade School Building Here Behind Schedule

BY JIM ROSS

Construction at five building sites in School Dist. 25 is behind schedule, but members of the district's board of Education were told Monday that all work should be done before school re-opens in September.

Donald Murray, an architect with Ganster & Hennighausen, designers of the buildings being built or added to, described conditions at the sites in a formal report to the board.

Representatives of Four Contractors, Inc., and sub-contractors working at the sites, were present to answer questions.

The Ivy Hill School should be completed before July 15, Murray said. On the inside, ceilings, floors, plumbing and electrical fixtures remain to be installed. On the exterior, piles of rubble remain on the east side of the building.

"The strike of heavy construction workers delayed the removal of the rubble," Murray said, "but it will be removed as quickly as possible."

THE PATTON School is closer to completion than Ivy Hill, Murray said. About the same amount of work remains to be done inside, but work on the exterior is nearer completion.

"Olive School is a mess," he said. "The carpenters are working there now, but they should be finished by the end of the week. Then we can clean up the mess."

When the carpenters finish, Murray said, only ceilings, floors, plumbing and electric wiring remain to be installed on the interior.

"The exterior of Olive is in fair shape," he said. He expects work to be done there by the end of July.

MURRAY said he expects Dunton School to be completed by the end of July also. "Ceilings and floors should be in there within the next few weeks," he said.

The site in the worst condition is Thomas School, according to Murray.

"This is, mainly because the the plasterers are working there now. There is not much we can do to clean it up until they leave."

Murray said the contractors are working for an Aug. 1 completion date for the inside of the building.

Supt. R. E. Clabaugh commended the contractors for the progress made at Thomas in the past few months.

"They made a good push and we are thankful for their efforts," he said.

William Kirchoff, a supervisor for Four Contractors, gave several reasons why work at the sites was behind schedule.

He said there was a lack of heat at all five sites during the colder months. "We were promised heat," he said, "but it was not turned on."

"THE HEAVY construction workers' strike cost us 52 days," he said. "While it was on we could do no earth moving or any work which would require this type of labor."

Kirchoff said the school board delayed the go - ahead to begin work on Olive School. "Our contract called for us to begin last July, but we were held up until October."

Finally, Kirchoff said, there was a delay in the arrival of steel for construction, especially at the Thomas School site.

3,793 To Enter High School

There will be 3,793 students entering high school in Dist. 214 in the fall, according to a survey.

Public grade schools this year graduated 2,761 pupils and parochial school graduated 1,032.

The largest number of students will come from Arlington Heights Dist. 25 with 792 graduates. From other public schools: Palatine Dist. 15, 265; Wheeling Dist. 21, 319; Prospect Heights Dist. 23, 134; River Trails Dist. 26, 170; Mount Prospect Dist. 57, 431 and Elk Grove Dist. 59, 650.

Schlickman Praises Rebuke Of Tax Law

State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman (R - Arlington Heights) Tuesday hailed the Illinois Supreme Court's recent ruling invalidating a 1965 law authorizing counties between 200,000 and 1,000,000 population to levy a special tax to finance construction of new court houses without referendum approval.

During last year's season, Schlickman sought to defeat passage of the law on the grounds that it was not necessary, since counties have authority to establish public building commissions. He objected to the levying of a new tax without voter approval.

"I saw in this new law (H. B. 1684) a trend away from the requirement of voter approval of the issuance of general obligation bonds, and I was quite concerned by it," Schlickman said.

"Fortunately, the Illinois Supreme Court, free from pressures, has struck down a bad law and requires continuation of the accountability by county boards to local taxpayers," he said.

Realtors Oppose Open Occupancy

The Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors has launched a campaign to encourage home owners to study Title IV of the proposed federal civil rights bill now before Congress.

"The Realtors are convinced that all home and property owners, regardless of their personal feelings on other aspects of civil rights, will make known their opposition to their representatives and senators immediately once they realize that this title would wipe out a basic right of all citizens considered unassailable since the founding of this nation," Ralph H. Burns, president said. Burns is an Arlington Heights resident.

"I refer to the human right to sell or rent private real property or to refuse to sell or rent to whomever the owner chooses for whatever reason without any coercion or dictation from the government," he said.

THE NATIONAL Asn. of Real Estate Boards, of which the Northwest Suburban Board is a member, emphasized these points to the Judiciary Committee of the House. Association officials are scheduled to testify before a Senate committee.

"The only true and lasting solution to the problem of open occupancy will come by understanding and education fostered voluntarily by churches, schools and all men of good will," Burns said.

Dist. 25 Aid 'About $19,000'

Elementary School Dist. 25 officials have announced that the amount of a one-year financial grant from the U.S. Office of Education will be "about $19,000."

Asst. Supt. Robert Campbell said that the exact amount is to be negotiated between the district and the U.S. Bureau of Contracts.

THE FUNDS will be used to operate a diagnostic learning center under the provisions of Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The center will be administered by Dist. 25 but its services will be available to children in kindergarten through 12th grade public and private schools in Elk Grove, Palatine, Schaumburg, and Wheeling townships who cooperated in the submission of the project to the Office of Education.

2 Hurt In Auto Accident

Two injuries resulted from an accident Tuesday at Douglas and Hawthorne.

Mrs. Gayla House, 1120 N. Harvard, suffered injuries to the right arm after her auto collided with one driven by Mrs. Carole Altergott of Palatine.

A passenger in the Altergott auto, Laura Altergott, 5, suffered facial lacerations. Both injured parties were treated and released from Northwest Community Hospital.

Police ticketed Mrs. House for failure to yield the right-of-way and Mrs. Altergott for negligent driving.

Engine, Mower Fires Reported

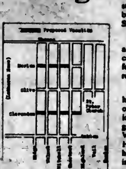
Street Closings Run Into a Snag

A proposal to close portions of Marion St. and Chestnut Av. in Northwest Highlands subdivision failed to win approval of the village board Monday.



The board of local improvements recommended the action but the village board voted 4 to 2 not to concur with the recommendation. Trustee Frank Palmatier said he voted no so he could reopen the matter at a later meeting.

The proposal includes three blocks of Marion and four blocks of Clarendon. One of the questions raised by trustees was the traffic pattern for St. Peter Lutheran Church.

Trustees also wanted a check to see if land covenants prevent residential development of the Lutheran Home property.

RAYMOND T. Carroll of 205 W. Clarendon and R. D. Robinson of 1146 Mitchell appeared in support of the action.

Earl Hauf of 417 W. Clarendon objected and asked why the streets should be closed.

"It is the feeling that there is not sufficient traffic to justify the added burden to the property owners to improve the streets," Trustee, John F. White said.

"I don't feel it is an added burden," Hauf replied. "There are other streets that have been improved. People knew the streets were platted when they bought their property.

"If you take them out you make one block a quarter of a mile long. It will become a drag strip."

TRUSTEE Carl F. Mees said he was not convinced the streets should be closed.

"I can't seem to figure out why they should be vacated," Mees said.

Trustees Mees, Palmatier, Thomas H. Hanlon and John J. Walsh Jr. voted not to accept the recommendation of the board of local improvements. Trustees White and LeRoy A. Bressler voted for approval.

'67 School Calendar Reaffirmed

Teachers in Elementary School Dist. 59 are going to be teaching right through June 16 next year.

That's the date the board has approved as the final day of school. A revised calendar has been agreed upon by all area school districts.

Last month, Dave Bates of Dist. 59 Teachers' Council appeared before the board. He asked that teachers who had registered in summer schools beginning before Dist. 59 ended classes be allowed two days off without penalty, so that they could complete college registration and attend their first day of classes.

The board denied his request then, Monday, it repeated its belief that the school calendar represents the official school dates for the district.

Institute Day for Arlington area teachers, however, has been changed from Friday, Nov. 4 to Monday, Nov. 7.

Some Day

... by Frank E. Von Arx

"Things are not the same down on the farm," said Uncle John Blievernicht, vice president of the Street Fight Promoters Assn. for American Teen Centers.

"You must be referring to the search of Elk Grove Township that failed to find any cows or chickens," said his friend Zerais Fish as he cut logs for the fireplace.

"Not exactly," replied Uncle John. "It has been 10 or 11 years since I have seen my friends on the Landmeier, Teone and Scharringhausen farms.

"When I went out to visit Sunday they were all gone. It looked like a convention of the asphalt shingle manufacturers. All I could see was rooftops.

"They have even changed the name to Centex farms and they have a bumper crop of houses. Instead of chickens and cows they are raising kids and dogs.

"What has happened to your friends?" asked Zerais.

"They must have quit farming and moved back to the city to escape the crowds," said Uncle John.

"The way they are tearing down buildings in the city, pretty soon that will be the only place people will have room to garden."

"I understand the people at Old Orchard Country Club are trying to change that trend," said Zerais. "They are the people who are trying to protect their plan to build 25-story high rises on the golf course."

"From 25 stories up," said Uncle John, "a commuter could watch his train leave Barrington and still make it to the station on time.

"But how would this high rise plan reverse the population trend to the suburbs?"

"The high rises would replace the golf course," explained Zerais. "Anybody who has tried to play golf on a Saturday or Sunday knows they couldn't put that many people in a 25-story high rise."

Vantage Point

... by Jack Vandermyn

We read that the Las Vegas oddsmakers have given Charles Percy a two-to-one edge in the upcoming November election when the "boy wonder" of Illinois politics challenges the old pro, Paul A. Douglas for the U. S. Senate.

We know of several local pundits who would be happy to invest some of their cash in a proposition of this type. Local observers, while acknowledging that Percy will run well in the Northwest suburbs, are worried about the image he projects in the crucial downstate counties where a Republican has to make hay in order to win.

Percy had only cursery opposition in the November primary election. Several thousand of those who pulled Republican ballots wasted their votes by casting for Lar Daly.

In staid, conservative Du Page County where Republicans enjoy four and five to one pluralities, Page received only 75 per cent of the vote, the remainder going to his opponent Robert Campbell.

This indicates to us a basic dissatisfaction in the Republican closed primary in areas where the GOP must shine if they are going to have that good year in November everyone is talking about.

ADD TO the Percy woes the fact that Wheeling Township's Jerry Mee is favored to get on the ballot as an independent, conservative candidate and it is apparent that there is not smooth sailing ahead for the former Bell and Howell chief executive.

Mee votes, if any, are Percy votes. Those who believe that a conservative candidate, regardless of his popular appeal, will take votes away from Paul Douglas are kidding themselves.

Percy has still another problem in challenging an incumbent of the stature of Paul Douglas. Mark it in your calendar and you will be able to say you read it in the Vantage Point first.

SOMETIME prior to the November 4 election, Paul Douglas and the atomic Energy Commission will announce that the coveted Atomic Accelerator plant will be located in Weston and DuPage County.

DuPage county is so excited about the location of the $300,000 facility in its area that Douglas would become as popular to residents as Elmer Hoffman.

It is not conceivable that Percy will lose DuPage county, however, a Douglas ploy in the form of bringing the accelerator to the county could cut into his anticipated 100,000 DuPage County plurality.

And if that happens, there goes the Percy ball game.

THERE IS no denying the importance of the atomic accelerator to the economy of Illinois and to the benefit of the DuPage county area.

The project will bring thousands of professional people to the county and re-kindle what has been a lagging housing market in Chicagoland's largest bedroom chain of communities.

And the beneficial effects of the accelerator will be felt in Northwest Cook County, also.

Barrington was in the running for the site and granted a good chance to gain it, until concerted efforts on the part of some Barrington citizens caused the AEC to eliminate them from contention.

THE CASE for the accelerator in DuPage County is being made in most part by the people who reside in the area and they have collected thousands of signatures on petitions welcoming the AEC to Weston.

Weston is a small community of perhaps 250 homes in the far western tip of the central part of DuPage. Kane County lies adjacent to the site and there is plenty of property in the area, ripe for development, even after the AEC takes 2,000 acres for its installation.

DOUGLAS has indicated through news conferences in the past that he favors the Weston site and his efforts have certainly been significant in making the site a reality for the area.

Percy, on the other hand, was touring Poland when Barrington was withdrawn from consideration and certainly does not have contacts into the Washington establishment that he can nurture in favor of Weston.

"Oh, heavens, no; I'm not a demonstrator—I'm trying to wangle an invitation to Luci's wedding!"

Children and Bikes

Of all the hazards the average, well-meaning motorist has to cope with -- the drunks, the smart alecky speeders who cut in and out of traffic, the drivers who try to beat him at the light to cut into his lane -- nothing strikes more terror than a child on a bicycle.

It is almost impossible to drive defensively when a child on a bike comes zooming out of a driveway, or goes wobbling along the shoulder of a busy highway, or swings suddenly across a street without looking behind him. Even if the autoist comes to a dead stop he can't always avoid a collision. In fact, the driver is almost bound to lose.

Recently a motorist we know tangled with a boy on a bike. He was blameless. One witness said he "didn't have a chance". The boy suffered a scratched knee and the bicycle didn't appear to have any damage.

But the driver -- by the time he had his radio antenna replaced, the dent pounded out of the side of his new car, had gone through all the formalities of reporting the accident to the police and his insurance company, calling at the boy's home to check on possible overlooked injuries -- spent $55 and hours of valuable time.

Did he try to recover from the boy's parents? Like most drivers in such cases, he was so relieved and thankful the boy wasn't hurt, he paid up and gratefully let the matter drop.

But the protection of motorists' rights is not our point. It is the children we're concerned about. When you take note of the number of them on bicycles and the incidence of bike-auto collisions (undoubtedly more than are reported), there is cause for alarm. We will be fortunate indeed if during this summer there isn't at least one fatality.

Which brings us back to the parents. We agree with them that a child has a right to a bicycle. It's part of growing up. But he has a right, too, to proper instruction of safety. And his parents have an obligation to see that he gets it, and to police his performance.

Motorists know the safety rules. They must to get a license. And most of them know the dangers in bicycle riding. But do the children who ride those bikes know?

A child should not be permitted to ride where traffic is a consideration until he is big enough and experienced enough to handle his bike safely.

Parents just can't let him mount up and take off wherever and however he is able. They can't leave the responsibility for their child to the police and the alertness of auto drivers. They can't, that is, if they expect to see him come through the summer unscarred.

Letters to the Editor

Give Cellar A Chance

Editor:

Here is a vote in favor of the Cellar.

We all agree that we have a fine community, with excellent schools, fine village government, good public services, outstanding police and fire departments, sensible long range village planning and extreme civic pride.

We also have a lot of teenagers.

Before the Cellar, the most exciting thing on a Saturday night for these kids to do was a choice between watching a long freight train pull through town, or watching a trailer unloaded at the Jewel Store.

Then came the Cellar.

Maybe there have been some problems, but the Cellar management has tried to do a good job in having the operation policed at their own expense. Today, even the teen-age activities at churches require police to keep things down to a roar. How can we expect a public operation to do much better?

If limiting admission to local school district students through ID cards is the answer, let's do that. However, until we provide a substitute for the Cellar, let's keep it open.

Charles Walsh

Speaking for the people of Arlington Heights, The Day offers its deepest sympathy to President and Mrs. John Woods on the tragic death of their son Jonathan in a California traffic accident.

Words are poor things to offer in the face of such a great loss. But it may be of some comfort to the Woods family to know that the thoughts of their friends and neighbors are with them during these dark days.

One doesn't have to be president to be eminently successful. Whatever your job is, chances are you view it about the same way we consider the job of building a home.

We make no effort at all to be America's fastest builder. Or the cheapest, and certainly we will never be the biggest. When a builder has a very high regard for excellence, he can't be any of those things, because each of those goals means compromise in one form or another.

For a very limited time, we still have 5 3/4% Conventional Financing available for homes in CAMBRIDGE.

There's one thing about success that results from being a little bit better. Such success is likely to last; since there's never enough excellence to satisfy the people who require it, the demand for it is exceptionally stable.

But you've found that out, just as we have. And that's why we think you'd like our homes. Live the casual, gracious CAMBRIDGE way, where you live every day of your life.

Dinner Trip to Chile

Gourmet Treats From South America

BY MARILYN HELFERS

The occasion was a Chilean dinner given by a gourmet couples' group which meets every other month to dine on exotic dishes. The hostess selects the country and menu and each couple prepares a course for the dinner.

Planning the dinner is time consuming. This month's hostess, Sue Dickes, spent hour after hour reading library books and cookbooks and consulting a friend from the Chilean consulate.

Under the group's system, each couple makes a course and keeps track of the expenses. The total is divided among the couples, with beverages provided by the host.

Past dinners have produced both successes and failures, members said, but all have been fun.

In Chile the entree, pastel de choclo, would be served in a large pot with big pieces of round steak, chicken and whole ears of corn for everyone to help himself. In the North American version, chicken legs, thighs, and breasts are browned in oil and sliced onion is sauteed and added to the chicken.

Round steak is cut into small pieces, browned, seasoned with salt, paprika, oregano and Tabasco and cooked until tender.

Grated corn (canned whole kernel corn, grated in a blender could be substituted) is combined with salt, sugar and butter and cooked until thickened.

The beef mixture is combined with six cups of chopped, sauteed onions and put into two three-quart casseroles. The black olives and quartered eggs are arranged over the beef. The chicken pieces are placed on top and covered with the corn mixture.

The casserole is prepared in advance and heated at 400 degrees for 25 minutes when you are ready to serve dinner.

The guests found the Chilean food very delicious and most filling. Total cost of the dinner for 12 was $19.81.

Day AT HOME

Lovlier Skin Under the Sun

The next time you come in from a day at the pool or beach, march up to a full-length mirror and take a long look at the damage.

If none is apparent, congratulate yourself. You're one of the few women who cares enough about her skin to make sure that the sun hasn't burned it or the sand hasn't irritated it.

Chances are, though, if you care that much about your skin, you're taking away from summer fun worrying about it.

There is a way you can enjoy summer and still preserve your complexion. It's not foolproof, and it takes a little work, but you'll probably be glad you took the trouble when the results become obvious.

FIRST basic rule is to use and reapply tanning lotions and creams continually. Too many women put on lotion and then forget about it. To do the job for extended sun exposure, the lotion must be applied again and again.

Another point to remember is that skin care shouldn't stop if you leave home. Tailor your beauty routines to the setting. Make a list of your favorite beauty aids and take them with you, whether you're going to Europe or camping 30 miles from home.

IF YOU can't soak in a tub, always a good practice for healthy skin, rub a bath oil over your body before showering. Concentrate on knees, heels, elbows, chest and forearms, where dry skin aging shows early.

Pat dry, don't rub, after a shower and apply an extra coating of a moisturizing lotion. A woman's skin loses its natural oils year by year, and any help through bath oils and moisturizers is to the good.

Hair Removal

W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q — Is it safe to have hair removed from the face by electrolysis? What other methods are recommended?

A — Unwanted hair on the chin is seen in many women after the menopause. These are usually inconspicuous but some women are overly self-conscious about them. The removal of these hairs with an electric needle is safe in the hands of a qualified operator. This is the only method that gets rid of the hair permanently, but it is a tricky business because too little current will not kill the roots and the hair will grow again. On the other hand, too much current will cause scarring. This method requires several sittings and is not practical if the hair is to be removed from a large area. This is also the most expensive method.

Other methods of removal include shaving, applying warm wax and removing it when it has cooled and hardened, chemical depilatories and abrasion with wet pumice. None of these methods will increase the coarseness of the hair or its rate of growth in spite of rumors to the contrary. Good results have also been obtained with short-wave diathermy.

Q — I have what my doctor calls a trigger finger. What causes it and what is the remedy, if any?

A — Snapping finger or trigger finger is caused by a thickening of one of the tendons of the affected finger or by a narrowing of the sheath in which the tendon slides. Closing the fist causes a snapping sound. The only treatment is an operation to increase the size of the tendon sheath, but this is not advised unless the condition is a source of great annoyance.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Day by Day

Home Are The Hunters

by Catherine O'Donnell

If anyone in the [illegible] tween Palatine Township and Schaumburg Township came home early or late one recent Sunday morning and claimed he was held up by a horse on the Tollway, believe him.

Ten - year - old Julie Ann Glasser was a proud little girl when she and her mare Cocoa won a trophy and first - place blue ribbon for Western Horsemanship at the Sun Dance Ranch sponsored 4-H Horse Show. Cocoa was a stocky bay mare who roamed with her pal, Fool'n Gold in a well-fenced enclosure at the home of Julie's father, Harry Glasser, in Palatine Township.

The lowest point of the fence was three feet high and Cocoa had never jumped over anything higher than a 10-inch log. She preferred walking around it.

The blue ribbon and the trophy evidently went to Cocoa's head and she took to her heels. When Julie went out early Sunday morning, June 12, to feed the horses, they were gone. Fool's Gold was standing outside the fence which had no break in it, looking sheepish. It could only be assumed that both horses had jumped the fence, an incredible feat either at the high or low point. Julie Ann was heart-broken.

To find Cocoa, Julie Ann's father Harry enlisted the aid of 11 horseback riders from the Sun Dance Stables, at Golf and Roselle, the help of any neighbor brave enough to drive his car around, asking if anyone had seen a horse and a good sized passel of neighborhood children. Even Samson, the family St. Bernard went into action. There was some talk about whether he should have a keg of oats attached to his collar but the idea was lost in the excitement.

For four days, the hunt went on. It was something that both participants and observers will long remember. Finally, a call came from the Schaumburg Police Department. On the very morning the disappeared, Cocoa had been found on the road outside the [illegible] of Herman Volke[illegible] on [illegible]. She had stopped to make cow-eyes at a stallion in the field.

The Volkening farm is a good 10 miles from the Glasser place, across the Tollway, Golf road and Higgins road. Cocoa had traveled that distance in record time. Anyway it took Julie Ann three hours to ride her home under the watchful supervision of her father, who followed in his car. She stopped and walked Cocoa across the heavily travelled arteries.

No Matter

Two weeks ago, Bill and Karyl Handley of N. Chicago went happily off on a vacation to Newport Richey, just outside of Tampa, Fla., to visit Karyl's parents, the Walter A. Andersons. With their son Billy they were enjoying every moment of it until they began hearing about a hurricane called Alma with devastating winds heading in the direction of Tampa and Newport Richey. They joined the natives in preparing for the hurricane's onslaught and even sat up all night waiting for it to come.

Through the night they listened to the radio. The hurricane had swerved and the danger was past. Only 40 - mile-an-hour winds were predicted for their vicinity. "That's nothing," said the Handleys.

They were ready to call it a night when they heard the 7 a.m. broadcast announcing that Arlington Heights had been hit by a tornado. It took Bill seven hours to get a call through to his friend, John Grant, of Winston Park, who works with him at State Farm Insurance at Golf Mill.

It was impossible to reach any of their neighbors in the Lynnwood section. There was only minor damage to their home in Arlington Heights but [illegible] the Handleys are deeply [illegible] to "the wonderful [illegible] who had all of the damage repaired and cleaned up before we got home."

Too Tired to Burn

Tom and Jeanne Novotny are just beginning to look back, not in anger, but with amusement at the recent election. They were laughing at things that happened to them because of Murphy's law.

Murphy's Law, Jeanne once explained in this column, causes all the bad things to happen to an active politician. Not only did the electric typewriter fail to come back from the repair shop where it had gone when the dog tripped over the cord, but the car that was in an accident hasn't been fixed.

On election eve, Jeanne's washer broke down and the steam iron fell to the floor and was ruined.

"And we lost the election," said Jeanne. "It just wasn't our year or at least, our month.

"We're beginning to hear all sorts of amusing things but, please, don't connect us with the burning float. We were all too tired to even turn on the stove to heat the coffee."

Howard Resigns State Post

SPRINGFIELD – Gov. Otto Kerner has announced the appointment of Waldo Mauritz a specialist in governmental accounting practices, as the new chairman of the Business Management Study Committee for Illinois.

Mauritz succeeds Bailey K. Howard, who resigned as chairman of the committee upon being elected president of Field Enterprises, Inc.

Mauritz is the partner in charge of the state and local government department of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., Chicago. He is a past president of the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants, and a long - term member of the advisory committee of the Civic Federation of Chicago.

Howard's resignation from the chairmanship of the committee came after his election to head the Field family communications company.

He pointed out that it would be "inappropriate" for him to continue to head the citizens' committee, whose mission is "to study state business practices and to make recommendations based upon that study," while heading the parent corporation of The Chicago Daily News, the Chicago Sun - Times, Station WFLD, and the Chicago suburban newspapers, Arlington Day and Prospect Day.

"The tradition of free and unfettered editorial comment in our communications media can best be maintained by my resignation from the committee," he told Gov. Kerner.

For Unusual Landscapes, Try These New Trees

BY RICHARD DE LANO

Many people enjoy growing something that's new, different or unusual. That's why the new rose and annual introductions prove so popular. However, new plant introductions are not limited to annuals and roses. New tree varieties and selections also are available for unusual landscapes.

Red maple has always been popular because of its fast growth and excellent fall color. Unfortunately, this color could not always be depended upon unless selection was made at the nursery when the fall color was displayed. The red maple October Glory, eliminated this uncertainty. October Glory will consistently produce a brilliant crimson red fall foliage.

Another tree with an improved leaf color is Purple Splendor, an improved form of weeping birch. As the name implies, this is an improved leaf form and color.

REDBUD IS a tree that continues to fool people by its name. Not only are white flowered varieties available, but now a new pink bud. Pink Charm Redbud produces pink flowers without a trace of purple. This is an excellent small tree for a shaded location. However, because this particular variety is new its northern limit of hardiness is still to be determined.

Another small tree that is included in recent introductions is Autumn Glory, a hawthorn. It's significant for the large brilliant red fruit that persists from fall to winter.

Sunburst is a honeylocust that's been available for about twelve years. It was selected for the ability of the new growth to maintain a golden color through early summer. A companion tree is now available. Rubylace is a honeylocust with new growth that changes from bright ruby red in spring to a dark bronze -green in August.

PIN OAKS have recently staged a comeback in popularity. This may be attributed almost completely to their fast growth.

Mixing Furniture? Take a Total Look

Does East meet West? Will Spanish and English get along? Can the Scandinavian and Colonials mix? All these questions are being answered not by next week's installment of a television series, but by the country's most influential interior designers and the answers are generating all kinds of fun and excitement for homemakers re-doing a room or furnishing a new home.

No longer do you have to be concerned whether one piece of furniture is of exactly the same design origin as another element in the room. The basis for judgment in the selection of items for a room scheme is the total look of the room. Various pieces must be compatible of course. But compatability does not mean sameness.

Mix wood finishes, design periods, textures, patterns and colors. But just be sure the overall effect is harmonious. Even floral and geometric patterns can work together in the same room, if carefully chosen. The room must reflect a well-bred look in terms of your own social and taste standards. Naturally, you may want to lead your own social group. Fine! But be sure you stay within the bounds of your own likes and dislikes.

A GOOD example of proper mixing of styles can be demonstrated with a new wool wilton rug of Spanish design called PORTEAU. It is woven by Karastan Rug Mills and was just introduced this year. The Large medallion and border motifs, the brilliant color combinations may elicit a spontaneous "Ole!" from the most reticent of your friends.

PORTEAU BY KARASTAN

Most interior designers today start with one large or unique element and build the color scheme and style for the room around that one factor. Many start with a rug, perfectly logical since the rug is normally the largest movable single item in the room.

EVEN though Porteau, in a 9' x 12' size (about 9'10" x 12'10" with the elaborate knitted fringe) sells for less than a color television set, it can set the tempo for a most exciting room scheme. In accordance with today's decorating trend this Spanish style rug may be judiciously co - ordinated with any of several important furniture styles.

The "country" look, whether English, French, Mediterranean or even Early American. Some semi - formal rooms would look well with Porteau, and certain severe modern effects would be nicely softened by the rug's handwoven looking texture and fringe.

The colors are worth mentioning again. They range from a stark, typically Spanish, black on white to black on peacock blue with dramatic henna and gold, self - toned reds and greens, olive and aqua in between. There are five sizes available including a six - foot round rug. The 9' x 12' is priced at $299.

The location is ideal. Schools, churches, shopping centers including Randhurst, medical, cultural and recreational facilities, all the amenities of the good life are just "a stone's throw" away. On excellent superhighways, Lamplighter Apartments are within an easy, short drive to the Loop.

"THE FIRST group of Lamplighter Apartments of 144 units rented like a bolt of lightning", said Jay Felner, president of Oak View Builders. "We are now feverishly working on the next group of 232 units, to keep up with the strong demand. The rapidly growing population of this booming area is very much in need of moderately priced housing, without chores and responsibilities, - and all our tenants are delighted to discover how much more they are getting here than what they've bargained for!"

To reach Lamplighter Apartments drive north on River Rd. to Camp MacDonald Rd., west 1/2 mile to Wolf Rd., then north 1/2 mile to the furnished model apartments, open daily from 9 to 9 at Wolf and Palatine Rds.

Lamplighter Apartments offers the good life at its finest in nearby suburbia, where suburban living is combined with all city conveniences - and does so at "bargain basement" rents.

Asphalt Rescues Defense Base

The waterproofing capacities of asphalt -- which are so effective in making weather-tight asphalt shingle roofing for homes -- solved a critical problem in building the North American Defense Command's underground headquarters at Colorado Springs.

Construction of the defense complex 1400 feet within Cheyenne Mountain was threatened by constant water seepage, until the walls were waterproofed with tons of asphalt.

Carpeted Models Increase Sales

A study by Practical Builder's Bureau of Building Marketing Research shows that carpeting is now included in more than 75 percent of model homes. Builders report that seven out of ten sales are made from carpeted models.

Carpeting is almost always included in living rooms, and in two-thirds of the dining rooms and bedrooms. Generally, the carpets are offered on a fixed allowance basis.

Open 46 More Sites In Elk Grove

Elk Grove Village, created by Centex Corp. just ten years ago, has a proud story to tell. The farmland turned into a booming community of 15,000 residents in a short decade and just four months ago, the firm opened up a new section of 167 sites west of the present development along Arlington Heights road.

Robert C. Winkle, sales director, announced that within just another four months, now it became necessary to open up an additional section of 46 sites because of the strong demand, a rare proof of atmost popularity and tremendous acceptance.

Winkle, explaining the spectacular growth of the community, said, "Our residents buy more than a spacious quality home on a large, fully improved site, backed up by the reputation of Centex Corp., one of the nation's largest national builders.

"They buy membership in one of the nation's finest communities, with police and fire protection, new shopping centers, community house, library, swimming pool, recreational facilities, social and civic organizations, transportation. Most important, Elk Grove Village schools are ranking among the finest, serving as models for educators from all over the nation."

School District 59 built ten new grammar schools in the last five years, without raising the tax rate. High School District 214 will open up a new high school this fall in Elk Grove Village, the 5th of the area. Elk Grove Industrial Park nearby offers local job opportunities and helps carrying the tax burden. The new St. Alexius Hospital just had its dedication ceremonies in Elk Grove Village, celebrating the 100th anniversary of the opening of the first Alexian Brothers Hospital in Chicago.

The 3-bedroom 2-bath Princeton with formal dining room, living room, family room, dinette, laundry room, patio, attached 2-car garage, priced at $25,850, is one of 6 furnished model homes in the $20,000 - $28,000 price range, on view in Elk Grove Village. Elk Grove Village is on Higgins road (Rte. 72), west of Mannheim road (Rte. 45); the models are open every day from ten to eight.

If families outgrow their first home, they usually buy a second larger home, or even their third home and stay in Elk Grove Village.

Six furnished models in the $20,000 - $28,000 price range are on view, ranches, splitlevels and colonials. They feature 3 and 4 bedrooms, 1 1/2-2 1/2 baths, kitchens with breakfast areas and built-ins, most also have finished recreation rooms. Family size kitchens are complete with breakfast areas and built-ins. A fire alarm system in the boiler rooms is a popular extra feature; it sounds a warning if the heating plant overheats or malfunctions.

"Families buying a home now for fall or later delivery, enjoy the advantage of today's firm prices, even if the cost would advance further," emphasized Winkle. "And they will not be penalized if they select a larger-than-average site today, when various sizes and locations are available."

Elk Grove Village is within a 29-minute ride to the Loop. An easy way to get there is taking tollfree Kennedy expressway to Mannheim (Rte. 45), north on Mannheim to Higgins road (Rte. 72), then west on Higgins for a few minutes. The tastefully furnished model homes are open every day from ten to eight.

Combo Door Swings With The Seasons

They had to be dug out of storage, cleaned, checked for balance and installed. In winter, the process was repeated with storm sash.

Today, most homeowners use convenient permanently-installed screen and storm wood doors with interchangeable panels of glass and screen. A few turns with a screwdriver convert the door into screen or storm sash depending on the season. Installation and maintenance are simplified.

Stock combination doors of ponderosa pine, for instance, come pre-hung with hinges, hardware and latches attached. Weatherstripping around the door edges is factory-applied, and a chemical preservative treatment protects the door against weather abuse.

Another advantage of wood combination doors is that they can be painted or stained to complement the entrance door and house exterior.

Hear A Drip, Drip, Drip? Your Toilet Needs Fixing

Toilet troubles make themselves known audibly. A toilet in good repair is seen but seldom heard. If you hear water running or dripping from the toilet bowl or toilet tank, then repairs are in order.

The most common trouble is a continuous drip or flow of water from the tank to the bowl. And this is most often caused by the tank ball which closes the outlet into the toilet bowl.

Remove the cover from the tank. Set it down carefully, someplace where it won't fall or be broken. A part such as this is difficult to replace and often requires the purchase of an entire toilet.

Flush the toilet once or twice and watch the action of the tank ball. Does it seat itself properly? Does it go all the way down or do the wire stems stick?

Turn off the water supply and empty the tank. You will find a guide for the wire stem [illegible] the overflow tube. Adjust [illegible] the ball falls directly on the outlet, not to one side or the other.

PERHAPS the trip lever is not working properly. Work the handle a few times to check. It should work freely. If it doesn't, lubricate the brushing next to the handle or replace the lever.

The lower stem, the wire rod that screws right into the rubber ball, might be bent. Straightening may help. Otherwise, replace with a new rod. Quite often it is the tank ball itself that is at fault. These get soft after a time and water leaks past them. Replace with a new one.

If the ball is not worn and it seats itself properly into the outlet, then check the condition of the outlet. It may be dirty and gritty. Clean with steel wool or fine emery cloth.

Trouble with the tank ball or outlet is indicated when the water in the tank is below the level of the overflow tube. If, when you check the tank, you discover that the water level is above the overflow tube, the trouble is with the water supply mechanism.

THE WATER supply mechanism is called the ballcock. The water is turned on and off by a float valve. When the tank outlet is opened and the water rushed out, the float drops down, turning on the water. As the level rises, so does the float until it reaches the point where the valve is closed. [illegible] only flows into the tank, it flows into the bowl by way of a refill tube that leads into the overflow tube. If the valve does not close properly, the water will continue to run into the overflow tube and into the bowl. Sometimes just bending the float rod down slightly will cure the trouble, since it will cause the float to rise higher to close the valve.

SOMETIMES the float develops a leak, becomes waterlogged. Then it doesn't come up high enough to close the valve. Buy a new float. It easily screws onto the float rod.

If it isn't the float or the float rod, then it is possible the washer in the valve plunger at the other end of the float rod. This comes apart easily; just examine it closely first. Take the part with you when you go to the hardware store, since washers differ.

If the entire ballcock is worn — when none of the above remedies affect a permanent cure — then replace it. Drain the tank, sponge out excess water and place a pail under the tank. Hold the top of the unit with one hand and use a wrench to turn the nut on the underside of the tank. Be certain to use a new gasket and washer when replacing.

Seeburg Leases In Centex

The Musical Instrument Division of Seeburg Corporation has leased a 22,500-square-foot building in Centex Industrial Park adjacent to Chicago's O'Hare International Airport for its new corporate headquarters.

Located on a 65,000-square-foot site at 2333 Arthur Avenue, Elk Grove Village, Illinois, a portion of the building will be utilized as a warehouse for Kay Musical Instruments, one of the division's operations, whose manufacturing plant is located on the same street in the nation's fastest growing industrial park.

Sole broker for the real estate transaction was Howard G. Krafsar of Bennett & Kahnweiler, developer of the 2,000-acre industrial park.

Less Than One-third

Homeowners undertaking remodeling projects will spend about 30 per cent of the total cost on materials, says the Tile Council of America. The other 70 per cent represents installation costs.

STATE OF ILLINOIS PAUL POWELL SECRETARY OF STATE

This is the new combination notice 30 days in advance of the approaching expiration date of driver licenses and application form for renewal of the license. The program initiated by Secretary of State Paul Powell to alert drivers to the need to renew their licenses will get under way early in July.

The program to notify drivers 30 days in advance of the approaching expiration date of their driver licenses will get under way early in July, Sec. of State Paul Powell announced.

The new law directing the secretary of state to issue these notices becomes effective July 1. The first drivers to be notified will be those whose licenses are due to expire on August 1, Powell said.

The notification plan was a pledge of Powell's during his campaign for Secretary of State in 1964, and was enacted into law at his arging by the 1965 session of the General Assembly.

Sec. Powell pointed out that, for the program to be sucessful, it is imperative that drivers observe the requirement of the law that they notify his office within 10 days of any change in name or address.

He emphasized that failure to receive the notice does not relieve the driver of the requirement to have a valid license at all times.

WHEN drivers apply for renewal of their licenses after the expiration date of the old license, the new license will be valid for three years less the amount of time the old license had been expired.

The old practice of issuing renewal licenses valid for three years plus the time remaining until the applicant's next birthday, in cases where the old license had expired, is being discontinued.

"There will be no more bonuses for being delinquent," Secretary Powell said. He also pointed out that this procedure will increase state revenue about $600,000 a year.

The notice is in the form of an application blank on which the name, address and physical description of the driver are already printed. Below this area is space to enter any corrections.

IN THE lower part of the form are nine questions which the applicant must answer pertaining to his vision, physical conditions, whether the license has ever been revoked, suspended or restricted, or is being held in lieu of bail, whether the applicant has had any traffic law violation convictions in the last 12 months, how many miles driven in the last 12 months, and whether the applicant has ever been married.

The question concerning marriage is directed primarily to minors, who, if they answer "no," must accompany the application with the written consent of the parent or guardian.

At the bottom of the blank are spaces for the applicant's signature and the seal of a notary public.

Atcher Loss Upsets Nelson

Norman Nelson Jr., Democratic candidate for state senator from the 3d District, said he is disturbed by the primary election victory of John A. Graham, the Republican candidate who will oppose him in the November general elections.

"I am not disturbed over facing Mr. Graham in a contest. But I am disturbed, and particularly as a resident of the 3d Senatorial District, in that I feel the people of the district would have had a far better choice in November if Graham's primary opponent, Bob Atcher, had been selected as the candidate to oppose me," Nelson said.

Nelson explained: "The 3d Senatorial District is a newly created and greatly enlarged district which has a great need for effective representation. This district, because of its burgeoning population, needs representation in Springfield that will be energetic and vigorous. The workload assigned to such a representative will be close to overwhelming.

"THE QUESTION of whether John A. Graham will be able to carry out them tasks was raised by Republicans during the primary campaign. It will continue to be a matter of grave concern to the voters of this district."

Nelson, a 39-year old attorney who lives with his wife and five children at 641 Clearmont Dr. in Elk Grove Village, added he thought he and Atcher possess the background, capacity for hard work and other requirements which qualify them to represent the 3d District.

"With the election of Graham as a candidate, the voters of this district do not have the choice to which they are entitled," Nelson said.

JOHN FRIEDL

THAD WOODARD

BY BOB CASTERLINE

If you've ever seen a big Doberman Pinscher grab a rabbit and shake it by the neck, then you know what Arlington Heights' American Legion junior baseball team did to Glenview last night.

Coach Lloyd Meyer's Blue Sox pounced on the Glenview squad in the first inning and never let go, working over losing pitcher Chuck Olsson for a 10-2 triumph.

THE WIN was Arlington's fourth straight in league play, and kept the Big Blue atop the standings all by themselves. They'll put their unbeaten status on the line at 6 p.m. today at Palatine, with sinewy John Friedl on the mound.

Jerry Donahue was the winning pitcher in last night's opus, but he got three innings of relief from Bob (Sideburns) Young.

During his four innings of service, Donahue allowed two hits, no runs, a pair of walks, and fanned five. Young gave up three hits and two runs, but walked none and whiffed seven.

THE SPLITTING of the duty gives Meyer more flexibility in his staff as rained-out games are rescheduled. Donahue will probably get the go-ahead Friday, when the Blue faces Mount Prospect, and Young's three-inning workout will leave him ready for relief duty later this week or a starting nod on the weekend.

While the pitching was satisfying last night, it was the team's plate work that left Meyer smiling. His Blue Sox scored their 10 runs on nine hits and only five batters struck out. Two of the Big Blue batters walked, and five were left on base.

THAD WOODARD set the tone for the game in the first inning, banging a single and stealing second. He scored later when an error by the shortstop on Doug Fink's grounder let him come home.

It was three-up, three-down in the second for Arlington, and a walk to Woodard in the third was the only Arlington threat until the fourth, when the roof caved in on Glenview.

Singles by Woodard, Fink, Brad Somers, and John Loughman, plus a double by Donahue and a triple by Tom LaStarge, sparked a five-run rally that included the beaning of Mark Newman and a walk to Paul Parrish.

THE BLUE boosted the score to 10-0 in the fifth with four more runs on two hits after two outs.

Catcher Mark Frase got on base on another shortstop error, and Parrish got in the way of a high, inside pitch. A single by Donahue scored Frase and a single by Woodard scored Parrish.

Donahue and Woodard both crossed the plate as the Glenview defense fumbled with the ball, to complete the Arlington scoring.

LOUGHMAN REACHED first to open the Arlington sixth but died there on a whiff and two outfield flies.

Buzz Avery led off with a single and an error at second put Steve Gray on base. Dave Martinov's fielder's choice brought home one run, and a deep triple by Dave Brukach drove home Gray.

THE TRIPLE COULD have been an out just as easily, but Jim Jorgenson got his spikes caught in the high grass in the Arlington High School diamond's left field. The ball sailed over his head while he was picking himself up.

Meyer Says Schedule Is Helping His Team

What's back of the fast start made by Arlington Heights' American Legion junior baseball team? Coach Lloyd Meyer had hinted that his charges might start slowly in view of poor spring weather and some sore arms on his pitchers.

Despite these factors, Arlington's defending state champions are 4 - 0 in league play and top the league standings all by themselves.

"WELL, WE HAVEN'T played the really good teams yet, for one thing," said Meyer after last night's 10 - 2 win over Glenview.

"We're starting to look better, and some of our key guys are beginning to come through for us, but we're still doing a lot of little things wrong. If we were playing the tough teams in the league, we might be losing the close ones instead of winning them," he explained.

"WE'RE AS GOOD as anyone in the league, but our fine points need polishing. Our bunting is weak, and so is our base - running," said Meyer. Over - all our batting is better, but not as good as it will need to be later on," he said.

Defensively the Blue Sox are looking good, says Meyer. "Mark Newman and Thad Woodard are playing some really fine defensive baseball for us," he said. "Woodard in particular has made four or five great plays for us in the past three games. And, in addition, he's starting to hit (last night Woodard had three hits and a walk in four trips to the plate).

"BY THE TIME John Friedl's arm gets into top shape, we'll be in a good position to know what we can do. His curve still isn't sharp, but regular work ought to cure that," said Meyer.

"Our big problem is to keep on our toes," he warned. "If we start getting cocky and expect to win without working at it, we'll be in trouble. You can lose by a run almost as easily as you can win by a run," he cautioned.

MEYER SAYS the league's tough teams include Mount Prospect, his Friday - night foe, Northbrook, and Park Ridge Red. At the same time he warns that Evanston is not to be taken lightly and the same goes for Palatine.

Arlington meets Palatine at 6 p.m. tonight in Palatine, and travels to Mount Prospect at 6 p.m. Friday. Sunday Evanston comes to Arlington Heights' Recreation Park for a 1:30 p.m. encounter.

Boys' Baseball Report:

Unbeaten Bengals Meet Their Match

The previously unbeaten Bengals bit the dust last night in the Senior Division of the Arlington Heights Boys' Baseball League.

The Mustangs, who went into the game with a 3-4 record, jumped all over the Bengals for 10 runs in the first frame and never trailed en route to their 12-9 victory.

Gary Anderson got the win on a three-hit showing, but walked 10 to keep himself in dutch.

The Bengals are now 5-1-1 for the season.

The Braves trimmed the Cubs 9-5 in their National Division encounter last night, giving them a 1-0 record for the season's second half. The Cubs are 0-1.

TOM SPLITT got credit for the win last night while Steve Lett absorbed the loss. Splitt was backed by doubles from Dick Kolarl and Bret Huske and three RBIs from Mark Weber, who went three-for-three.

The Redlegs climbed over .500 last night in the Varsity I Division, tripping the Blackhawks 5-4. Gene Elsberg was the winning pitcher, fanning 11 and walking none, although he hit one batter.

Rick Wilbins went four-for-four for the winners, getting a homer and three singles against the previously unbeaten Blackhawks.

MIKE O'MALLEY homered and drove in two runs in his own behalf as the Bobcats romped past the Rams 12-1. O'Malley pitched a five-hitter and fanned eight to get the win on the hill.

Mike Lins backed O'Malley with a triple.

The Chargers beat the Dons 8-7 in the South Blue Intermediate Division last night as Tom Erdman tripled and Mark Preissing, Jack Kelly, and Tom Johnson all doubled for the winners. Kelly got credit for the win, with help in the last frame from Mike Weber.

The unbeaten Colonels whipped the Bullets 7-2 in the North Blue Intermediate Division as Ed Carpenter got the win and homered a pair of runs in to boot.

The Angels drubbed the Bruins 14-9 in the North Red Intermediate Division last night despite Bill Martino homering and tripling for the losers.

Bill Kastner homered and doubled for the Angels as Mike O'Mara picked up the win in relief. The Angels are now 3-0.

The unbeaten Blues rolled to their third second-half win with an 11-7 triumph over the Apaches last night in the North Blue Junior Division.

THE ROBINS beat the Bisons 18-11 in a two-and-one-half inning fracas in the North white Junior Division last night. The Robins' 15-run second inning took so long to play that darkness limited the game to only 2-1/2 innings.

MIKE HAAS struck out 12 batters and got credit for the win as the Buckeyes crushed the Chicks 21-7 in the South Blue Junior Division.

Haire Still Atop Golf Loop

Haire Funeral Home continued its front-running pace in the Arlington Heights Scratch League golf race last week by edging second - place Graft Builders 4-1/2 - 3-1/2.

MIKE SPINELLO was the only match winner for the Graft squad, as he fired a one-over-par 37. Wayne Rolfs also carded a 74 for L-Nor Cleaners to lead his mates to a 7-1/2 - 2-1/2 triumph over Nelson Realty. The lopsided decision moved L-Nor from ninth to sixth place in the league standings.

Captain Bill Huge's 39 and Ben Kronn's 38 sparked Busse Flowers to a 4-3 conquest of Peters and Company. Arlington Realty with Lee and Ken Brennam leading the way, walloped Skokie Valley Drywall 6-2, and Miles and Miles tripped Burrow Chevrolet 4-1/2-3-1/2.

FRANK MAYTAS was the big gun for Miles and Miles with a 37, while Bob Moore's 38 paced Burrow Chevrolet.

Kruse's Tavern moved up into a tie for first in the Mt. Prospect Twilight Golf League yesterday, nipping co-leader Thunderbird Bowl 5-1/2-4-1/2.

Ted Banks claimed the league's low gross honor with a 40-12--28 to lead Moler's Barber Shop to an 8-2 shellacking of Wille Lumber. In two more lop-sided matches, Keefer's Pharmacy clubbed Busse-Bierman 9-1/2 - 1/2, and Kersting Garden Center blasted cellar-dwelling Illinois Range 7-1/2 - 2-1/2.

Licht's Paints also slugged Mt. Prospect Electric 7-1/2-2-1/2, and Kirchhoff Insurance rounded out the agenda with a 7-3 triumph over Carter's Music Shop.

Western Opens Tomorrow

Golf World Eyes Medinah

The famed No. Three course at Medinah Country Club becomes the nation's golf capital tomorrow with the opening of the 1966 Western Open Championships, which will continue through Sunday.

Billy Casper is the defending champion, and comes to the tourney fresh from his play-off victory over Arnold Palmer in the U.S. Open last weekend.

A starting field of more than 125 professionals will be shooting for the $20,000 first prize in a purse of $100,000.

SCENIC LAKE Kadijah winds through the tree-locked No. Three course, which is a 7,014-yard giant. It is regarded as one of the great driving courses in the country. In addition to its demand on tee-shot accuracy, Medinah's length and its often - baffling greens combine to give it great overall character.

Medinah has been the Western Open site twice before, in 1962 and 1939. The club is located on Medinah Rd. between Lake (U.S. 20) and Irving Park Rd. (Ill. 19).

TODAY THE Evans Scholars Foundation Pro - Am Tournament is being conducted with the first round of championship play in the Western slated for tomorrow morning.

The second, set for Friday, will pare the field to the low 75 players after 36 holes. After 54 holes on Saturday, the field will be cut to 60 players for Sunday's finals. A sudden death play - off will be held to determine a champion if any play-off is required.

Tickets for the tournament are $5 for the Thursday and Friday rounds, and $6 for the Saturday and Sunday rounds. They are available at the entrance to Medinah Country Club.

SPORTS NETWORK Inc. will televise 60 minutes of action at 4 p.m. Saturday on WGN-TV (ch. 9) in Chicago, and will televise 90 minutes Sunday following the Cubs-Mets double - header baseball telecast.

Today's pro-am tourney pits 50 leading pros and 150 amateurs in competition, with each of the amateurs contributing $250 to the Evans Scholars Foundation in lieu of an entry fee.

PROCEEDS FROM the Western Open to go the Evans Scholar program, which will have 560 students attending college next fall.

Larry Brown - Is He Gun-Shy?

Someone asked Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts recently if shortstop Larry Brown was a little "gun-shy" since his collision with Leon Wagner while chasing a fly ball.

SAID TEBBETTS: "Well there he is at short right now standing with his back to the plate while batting practice is going on. I wouldn't say he is actually timid."

Brown assuredly is not timid, and he made one of the most remarkable recoveries in the history of sports. When Brown collided with Wagner at New York some seven weeks ago, it was indicated he might be out for the rest of the season. He had multiple head injuries and doctors were skeptical.

BUT BROWN recovered, and now he's back with the Indians. He will play himself back into shape by filling in at shortstop or second base in late innings, and be available for pinch-hit roles.

Top Three-Year-Olds Gathered for Classic

Many of the nation's top three-year-olds will be on hand at Arlington Park Saturday for the $100,000 added Arlington Classic.

THE CLASSIC, the first race of the famed Mid-American Triple, which will also include the Chicagoan and the American Derby, will highlight the first week of activity in the second phase of the coordinated Arlington - Washington meeting.

Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner Kauai King is a doubtful starter for the Classic, which includes such sophomore stars as Impressive, Creme dela Creme, Father's Image, and Better Sea. Kauai King is in serious training, but owner Michael Ford says his plans remain somewhat indefinite.

THE RAPIDLY improving Creme dela Creme has won seven of his eight starts, losing only in the Withers to Indalto in May. The colt's latest victory came in the Jersey Derby May 30.

Father's Image was third in the Jersey Derby and seems due to a major stakes win. The son of Swaps has been second in the Arlington-Washington Futurity and the Pimlico Futurity.

Impressive, a highly regarded sprinter, will come back from a long rest after a busy winter and early spring schedule. Impressive has won the Hibiscus, Pimlico Handicap, and Swift Stakes, and was second in the Bahamas, Bay Shore, and Gotham Stakes.

ILLINOIS - BRED Better Sea won the Arkansas Derby and finished second in the Education Handicap.

The $20,000 added Mademoiselle Stakes will kick off to a busy week for two-year olds Monday. The spotlight will be on fillies in this, the tenth annual running of the 5-1/2 furlong stakes match.

COLTS AND geldings will race in the $20,000 added Joliet Wednesday. Both two-year-old races are warmups for the Arlington-Washington Lassie and Futurity to be run in September.

Country Club for Sale to Village

BY JACK A. VANDERMYN

Solution to the long-standing Village of Mount Prospect - Old Orchard Country Club land use controversy could come from a set of four proposals presented to the village last week by attorneys representing the property owners.

Old Orchard Country Club is a 200 acre tract of land on Mount Prospect's Northwest side that its owners claim is not financially feasible to continue to operate as a golf course.

Solution to the economic problem, as far as the owners are concerned, comes in the development of high rise apartment buildings on the site.

During the C. O. Schlaver administration, when the tract was annexed to the village, a pre-annexation agreement allowed the owners, listed as Chicago Title and Trust Co., to build high rises, some of which were in the 25-story class.

The Old Orchard re-zoning came despite the fact that the zoning board of the village voted to deny the high rise development. Mount Prospect's previous village board voted to overrule the zoning board's decision and granted the zoning, along with a long set of special use privileges through a pre-annexation agreement.

Old Orchard annexed to the village on the terms of the pre-annexation agreement approved by the Schlaver board.

THE ENTIRE area became a campaign issue in April, 1965 and when Daniel Congreve and his slate ousted Schlaver and his trustees, the village withdrew from the terms of the pre-annexation agreement and reverted the zoning of the property to single family residential, the status it now holds.

Attorneys from Old Orchard went to court to force the present administration to abide by the provisions of the pre-annexation agreement, however, that case is still pending and for the last six months the situation has been status quo.

According to Mayor Congreve, Mount Prospect refused to follow through with the pre-annexation agreement because the contract was with Chicago Title and Trust Co. rather than with any individuals who could be held responsible.

ALSO, the pre-annexation agreement between the former administration and the village was contingent on the fact that the operators of the country club be granted several liquor permits. Congreve contends that the board has no right to enter into any agreement which is contingent on liquor permits.

As village president, Congreve is solely responsible for liquor license issuance and enforcement.

Jack Siegel, special village of Mount Prospect legal counsel on the Old Orchard matter, submitted a letter to Mayor Congreve dated May 20, 1966 in which he outlined a proposed solution to the problem, offering the village four alternatives.

Siegel said that all four of the alternatives were approved by the owners and their attorney Marshall Holleb, representing the owners of the property.

HOLLEB, representing Chicago Title and Trust, emphasized that the owners want to avoid a legal battle over the property and are willing to work out any solution that is economically feasible.

Most surprising of the four alternatives presented was an offer by the owners to sell the village the property.

Holleb suggested that if the village is interested in purchasing the property, which has been valued at between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, it is possible that federal funds in the form of open space land grants could be secured.

Holleb points out that the federal government makes grants of 50 per cent available to municipalities for the acquisition of open space land. Holleb suggested that the price of the Old Orchard site might be in the area of $20,000 to $25,000 an acre.

FRANK Aldrich, one of the partners now operating Old Orchard as a semi-private golf course, agreed that the continuing operation of the land as a golf course was not feasible for the owners.

Aldrich said that perhaps the village might be interested in leasing the golf and country club segment of the tract back to the operators and allow a larger dwelling density rate on the periphery of the land.

Holleb suggested as a second alternative that the village allow Old Orchard to disconnect with consent. This means that the property would revert back to county zoning or possibly be annexed to another municipality.

Holleb said there were no immediate plans to seek annexation to another municipality, although the property is contiguous to Arlington Heights on the west and within annexation possibility of Wheeling to the north.

Owners of the land would then seek zoning and development under some other jurisdiction, presumably one with more liberal policies toward apartment development and population density than Mount Prospect.

Holleb said that this would undoubtedely be the first choice of the property owners as a solution to the problem.

The current law suit against Mount Prospect by the property owners does not challenge the annexation itself, but rather asks that conditions outlined in that ill-fated annexation agreement be followed.

LEGAL observers believe that if Old Orchard was successful in its suit, it would then have grounds to file a quo-warranto (by what authority?) suit against the village and disconnect.

The third offer from Holleb calls for the establishment of a moratorium period of three to five years, with the village dismissing its law suit. In return, the owners would pledge no development of the property for five years after which it would revert to the original zoning and proceed with the high rise development.

Holleb seeks the moratorium on the basis that he is certain that in five years the Old Orchard plan will not be out of step with the general development of the northwestern suburbs. He believes that high rises will be an accepted fact in five years and the Old Orchard concept will then be more acceptable to the community.

Under this procedure, the development of the land would simply be postponed, not solved, Siegel pointed out in his communication to Congreve.

FINALLY, Holleb requests that the present Old Orchard plan be modified and he has hired an architectural firm to present the village with a modified development.

The plan drawn by Alper and Alper, Chicago architects, proposes 12-story apartment buildings on 30-foot bases with a maximum height of 150 feet. It calls for six story apartments on 20 foot bases with maximum height of 80 feet.

Plans for the proposed development, along with the original conception, were submitted to Congreve with the proposal.

Mayor Congreve turned the proposal over to Trustee Robert Teichert's judiciary committee for consideration. The judiciary committee met Thursday and discussed the proposals. They decided to schedule a meeting in the near future with Holleb and any other representatives of the property owners to discuss all four proposals.

Until such a meeting can be arranged, the attorneys for both the village and the property owners, have agreed to postpone hearing on the suit in circuit court until September.

Mayor Congreve did not entirely rule out the possibility of the village entering into an agreement to purchase the property and operate the golf course as a municipal facility.

He said, however, that any such purchase would have to be accomplished through revenue bonds and that the facility would have to pay its way and not become a burden on the taxpayers.

CONGREVE said he doubted that the trustees would consent to allow Old Orchard to disconnect from the village. He pointed out that whichever municipality had control of the property, over use of the land would cause tremendous problems, especially in the area of traffic for Mount Prospect.

Congreve said that the village will want to have control of the future use of the 200 acre Old Orchard tract, whatever it might be. He said that the village has no intention of having 200 acres of high rise apartments on its periphery.

Judiciary Committee Chairman Teichert said that four concise problems with the property are involved. He said those problems were preservation of open space, dedication of interior streets to the village in the development, height of any structures and density of population and land use.

Teichert said that he felt the most important aspect of the situation was to preserve open space land to its fullest extent.

Teichert said the judiciary committee would study all of the alternatives and would then meet with representatives of the property owners and make a recommendation to the village board.

School Dist. 25 Gets Federal Grant

The Arlington Heights Public Elementary Schools have received a one-year financial grant from the United States Office of Education to operate a diagnostic learning center under the provisions of Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The announcement of the approval of the grant was made by Arthur L. Harris, associate commissioner for elementary and secondary education.

Assistant Supt. of Schools for Dist. 25 Robert Campbell said the amount of the grant remains to be negotiated by the Office of Education and the school district.

While the center will be administered by Dist. 25, its services will be available to children in kindergarten through twelfth grade public and private schools in Elk Grove, Palatine, Schaumburg and Wheeling Townships who co-operated in the submission of the project to the Office of Education.

DIST. 25 Supt. R. E. Clabaugh said the center will provide the area with a highly specialized team of psychologists, guidance workers, learning specialists and medical personnel to assist parents and teachers in understanding children with severe learning problems and to help develop effective educational programs for them.

Children will be referred to the center by school personnel for complete diagnostic study. The center personnel will work closely with parents and teachers to effect changes in learning behavior, Clabaugh said.

The learning center will complement the present Northwest Suburban Special Education organization which provides special programs for children needing highly specialized education such as educable mentally handicapped, deaf, blind and perceptually handicapped.

The center will be primarily concerned with children who fall within the normal range of ability but who have academic problems reflected by lack of progress in school caused by emotional and environmental influences.

Tests, interviews and physical examinations will follow the referral of a child. An educational program is then developed in conjunction with the child's regular classroom teacher. Parents of the children will also be helped to more fully understand their child's problem.

The center will open in the Elk Grove High School as soon as personnel can be employed and equipment and materials have been received. While the initial grant to the district is for one year, Title III projects of this kind are expected to be re-approved annually for a total of three years, Clabaugh said.

SINCE the inception of Title III, a total of four grants have been given to schools in the four-township area. Dist. 214 is presently operating a co-operative instructional resource and service center; Dist. 59 in Elk Grove has completed a planning grant for a model teacher training center, and Dist. 15 in Palatine has just received a planning grant to plan an outdoor education center.

Republican Office Moved

The Wheeling Township Republican Organization has opened new offices at 201 N. Dunton Av., Arlington Heights. The offices will replace the headquarters previously located in the Prospect Plaza, Mount Prospect.

"With the election of a new committeeman and the increase needs of the Republican Party in Wheeling Township, we believe it is advisable and necessary to establish an office conveniently located and within the population center of the Township," said Richard A. Cowen, deputy Republican committeeman.

"Eugene Schlickman, the newly elected committeeman, will announce regular office hours for himself and other services and facilities that will be available through the new offices," said Cowan.

The telephone number of the organization will continue to be CL 9-0730.

Woman Slugged By Man

Arlington Heights police have issued a warrant for the arrest of a Wheaton man who allegedly broke into the apartment of a woman and struck her in the head Sunday night.

Complaints were signed Monday charging Michael J. Lynch, 32, with battery and breaking and entering.

Miss Nancy Berry told police that Lynch broke into her apartment at 2234 Goebert while she was visiting a neighbor. When she returned he allegedly struck her.

Police said the door to Miss Berry's apartment had been forced open.

Miss Berry said she and Lynch had been dating for about a year. She could give police no reason for the attack.

Sheriff Reports Holiday Patrol Shows Results

In his monthly activities report, Sheriff Richard B. Ogilvie praised the traffic patrol work of the Cook County Sheriff's Police during the three-day Memorial Day weekend.

Ogilvie pointed out that, although the national traffic toll reached 525 deaths, only one fatal collision involving two persons was reported to Sheriff's police.

The sheriff said maximum patrol techniques would remain standard procedure for each holiday during the summer season.

Lost? Village Has Handy Map For 25 Cents

A street guide and map of the village of Arlington Hgts. and vicinity is now on sale at the Municipal Building for 25 cents.

The map has a cross reference for easy location of streets in Arlington Heights and many unincorporated areas. It also shows the location of schools, churches, golf courses, hospitals and parks.

Purse Gone

A purse containing $10 was taken from behind a counter at Wieboldt's Store in Randhurst, Mrs. Anna Urda, 407 MacArthur Dr., told police Monday. She said she kept her purse beneath the cash register in the store.

Minister Without Portfolio

Gerald P. McFarlin of Pre Finish Metals Inc., has been appointed Centex Industrial Park's "minister without portfolio" to the Elk Grove Village Human Relations Committee.

McFarlin will not officially represent the Park Assn. or its members and does not have the power to make any commitments.

"This stipulation is thoroughly understood by the Human Relations Committee," said Harry Cooper, president of the Park Assn.

"Under Park Assn. by-laws only the membership or the Board of Directors can make any commitments. McFarlin's function will be that of liason between the committee and the association. This way the association will be kept abreast of events and will be in a position to make any decisions or to take any action should it be required in the field of human relations," Cooper said.

For Unusual Landscapes, Try These New Trees

BY RICHARD DE LAND

Many people enjoy growing something that's new, different or unusual. That's why the new rose and annual introductions prove so popular. However, new plant introductions are not limited to annuals and roses. New tree varieties and selections also are available for unusual landscapes.

Red maple has always been popular because of its fast growth and excellent fall color. Unfortunately, this color could not always be depended upon unless selection was made at the nursery when the fall color was displayed. The red maple October Glory, eliminated this uncertainty. October Glory will consistently produce a brilliant crimson red fall foliage.

Another tree with an improved leaf color is Purple Splendor, an improved form of weeping birch. As the name implies, this is an improved leaf form and color.

REDBUD IS a tree that continues to fool people by its name. Not only are white flowered varieties available, but now a new pink bud. Pink Charm Redbud produces pink flowers without a trace of purple. This is an excellent small tree for a shaded location. However, because this particular variety is new its northern limit of hardiness is still to be determined.

Another small tree that is included in recent introductions is Autumn Glory, a hawthorn. It's significant for the large brilliant red fruit that persists from fall to winter.

Sunburst is a honeylocust that's been available for about twelve years. It was selected for the ability of the new growth to maintain a golden color through early summer. A companion tree is now available. Rubylace is a honeylocust with new growth that changes from bright ruby red in spring to a dark bronze green in August.

PIN OAKS have recently staged a comeback in popularity. This may be attributed almost completely to their fast growth.

Mixing Furniture? Take a Total Look

PORTEAU BY KARASTAN

Does East meet West? Will Spanish and English get along? Can the Scandinavian and Colonials mix? All these questions are being answered not by next week's installment of a television series, but by the country's most influential interior designers and the answers are generating all kinds of fun and excitement for homemakers re-doing a room or furnishing a new home.

No longer do you have to be concerned whether one piece of furniture is of exactly the same design origin as another element in the room. The basis for judgment in the selection of items for a room scheme is the total look of the room. Various pieces must be compatible of course. But compatability does not mean sameness.

Mix wood finishes, design periods, textures, patterns and colors. But just be sure the overall effect is harmonious. Even floral and geometric patterns can work together in the same room, if carefully chosen. The room must reflect a well-bred look in terms of your own social and taste standards. Naturally, you may want to lead your own social group. Fine! But be sure you stay within the bounds of your own likes and dislikes.

A GOOD example of proper mixing of styles can be demonstrated with a new wool wilton rug of Spanish design called PORTEAU. It is woven by Karastan Rug Mills and was just introduced this year. The Large medallion and border motifs, the brilliant color combinations may elicit a spontaneous "Ole!" from the most reticent of your friends.

Most interior designers today start with one large or unique element and build the color scheme and style for the room around that one factor. Many start with a rug, perfectly logical since the rug is normally the largest movable single item in the room.

EVEN though Porteau, in a 9' x 12' size (about 9'10" a 12'10" with the elaborate knitted fringe) sells for less than a color television set, it can set the tempo for a most exciting room scheme. In accordance with today's decorating trend this Spanish style rug may be judiciously co - ordinated with any of several important furniture styles.

The "country" look, whether English, French, Mediterranean or even Early American. Some semi - formal rooms would look well with Porteau, and certain severe modern effects would be nicely softened by the rug's handwoven looking texture and fringe.

The colors are worth mentioning again. They range from a stark, typically Spanish, black on white to black on peacock blue with dramatic henna and gold, self - toned reds and greens, olive and aqua in between. There are five sizes available including a six - foot round rug. The 9' x 12' is priced at $299.

Asphalt Rescues Defense Base

The waterproofing capacities of asphalt -- which are so effective in making weather-tight asphalt shingle roofing for homes -- solved a critical problem in building the North American Defense Command's underground headquarters at Colorado Springs.

Construction of the defense complex 1400 feet within Cheyenne Mountain was threatened by constant water seepage, until the walls were waterproofed with tons of asphalt.

Carpeted Models Increase Sales

A study by Practical Builder's Bureau of Building Marketing Research shows that carpeting is now included in more than 75 percent of model homes. Builders report that seven out of ten sales are made from carpeted models.

Carpeting is almost always included in living rooms, and in two-thirds of the dining rooms and bedrooms. Generally, the carpets are offered on a fixed allowance basis.

Open 46 More Sites In Elk Grove

Elk Grove Village, created by Centex Corp. just ten years ago, has a proud story to tell. The farmland turned into a booming community of 15,000 residents in a short decade and just four months ago, the firm opened up a new section of 167 sites west of the present development along Arlington Heights road.

Robert C. Winkle, sales director, announced that within just another four months, now it became necessary to open up an additional section of 46 sites because of the strong demand, a rare proof of almost popularity and tremendous acceptance.

Winkle, explaining the spectacular growth of the community, said, "Our residents buy more than a spacious quality home on a large, fully improved site, backed up by the reputation of Centex Corp., one of the nation's largest national builders.

"They buy membership in one of the nation's finest communities, with police and fire protection, new shopping centers, community house, library, swimming pool, recreational facilities, social and civic organizations, transportation. Most important, Elk Grove Village schools are ranking among the finest, serving as models for educators from all over the nation."

School District 59 built ten new grammar schools in the last five years, without raising the tax rate. High School District 214 will open up a new high school this fall in Elk Grove Village, the 5th of the area. Elk Grove Industrial Park nearby offers local job opportunities and helps carrying the tax burden. The new St. Alexius Hospital just had its dedication ceremonies in Elk Grove Village, celebrating the 100th anniversary of the opening of the first Alexian Brothers Hospital in Chicago.

If families outgrow their first home, they usually buy a second larger home, or even their third home and stay in Elk Grove Village.

Six furnished models in the $20,000 - $28,000 price range are on view, ranches, splitlevels and colonials. They feature 3 and 4 bedrooms, 1 1/2-2 1/2 baths, kitchens with breakfast areas and built-ins, most also have finished recreation rooms. Family size kitchens are complete with breakfast areas and built-ins.

A fire alarm system in the boiler rooms is a popular extra feature; it sounds a warning if the heating plant overheats or malfunctions.

"Families buying a home now for fall or later delivery, enjoy the advantage of today's firm prices, even if the cost would advance further," emphasized Winkle. "And they will not be penalized if they select a larger-then-average site today, when various sizes and locations are available."

Elk Grove Village is within a 29-minute ride to the Loop. An easy way to get there is taking tollfree Kennedy expressway to Mannheim (Rte. 45), north on Mannheim to Higgins road (Rte. 72), then west on Higgins for a few minutes. The tastefully furnished model homes are open every day from ten to eight.

Combo Door Swings With The Seasons

They had to be dug out of storage, cleaned, checked for balance and installed. In winter, the process was repeated with storm sash.

Today, most homeowners use convenient permanently-installed screen and storm wood doors with interchangeable panels of glass and screen. A few turns with a screwdriver convert the door into screen or storm sash depending on the season. Installation and maintenance are simplified.

Stock combination doors of ponderosa pine, for instance, come pre-hung with hinges, hardware and latches attached. Weatherstripping around the door edges is factory-applied, and a chemical preservative treatment protects the door against weather abuse.

Another advantage of wood combination doors is that they can be painted or stained to complement the entrance door and house exterior.

Hear A Drip, Drip, Drip? Your Toilet Needs Fixing

Toilet troubles make themselves known audibly. A toilet in good repair is seen but seldom heard. If you hear water running or dripping from the toilet bowl or toilet tank, then repairs are in order.

The most common trouble is a continuous drip or flow of water from the tank to the bowl. And this is most often caused by the tank ball which closes the outlet into the toilet bowl.

Remove the cover from the tank. Set it down carefully, someplace where it won't fall or be broken. A part such as this is difficult to replace and often requires the purchase of an entire toilet.

Flush the toilet once or twice and watch the action of the tank ball. Does it seat itself properly? Does it go all the way down or do the wire stems stick?

Turn off the water supply and empty the tank. You will find a guide for the wire stem on the overflow tube. Adjust this so the ball falls directly on the outlet, not to one side or the other.

PERHAPS the trip lever is not working properly. Work the handle a few times to check. It should work freely. If it doesn't, lubricate the brushing next to the handle or replace the lever.

The lower stem, the wire rod that screws right into the rubber ball, might be bent. Straightening may help. Otherwise, replace with a new rod. Quite often it is the tank ball itself that is at fault. These get soft after a time and water leaks past them. Replace with a new one.

If the ball is not worn and it seats itself properly into the outlet, then check the condition of the outlet. It may be dirty and gritty. Clean with steel wool or fine emery cloth.

Trouble with the tank ball or outlet is indicated when the water in the tank is below the level of the overflow tube. If, when you check the tank, you discover that the water level is above the overflow tube, the trouble is with the water supply mechanism.

THE WATER supply mechanism is called the ballcock. The water is turned on and off by a float valve. When the tank outlet is opened and the water rushed out, the float drops down, turning on the water. As the level rises, so does the float until it reaches the point where the valve is closed.

Water not only flows into the tank, it flows into the bowl by way of a refill tube that leads into the overflow tube. If the valve does not close properly, the water will continue to run into the overflow tube and into the bowl. Sometimes just bending the float rod down slightly will cure the trouble, since it will cause the float to rise higher to close the valve.

SOMETIMES the float develops a leak, becomes waterlogged. Then it doesn't come up high enough to close the valve. Buy a new float. It easily screws onto the float rod.

If it isn't the float or the float rod, then it is possible the washer in the valve plunger at the other end of the float rod. This comes apart easily; just examine it closely first. Take the part with you when you go to the hardware store, since washers differ.

If the entire ballcock is worn — when none of the above remedies affect a permanent cure — then replace it. Drain the tank, sponge out excess water and place a pail under the tank. Hold the top of the unit with one hand and use a wrench to turn the nut on the underside of the tank. Be certain to use a new gasket and washer when replacing.

Less Than One-third

Homeowners undertaking remodeling projects will spend about 30 per cent of the total cost on materials, says the Tile Council of America. The other 70 per cent represents installation costs.

Seeburg Leases In Centex

The Musical Instrument Division of Seeburg Corporation has leased a 22,500-square-foot building in Centex Industrial Park adjacent to Chicago's O'Hare International Airport for its new corporate headquarters.

Located on a 65,000-square-foot site at 2333 Arthur Avenue, Elk Grove Village, Illinois, a portion of the building will be utilized as a warehouse for Kay Musical Instruments, one of the division's operations, whose manufacturing plant is located on the same street in the nation's fastest growing industrial park.

Sole broker for the real estate transaction was Howard G. Krafsur of Bennett & Kahnweiler, developer of the 2,000-acre industrial park.

Don't call it a Cape Cod!

The term doesn't really do justice to our Greenwich model—it's a far cry from a cottage! Consider the floorplan. The ten-room version shown has over 3,000 square feet of living space. There is also an eleven-room, five-bedroom version available with over 3,300 square feet. Every interior detail of the home has been given painstaking attention; like the spacious entry foyer, with its intricately hand-laid floor of herringbone teak parquet. The family room is wood-panelled, has a beamed ceiling and a parquet floor, too. The price of the Greenwich includes the fireplace shown, all kitchen appliances, a basement and the fully improved homesite in the Sherwood section of Arlington Heights, long noted as that excellent suburb's finest neighborhood.

Youth Corps Program Gets $26,000 Grant

The summer Neighborhood Youth Corps in Dist. 214 has been approved by the federal government and a grant issued for $26,000.

Students in the program receive $1.25 an hour for their work in various departments of the schools and receive counseling service from George Theodore, program director and Donald Schroeder, a counselor.

Theodore said approximately $22,000 will be used for student salaries during the 10-week work program. Students are employed at all five Dist. 214 high schools and at the [illegible] Administration Center.

The program began June 15 and will end Aug. 23. The NYC proposal for the 1966-67 regular school year has been submitted to the Office of Economic Opportunity for approval.

THEODORE said the students work a maximum of 32 hours a week and are employed as office aides, secretaries, typists and some do landscape work. There are 16 boys and 24 girls participating this summer.

"We try to get everybody a job. The students who attend summer school can work part time. We do what we can for them and we find out where we can help through counseling. We try to have the student fit the job and not the job fit the student. We feel this is important," Theodore said.

ONE GIRL is tutoring two blind students as part of her NYC work. She is teaching them to type and helps in other areas of their work.

"The best part of the program is Mr. Theodore. He treats everybody as an individual and not as a number," she said.

Theodore said transportation is the biggest problem. The NYC program has a limited transportation budget and it isn't always possible for students to work in the high school they attend. Theodore and his staff often transports the students to their jobs.

The NYC program in Dist. 214 was started in October, 1965.

Nathan Hale, American patriot, was executed as a spy by the British on Sept. 22, 1776.

One doesn't have to be president to be eminently successful. Whatever your job is, chances are you view it about the same way we consider the job of building a home.
We make no effort at all to be America's fastest builder. Or the cheapest, and certainly we will never be the biggest. When a builder has a very high regard for excellence, he can't be any of these things, because each of these goals means compromise in one form or another.
For a very limited time, we still have 5 3/4% Conventional Financing available for homes in CAMBRIDGE.
There's one thing about success that results from being a little bit better. Such success is likely to last; since there's never enough excellence to satisfy the people who require it, the demand for it is exceptionally stable.
But you've found that out, just as we have. And that's why we think you'd like our homes. Live the casual, gracious CAMBRIDGE way, where you live every day of your life.

Library Board Pays $142,060 For New Site

Euclid-Dunton Property Deal Finally Closed

BY JIM ROSS

After months of negotiation, the Arlington Heights Library Board Wednesday night signed contracts for the purchase of the land needed for the new Arlington Heights Memorial Library.

The two parcels will be bought for a total of $142,060 which is some $27,560 over the figure allotted for the purchase in the Jan. 8 referendum.

Marlin Smith, acting attorney for the board in the absence of Jack Siegel, presented the board with contracts signed by the owners of the two parcels.

The property at 506 N. Dunton, owned by Alan Bray, will be purchased for $67,060. Property at 512 N. Dunton, owned by Rosalie Heller, will cost the Library Board $75,000.

BOARD member Norval Stephens said that, with contracts signed, earnest money will be delivered to the sellers today. The action was greeted with feelings of relief and satisfaction by board members.

Head Librarian Mary Ewalt said the negotiations took such a long time it is hard to believe the purchase is completed.

"It's wonderful to finally get it off the ground," she said. "Now I feel like we are really getting something done."

To finance the new facility the Village Board has approved the sale of $1,425,000 in general obligation library bonds. The opening and awarding of bids on the bonds will be held in the Municipal Building July 5 at 8 p.m.

THE LIBRARY Board instructed Board President Florence Hendrickson to execute an application for federal funds for assistance in the construction of the library under Title II of the Library Service and Construction Act.

The application is to show the total preliminary estimated construction cost of the facility as more than $1,825,000.

The board is to meet within a week to approve the application.

Finally, the board instructed Smith to prepare an analysis of the method by which it may apply for a federal grant for the purchase of books under Title I of the Library Service and Construction Act.

NO DEFINITE date has been set for beginning of construction but the hope was voiced by board members that a start could be made during the present construction season.

The board has made no decision as to the disposal of the buildings on the newly-aquired land.

$4 Million Budget for Dist. 25

A preliminary educational fund budget calling for appropriations of $4,015,412 for school year 1966-67 has been approved by the Dist. 25 Board of Education.

Supt. R. E. Clabaugh said the total proposed appropriations are $673;114.50 greater than appropriations for 1965-66, but he added that local appropriations have remained relatively stable.

"Much of the increase in this year's appropriations is the result of federal and state grants received by the district," he said. "The resulting programs are self - supporting and do not add to local costs."

CLABAUGH said that an estimated total of $1,528,800 will be received by Dist. 25 through various governmental grants in 1966-67.

Total estimated receipts for the 1966-67 educational fund were given at $4,016,450 by Clabaugh in his report to the board.

The two largest areas of receipts, according to the estimated figures, are funds from governmental divisions, $1,629,656, and taxes, [illegible] 000.

$694,000 Dividend To Savers

Arlington Heights Federal savers will receive an anticipated $694,000 in dividends June 30. The largest semi - anaual dividend payment ever paid by the association, the disbursement represents the 27th consecutive earnings payment to customers since 1953.

Paul E. Collins, president of Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Assn. reported that this dividend payment represents an increase of 7 per cent over December 31, 1965 and is 11 per cent greater than paid one year ago in, June of 1965.

Arlington Heights Federal Savings announced in May an increase in the dividend rate from 4 1/4 per cent to 4 1/2 per cent, effective July 1.

Roundup For The Day

By United Press International

Fewer U.S. Casualties Last Week

SAIGON -- U.S. casualties in the Viet Nam war dropped sharply last week. A U.S. spokesman in Saigon said they were down by almost 50 percent, reflecting a general lull last week in the fighting. Seventy-nine U.S. servicemen were killed last week and another 567 wounded. In contrast 175 South Vietnamese, and 928 Viet Cong were killed.

Pentagon May Buy British Bombs

LONDON -- Britain is said to be negotiating the sale to the United States of large quantities of rockets, bombs and other military armament that could be used in Viet Nam. A Defense Ministry source says in London that talks will open there tomorrow between ministry officials and a Pentagon official on the purchase of a wide range of British military hardware for the American armed forces.

De Gaulle Going to Siberia

MOSCOW -- French President Charles De Gaulle takes leave of the conference table today to set out on a one-week, 6,000 mile flying tour of the Soviet Union. The tour will first take him to a vast new industrial metropolis of more than one million persons deep in Siberia. De Gaulle's tour probably will take him to one of the Kremlin's most closely guarded secrets, a rocket launching base in Central Asia.

Ah, Good News

by Catherine O'Donnell

It was good news for Michael Barton of S. Windsor, whose marriage to Sue Lamay was held at the bride's home parish, Our Lady of Perpetual Help, in Glenview last Saturday. Mike had just learned that he had received a National Defense Education Fellowship for graduate work toward his doctorate at Washington University in St. Louis.

Mike graduated earlier this month from the University of Chicago with a Bachelor of Economics degree. The young couple will live in St. Louis when they return from their wedding trip.

Just Ask Pop

Not many men bring their fathers with them when they go to work, but Al Brill of Arlington Heights All Appliance does just that.

His father, George, is a retired local farmer, who knows the surrounding area like the back of his hand. With him along, Al never gets lost.

Before coming to Arlington Heights, George was a rancher in Colorado, where he lived through the dust bowl and the depression. Al and his dad make one of the most interesting work teams in the city.

Now or Never

The word is out among the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders that this is the week to sign up for the Arlington Park District Area Parks' Soft Ball Baseball League.

This is a chance for the boys who did not feel like playing baseball earlier in the season to begin now. There's plenty of competition games scheduled for the rest of the summer.

Register with the instructor on the playground nearest to your home.

Quiet Weekend?

The St. James Bridge Club bridged the gap between windy Arlington Heights and Windy Acres, Monroe, Mich., for fun, last weekend.

Windy Acres is a resort center owned and operated by Jack and Pat Eiserman, formerly of Arlington Heights, who now live in Michigan with their thirteen children.

The Bridge Club has twelve couples; eleven went to Michigan. They included Al and Betty Rose, who made a quick return trip back to Glenview for a Saturday wedding, and Judge Robert and Pat Buckley, who separated on Saturday, when the Judge had to hear 105 traffic cases in the County Circuit Court at Schaumburg.

They were all back together in Michigan on that same evening in time to help three other couples from the group celebrate wedding anniversaries.

It was the 23rd for Paul and Fran Colianni, the third for Jack and Noreen Bextel and for Wallace and Ruth Milnamow.

Others in the Bridge Club are Jim and Sue Murphy, Dan and Betty Krebsbach, Jim and Lollie McDonald, Bob and Rosemary Esbensen, George and Carmella Berry and Bob and Florence Rankin. The unexcused absentees were Judge Walter and Mary Dahl.

Also at Windy Acres were Gene and Margaret Schlickman, who had slipped away for a quiet weekend, they thought.

Inspectors File Charges Against DiMucci

The Arlington Heights Building Commissioner has signed complaints of building violations against Salvator DiMucci Sr., a Mount Prospect Builder.

Harold C. Best said the complaints stem from DiMucci's refusal to allow him to inspect a farmhouse at 201 Golf Rd.

Best said the building, which is in a recently annexed portion of the village, is being used by DiMucci to store lumber and building material.

"This may be allowable under county zoning regulations," he said, "but it is a violation of the village code."

Best said he went to inspect the lot with one of his inspectors Friday and was refused admittance to the property.

"They are doing some sort of work there," Best said, "but I don't know what kind. They claim they sustained storm damage during the recent tornado and are repairing it. This may be so, but they refused to let me in to see."

DiMucci was served with a summons to appear in Arlington Heights Circuit Court on June 29.

Meetings Called On Pollution Control Plans

The Illinois Sanitary Water Board has filed a letter of intent with the Federal Water Pollution Control activities to set standards of water quality criteria.

Under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act of 1965, all states are required to adopt water quality criteria for interstate waters before July, 1967.

Public hearings scheduled by the board for this year, are: lower Lake Michigan, July 14, American Legion Hall, Chicago Heights; upper Lake Michigan, July 15, Public Library, Waukegan; Illinois River, August 25, County Office Building, Pekin; Ohio River, September 8, Metropolis; Wabash River, November 18, Lawrenceville; upper Mississippi, October 21, Moline; lower Mississippi, November 17, City Council Chamber, East St. Louis.

Notices of the public hearings are being prepared for all interested participants and will be mailed in June. Notices will include foundation criteria for study.

Information concerning the hearings can be obtained from C. W. Klassen, technical secretary, Illinois Sanitary Water Board, Springfield.

View of Dempster St., looking toward Illinois 83, shows the need for sidewalks that will be installed by the board of education of School Dist. 59. Bids for the work are being sought.

Dempster Jr. High To Get Sidewalks - - Well, Almost

BY JAN BONE

School Dist. 59 plans to install a sidewalk on the north side of Dempster from Dempster Junior High east to the Standard Station on Route 83. Bids on this are out now.

Mount Prospect Park District and School Dist. 59 are working out a co-operative plan to install a sidewalk from Sycamore Ln. and Linneman to Dempster Junior High.

WAYNE A. Little, chairman of the Special Projects Committee on Sidewalks, said that several areas where sidewalks are needed are being discussed with the city of Des Plaines. These are:

--The south side of Cordial Ln. in the Devonshire School area, where 200 feet of sidewalk is needed

--The north side of Dempster from Route 83 east to Marshall, in the Dempster Junior High School area

--Short lengths of proposed sidewalk on the east side of Route 83 from Miller Road south to Dempster, also near Dempster Junior High

SIDEWALKS near Devonshire School and Forest View Elementary School are still under study. An area on the northeast corner of Oakton and Route 83 near Devonshire, now without sidewalks, is unincorporated.

J. C. Clemans, buildings and grounds director, told The Day that Dist. 59 plans to extend its sidewalk in front of the Forest View Elementary School east on Estates Drive to connect with sidewalks in front of homes adjacent to the school.

Planners Approve 4-Lot Plat

The Plan Commission approved a preliminary plat of subdivision for four lots to be developed as part of the Catino subdivision last night. The builders recently acquired the Panke property on the southwest corner of Kirchoff Rd. and Kennicott.

The board granted a minor variance on the frontage of three lots which are three feet short of the stipulated 70-foot frontage. The actual square footage of the two-acre site exceeds the planning ordinance.

THE BUILDER is scheduled to appear before the Board of Trustees July 5 for approval of the preliminary tract.

Robert Ryan, who was scheduled to have a hearing last night on R-5 multiple family dwelling units on the Pingle & Hildebrand property, did not appear.

The meeting adjourned after one hour.

Some Day

. . . by Frank E. Von Arx

The Des Plaines Suburban Times has joined the Chicago Tribune and Some Day in the campaign for Slichenmyer High School.

On June 16 the Times had an 8-column banner: "Would (You) Believe Maud Frickert High School? The story by assistant editor Darlene Mitchell went on for 16 paragraphs reporting names entered by students in the school board's name contest.

The story listed 65 names besides Frickert that were mentioned by students. Not once did it mention Slichenmyer.

This kind of support is hard to beat. On top of that, the story ran on Page 13.

The campaign keeps rolling, but so far the accepted influence has not made up its mind on which side of the Slichenmyer fence people should be influenced.

When the school board invited students to submit names it warned them that the winner would h a v e his or her name on a plaque in the new school. That explains some of the entries like Alcatraz and Hell's Little Acre. What respectable kid would want his name engraved permanently on a school building.

There is also a rumor that the school board will not put the Slichenmyer name in four-foot neon lights across the front of the Slichenmyer Administration Center on Kensington Rd.

This is like hiding your candle under a basket. If Chicago had a superintendent who could build high schools as fast as Slichenmyer, it would change the name of Michigan Av.

If a state such as Idaho could match the Slichenmyer record it would c h a n g e the name of the state capital.

Instead of the neon lights, the school board is talking about a plaque inside the administration building. This would prove unservicable for a man who wanted to take his son over to the historic building at 2 a.m. Board meetings are usually over by 1:30 and the building is locked.

It also would be impossible for youngsters on a family picnic on Sunday to go up and run their fingers across the bronze.

The four-foot neon letters would be better. They would be a homing beacon for all the kids the school system is sending out to fight the world.

Vantage Point

. . . by Jack Vandermyn

We have often been critical of over-lenient traffic courts because we believe strict law enforcement and stiff punishment of violators is a real deterrent to motor vehicle accidents.

The National Safety Council holds the same opinion and campaigns for tough traffic law enforcement in all areas, but especially against drunken drivers.

One program sponsored by the courts of Cook County deserves mention because it is combining strict enforcement with a practical approach. That program is the Municipal Court Driver Improvement School.

The school is completing 10 years of operation and has trained or re-trained nearly 100,000 motorists.

IF IMITATION is indeed the sincerest form of flattery, the Chicagoland traffic school is a great success. It has been emulated in 187 cities of 33 states and 14 foreign countries.

The American Bar Assn. labels the school as, "the best of its kind in the United States."

The theory behind the traffic school is retraining of errant drivers rather than punishment. Both traffic offenders and those who desire to improve their driving skill through professional training attend classes. There is no distinction made in classroom situations between violators and volunteers.

Both receive the same intensified training and the only difference is one is attending because of court action, the other because of a genuine interest in traffic safety.

A LUNCHEON commemorating the 10th anniversary of the school will be held in Chicago's Sherman House Hotel on Wednesday, June 29.

Guests at this anniversary luncheon will include Chief Judge John S. Boyle of the circuit court, Eugene L. Wachowski, presiding judge of the municipal court, Felix M. Buoscio, supervising judge of traffic court and Dr. Arthur L. Conrad, operating director of the traffic school.

Judge Raymond P. Drymalski, former chief justice of the municipal court of Chicago, started the traffic school as a means of re-educating violators in October, 1955. On Jan. 6, 1964, the traffic school was placed under the jurisdiction of the first municipal division of the circuit court under Judge Boyle.

INSTRUCTORS at the school, which has about 65 per cent of its students "referred" to it by the courts, are Chicago police officers.

The 13 teachers are assigned by Superintendent O. W. Wilson to the safety education division of the police department and their full time assignment in the traffic school.

Traffic school has become too big a thing to be confined to one location in Chicago. Students attend four two hour sessions at either the central administration building of the police department in downtown Chicago or one of the outlying locations at Lakeview, Vocational, Carl Shurz, Austin or Bogan High Schools.

For motorists who have a language communications problem, classes are conducted in both Spainsh and Polish. A special course for deaf persons was started in 1963 and more than 500 have attended.

These certificates, in the case of court assigned students, are their permits to return behind the wheel without the stigma of a traffic violators record--the first time.

Traffic school is rapidly changing its image of being a punishment for violators. Often, entire groups of people, many backed by civic and fraternal groups, sign up for the four-week courses, offering school officials encouragement that the general public is becoming more safety conscious.

We will continue to press for strict enforcement of traffic regulations. We are happy to make this report on a system that educates, instead of punishes. We agree that education is equally as important as enforcement to curb the tremendous accident and death rate on our nation's highways.

Names From The Past

Tracing the History of Local Streets

BY BETTY AINSLIE

A rutted trail meets with another horse and wagon lane -- they cross and at the crossing a farm takes root. Other grants of land are offered by the United States Government to entice pioneers to settle this state of Illinois. A town is formed and those paths and lanes suddenly are roads to be named.

Maybe a road passes through a grove of maples or a forest of pines, the founding fathers may name the village streets after the trees common in town, a favorite college or use some family names -- names of early settlers who were instrumental in the town's planning.

In the beginning Arlington Heights was named Dunton, a town that was barely eight blocks long and four wide. Earlier this town's pioneers planned to call this village Bradley but discovered there was another Bradley, Illinois so the name Dunton held until the town spread north of Euclid and suddenly the people demanded a better sounding name for their fast growing town. Arlington had a nice sound, they felt, but there was another Arlington in the state so Heights was added to complete the name in 1874.

DUNTON is a street right in the heart of town and was named after a William Dunton -- the same man who planned, plotted and devised the community.

In 1836 Asa Dunton, with his two sons William and James and daughter Ellen, had taken a claim near a settlement known as West Wheeling. Asa was a stonemason from New York and needing money went to Lemont to work in a stone quarry.

The Dunton family spent their first winter in Deer Grove which was a fairly large settlement then. The law stated a man must live on his claim for five years before it was his own so they returned to their large claim.

William built the first frame house in Arlington Heights area on Hintz Rd. and James built a home on Arlington Heights Rd. just north of Euclid.

FOR A short time Dunton Street was called Mitchell because of a disagreement by an early landholder by the name of Mitchell and Dunton. Later when the town spread Mitchell had a street named after him which ran through the property he owned.

Another family name used in street naming was Kennicott. Dr. Kennicott had established a home in Portage Grove. Seems in the early days Lake Michigan was much larger and there were groves of trees extending into the water. This grove portage was what early explorers used to go from river to river -- from the Chicago river to the Des Plaines river for example. What was once known as Portage Grove is approximately 10 miles from Chicago on Milwaukee Avenue.

All early settlements were located in groves of trees as the settlers needed the trees for wood for homes and for fire.

THIS DR. Kennicott had a great interest in trees and often carried a small sapling with him when he called on a patient, leaving the tree behind to be planted by the family. It was Dr. Kennicott who established the Prairie Farmer and he owned over 1,000 acres in this area.

It was his son Robert who became the famous Kennicott. Robert was rather frail and spent a good deal of time outdoors and became interested in beetles and bugs. In fact the museum at Northwestern and the Chicago Museum were started with some of the things he collected.

Robert was sent to Alaska to survey the resources of that country for the government and actually it was his findings which influenced the government in purchasing Alaska.

TWO OTHER Kennicotts were also the first dentists in Chicago. Joseph Kennicott, following in his forefathers footsteps also loved nature and established one of the first plant nurseries in the area. He married Mary Mason who was the daughter of the first circuit rider who helped establish the Methodist Church in Arlington Heights. Joseph built his home at Vail and Euclid.

Rand Road was named after Socratm Rand who was an old settler and got the railroad -- then known as Illinois and Wisconsin -- to come through Arlington Heights and go as far as Cary.

The majority of the streets were named after a developer of that piece of property or possibly a famous family.

MITCHELL was an early settler with money who built a big house on his land. Thomas is believed to be named after Thomas Allison who had a large holding -- in fact it was the Allison house that was torn down to make room for the Insurance Company that built recently on North Arlington Heights Road. Olive is believed to be named after Thomas Allison's daughter-in-law.

Miner was an early family name. A revolutionary war veteran, Erin Miner settled here in 1834 with his son Fred. Actually many of the early settlers lived in the Elk Grove area, but held land that was later incorporated into Arlington Heights. Erin's son was a doctor and evidently business in the medicine line was anything but brisk so he was also a mail post rider.

Arlington Heights Rd., formerly State Road was an old post road. Busse was named after a prominent family many descendants of which still live in this area.

HADDOW was called after a promoter who developed that area -- many streets are named after the promoter or friends of the promoter.

Yale, Harvard, Princeton were namesakes of the Universities. Pine, Walnut, Elm, Chestnut, Hickory, Hawthorne, Evergreen, were selected after the many trees found there. Evergreen, for a short period of time was called Prairie and a two flat building on this street torn down recently was the old Prairie Hotel.

History does repeat itself -- not about naming streets but the first elected Mayor of our town was also a John Wood -- minus the s.

to the 500,000 star-spangled Americans who work for this country's security without pay

Though you rarely see them, there are about ½ million patriotic Americans who will help you buy Bonds. Have been, since the first Series E Savings Bond was issued 25 years ago.

Your banker, for instance. He'll give you folders and facts, issue your Bonds, make certain they're properly registered, cash them when the time comes.

Your employer and thousands of other employers who have set up the Payroll Savings Plan are also on the team. So are the officials of your union who have endorsed Bonds.

There are many others. Like your neighbor, the advertising man, and the radio, TV, poster, magazine and newspaper people he works with.

All of these volunteers work for the Bond program without pay.

Home Sweet Home

Americans are undoubtedly the movingest people on the Earth. According to the Census Bureau, no less than 37.9 million of us -- more than 20 per cent of the total population -- were living at a different address in March than 12 months earlier.

The most moves of all during this one year period occurred in the West. Twenty-seven per cent of the population in this area pulled up stakes and planted them elsewhere.

For the other major regions, the figures were: South, 23 per cent; North Central, 18 per cent; Northeast, 15 per cent.

If these figures are hard to believe, think back at the number of different addresses you have had and the number of new neighbors that have shared your block.

Despite these statistics, we are not quite as nomadic as we appear on the Census Bureau reports. The majority of people who moved did so within the county of their previous residence. Three and one half per cent moved to another county in the same state and only 3.3 per cent moved between states.

According to a savings and loan association survey, Arlington Heights remained in the lead in home building among Cook County suburbs. Mount Prospect shows up well in the statistics, too.

As more and more building is done, more and more people move. We were recently told that one subdivision had nearly a 100 per cent change in population in just 14 months.

Yes, we are a moving people. And whatever the reason for our continuing change of address, it makes for a moving economy. Builders and Realtors are kept busy satisfying our moods, and many others are just as busy trying to keep track of us.

All of this makes home sweet, wherever it is.

Letters to the Editor

The following letter was much too long to qualify as a "gripe". But it well worth printing as a Letter to the Editor.

Peace a Thing of the Past

Editor:

In response to your request for gripes, I find it impossible to write about my major gripe in 25 words or less. So the following is my essay for your review.

Why is it that our residential streets have turned into major speedways? As our street conditions improve, and are widened for increasing traffic, the careless and negligent driver takes over.

In this day of our high-powered automobile and rapid transportation highways, the peaceful and tranquil neighborhood streets are a thing of the past. Traffic that cruises through residential streets somehow cannot condition themselves that they are no longer on the super-highways.

I do not mean to imply that speeds of 70 miles per hour are being daily driven on my street, even though this may seem the case to me. The problem, it seems, is that the thoughtless driver believes he can travel the maximum speed limit, no matter what the conditions.

Posted speed limits are usually 20 or 25 MPH. Unfortunately, either of these speeds or less can maim or kill an innocent child if the driver is careless and willfully negligent.

This type of driver feels that the law is on his side because he happens to be traveling near the legal maximum speed, without a care in the world for the response time of a child's legs.

What does it take to convince people that an automobile traveling even at 20 MPH is no match for a child in its path. I have seen cars traveling through a street loaded with children, driving at our so-called legal speed, blowing their horns, without even making an effort to slow down.

I stopped one teen-ager in his sports car this evening by asking him to slow down as he approach a group of children.

His only comment was, "I was driving at 20 MPH, which is the speed limit."

He invited me to call the police to contest this.

This brazen attitude of willful negligence on the part of this driver has no lawful solution. All I can maintain is that our supposedly peaceful streets are as deadly as any major super-highway. I can only demand strict obedience from my own children, that stay off the streets, and hope that the balance of my neighbors do the same.

I propose that there are two solutions to this problem. The first is that all parents train their children to stay off the streets, no matter how serene their supposedly peaceful residential street may seem. The second solution is a guarded vigilance on the part of every driver, fully aware that the vehicle he commands is a deadly weapon.

It appears that the second solution, as far as the young drivers in this village are concerned, has somehow failed. Some young drivers that I have seen in this village have little or no respect for human life.

At this point, I plead for driver sanity and parental awareness of present conditions.

Make Certain You Shape Up

Bare Is Not Always Beautiful

BY JERILYN WATSON
Woman's Editor

Skin – if you believe the fashion designers – is in.

But if you're not trim, remember that the bare isn't always the beautiful.

In beachwear, the look for this summer is classic knit with strategically placed cut-outs. On the dance floor, it's daringly slashed bolero tops showing midriff, sides and back or triangular cut-outs on the fitted bodice of a long gown slit far up the sides.

Not counting cave ladies, the bare look we're seeing this year began about 10 years ago in Europe with the bikini. "Another French folly," it was called.

Only the girl with a beautiful, trim figure should be caught in one of these daring gowns.

But sometimes yesterday's folly becomes tomorrow's fashion. The bikini did.

THE FIRST timid inroads in America were made in the last two years at a few avant-garde beaches.

The harbinger of what we'll see this summer came on strong during the winter resort season at such Caribbean playgrounds as Condado Beach in San Juan and St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands.

In those spots, bathers couldn't find the sand for all the bikinis – and summer at home is supposed to be just as bare.

Bold young things will carry the bare look to the patio in see-through lace dresses and will play at sports in bikini-cut togs. Day-time fashions will carry out the look with cut-outs and see-throughs in clear vinyl.

But – can we all wear the bare look?

The answer, of course, is no. If there's just a bit more of you than there should be, forget it. The most you can manage is a low back or plunging neckline.

CUT-OUTS call for a slender figure and good legs. Hoisted hemlines do nothing for knobby or chubby knees. And bikinis are for the favored few with firm, youthful bodies that don't battle the bulge.

Another word of caution: if you have a fairly good figure it's easy to be fooled about bikinis in a regular mirror. Before you buy one, stand before a three-way, full-length mirror and fix a narrow eye on every curve.

You'll find that chubby women aren't the only ones who should treat the bikini as off-limits. The slender girl who is pencil-like rather than curvy probably will decide that she's no candidate for a teeny-tiny bathing suit.

THE slender girl who has a few bulges here and there won't look good in a bikini either.

The critical point to remember is that although you may get whistles at home, you won't have the undergarments you wear with a sheath dress on the beach. And even the smallest midriff bulge will look twice its size if bordered top and bottom with two wisps of brightly colored bikini.

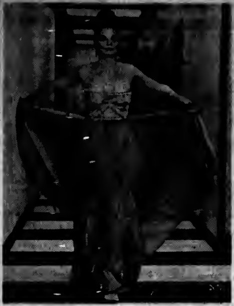
What shape are you in?

Whether or not you go for the season's fashions depends on how you bare up.



On the left is a formal by Veneziani of Milan with daringly slashed top and a pleated cerise chiffon skirt. The gown (above) by Valentino of Rome has crystal jeweling on the bodice, which features a triangular cut-out. (NEA Photos)

Should you or shouldn't you? If you look like the girls on the left, go ahead. But the blonde on the right would be better off in a traditional one-piece suit with a cinched waist.

Recipe for Puppets To Keep Child Busy

Sift together the basic ingredients of paste, sticks, fabric, and buttons, add a dash of imagination, and you have the recipe for puppets your children can make themselves.

Children can have hours of summer fun creating the easy-to-make puppets and writing their own scrips for backyard shows.

Puppet heads may be made from the tops of containers. Draw faces on the side of the container or on a piece of cardboard pasted on the container.

FOR A stick puppet, cut a hole in the base of the container and insert a stick about eight inches long and 3/4 inches in diameter. Secure the stick with glue around the opening and let it dry for about an hour.

Then cover the stick with about 1/2-yard of material, wound from the top down at a single angle. A light film of glue at the top and along the stick will hold the material in place.

The puppet becomes a policeman, cowboy or clubwoman just by a change of hat, any of which can be made of styrofoam, stiff paper or scrapts of felt and ribbon.

TO MAKE a hand puppet, you will need a container for the head and about 1/2-yard of material for the costume.

The pattern for the costume measures nine inches from neck to hem, 12 inches from fingertip to fingertip and 5 1/2 inches at the waistline. The front and back are stitched together at the sides. Container and costume are held together with an all-purpose glue.

Children with active minds will enjoy making puppets like those shown here, which can be assembled quickly by youngsters with a little help from Mom.

Buttons, beads and sequins become the eyes and decoration for most puppets, and pink felt can be used for mouth and hands.

Remember that the puppeteer's hand and arm are covered at least halfway to the elbow and the fingers must be free to manipulate the puppet.

Teens and Parents

"The Single Parent and Teen-agers" will be the discussion topic at a meeting of the Northwest Suburban Chapter of Parents without Partners to be held at 8:15 p.m. Friday, June 24 in the Bank of Rolling Meadows.

Members will form discussion groups to share experiences of single parents of teen-agers. Refreshments will be served.

Imperfect Vision in Youngsters

W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Few people realize that 25 per cent of children of preschool age have imperfect vision. Often this is correctible when it is discovered early but, since the preschool child has no way of knowing what his vision should be, he cannot tell you he needs help.

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness therefore urges all parents to have tests made of their children's vision before they are three years old.

Even the child who appears to have excellent vision may be seeing with only one eye. Because the brain of the cross-eyed child receives a double image he learns to ignore one image and concentrate on the other. This weakens the vision in the eye supplying the ignored image — a condition called lazy-eye blindness.

But crossed eyes are not the only cause of a double image. Refractive errors and muscle imbalance not severe enough to cause crossed eyes are others. Unless the condition is treated in the first few years of life it cannot be remedied.

Some clues to poor vision in your preschool child are squinting, scowling, blinking, frequent stumbling, reaching for an object and missing it, lack of interest in distant objects, rubbing the eyes, holding a picture book too close and looking at things with one eye closed or the head tilted.

It is a mistake, however, in the absence of any of these signs to assume that your child has good binocular vision.

Most slight defects discovered at an early age can be corrected by exercises designed to strengthen the weak eye, mainly by the use of prisms or by covering the stronger eye a large part of each day.

Legion Nine Bakes Fifth 'Victory Cake'

BY GARY YEAST

Arlington Heights Legion team had the winning recipe yesterday as it topped its fifth league opponent in as many starts.

The big Blue shut out Palatine, 5-0 at William Fremd High School.

ARLINGTON WILL PLAY Mount Prospect, the only other undefeated team in the league, Friday night at the Prospect High School diamond. Jerry Donahue is tentatively scheduled to start for the state champs.

Arlington used two main ingredients in yesterday's triumph: the pitching of John (Honey Bear) Freidl and the hitting of Mike Fink and John Loughman.

FREIDL PITCHED the entire seven innings giving up six hits and three walks. His shutout was almost taken away in the first when he gave up back-to-back singles and a walk to load the bases. But he pitched his way out of the jam and mentioned to a teammate afterwards, "I just wanted to give them some confidence."

After the game Freidl said, "For once my curve was doing what I wanted it to, and that helped a lot." But, Coach Lloyd Meyer saved the day for Freidl when he noticed a flaw in the righthander's delivery. Meyer said he could tell Freidl was not following through with his body. Freidl corrected his motion and finished the game.

THE FROSTING on the cake was provided by home runs by Fink and Loughman. Fink's two-run homer was charged to starter Irv Hahnfcloti of Palatine.

Jim Jorgenson had walked earlier and with two out, the blast came. Up until that time, Hainfcloti's knuckle ball had handled the Arlington crew with ease. Starting the fourth Hainfcloti stuck out a half dozen Legionaires with the floater.

LOUGHMAN'S SOLO homer came in the seventh with the Big Blue leading 4-0. Haiafcloti served a fast ball to Loughman, and he lashed it over the center fielder's head.

Meyer's crew also scored in two other innings, the fifth and sixth. Mark Newman walked, advanced to third on a wild pitch, and came home on a single by Jim Jorgenson in the fifth.

Rolfs Fires 36 In Twilight Golf

Wayne Rolfs fired a two-over par 36 Tuesday to capture the low gross honor in the Rob Roy Twilight Golf League.

Rolfs shared the evening's top honors with Clare Reed whose 39-8--31 was good for the low net prize. Reed also won the league's closet to pin award on the fourth hole, while Burt Castile came closest on the twelfth.

richard KINNEMAN

HEAD BASKETBALL COACH AT PROSPECT HIGH SCHOOL, HAS EARNED RECOGNITION AS HIGH SCHOOL COACH OF THE YEAR FROM THE DAY PUBLICATIONS, INCLUDING THE ARLINGTON DAY, THE PROSPECT DAY, AND THE MARKET DAY.

KINNEMAN, WHOSE 1965-66 KNIGHTS WON 21 GAMES AGAINST 5 LOSSES, HAS COACHED BASKETBALL AT PROSPECT FOR SIX YEARS. HIS TEAM WON THE PONTIAC HOLIDAY TOURNAMENT IN DECEMBER, AND WENT ON TO SHARE THE MID-SUBURBAN LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP WITH FOREST VIEW. THE KNIGHTS WON THEIR OWN REGIONAL TOURNAMENT, BUT BOWED OUT OF THE ARLINGTON SECTIONAL AFTER A LOSS TO POWERFUL NEW TRIER.

IN ADDITION, HE COACHED THE PROSPECT FRESHMAN'S BASEBALL TEAM TO A 5-3 RECORD, WINNING THE UNOFFICIAL MID-SUBURBAN LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Coach of the Year

Honor Dick Kinneman

Richard Kinneman, head basketball coach at Prospect High School, has earned recognition as High School Coach of the Year from the Day Publications, including the Arlington Day, the Prospect Day, and the Market Day.

Kinneman, whose 1965-66 Knights won 21 games against five losses, has coached basketball at Prospect for six years but resigned from the post to resume his cage coaching duties last fall.

His team won the prestigious Pontiac Holiday Tournament in December, and went on to share the Mid-Suburban League championship with Forest View.

The Knights won their own regional tournament title, but bowed out of the Arlington Sectional after a loss to powerful New Trier, which went on to win the sectional and supersectional crowns enroute to the state tourney quarterfinal round in Champaign.

In addition to his basketball responsibilities this year, he coached the Prospect freshman B baseball team to a 5-3 record, winning the unofficial Mid-Suburban League championship.

Recognition as High School Coach of the Year is accorded Kinneman this week in lieu of the Day's usual feature, Athlete of the Week.

The Athlete of the Week selection will resume next Thursday. All area athletes are eligible for nomination as Athlete of the Week, and the Day invites reader nominations.

Nominations should be made at our Arlington Heights office by 5 p.m. Monday on the week of publication. They may be made anonymously.

Pros Get 3 From Big 10

Three of the Big Ten's top baseball stars have been signed to professional contracts this year.

Detroit has signed Michigan's Bob Reed, an all-league pitcher in 1966. Reed equaled a conference record with six victories and led the league with 53 innings, 10 appearances and 47 strikeouts. The Wolverine junior compiled a sparkling 1.53 earned run average.

The Chicago Cubs have claimed Illinois junior Jerry Szukala. Szukala hit .277 this season and was a third-team pick on the all-conference roster.

Jeff DeNeff of Indiana completes the list. His .308 average earned him the third base spot on the all-conference second team. A sophomore, DeNeff signed with California.

A total of 30 Big Ten players have been named in the major league's free-agent draft, and 18 of them have eligibility remaining.

Keeping Score

THERE IS MORE to holding a golf tournament than calling up Arnie Palmer and Billy Casper and inviting them over to take some of your money.

If you doubt this, ask George Hoban of Arlington Heights, the president of Medinah Country Club.

Medinah's No. 3 course, nicknamed the Big Bear more out of frustration than affection, is the site of the 1966 Western Open that began this morning.

Actually, today's first tee-off is an anti-climax. The tournament really began about 14 months ago. That's when the work started that will make the few days of competion pleasant and smoothly run.

THE FIRST STEP, says Hoban, is getting members' approval. "You can't expect to please everybody all the time," he says, "and we didn't get 100 percent. But if there was any doubt in anyone's mind whether this tournament is a worthwhile charitable event, it was dispelled last fall when the Evans Scholars Foundation had its award dinner at Medinah. Those kids were wonderful. There wasn't a beatnik or a rough-neck in the crowd, and we all were proud of them."

The Evans Scholars Foundation is the primary beneficiary of the Western Open. The foundation has some 560 college students under its program on scholarships. The recipients are former caddies.

The 14 months between approval and this weekend's tourney have been shortened by the activity necessary to put on the show. The work on the course itself has been monumental. Though there are two slightly bare spots on the seventh and 12th holes, the course has been described by the pros playing it as "beautifully conditioned" and "gorgeous."

THE SPECTATORS have been provided for completely. There are 137 telephones installed around the course, along with 12 refreshment stands and 27 portable rest rooms.

A first aid station has been set up with ambulance service, and half a dozen walkie - talkie units are disbursed so that no one is more than two or three minutes from medical help.

Bleachers have been set up 17th tee and the 18th green, and either of these places, plus the Halfway House on No. 3, provide the best spots for the fan who prefers to station himself in one place than trundle after the different golfers.

Approximately 350 of the Medinah club members are working on the tournament with duties ranging from score keeping to car-parking.

The club's women -- 150 strong -- are serving as scorers, drivers, registrars, and hostesses. A fleet of 40 Oldsmobiles have been provided to whisk the golfers from the club to their motels and back, and there is even an official Western Open service station for gassing the buggies.

THE WESTERN GOLF Association, of course, supplies more personnel than the club does, and has taken over one wing of the club house for its offices during the tournament. The W.G.A. sponsors the tourney and takes care of all arrangements other than those made by the club itself.

The W.G.A. has a reputation for being strict, ranging from ousting gate - crashers to enforcing punctuality. Guards were told to keep everyone out of the club grounds Monday, and took their orders seriously. It took a couple of hours early Monday to straighten things out, and some of the members of the club had ruffled feathers after being told they couldn't come in.

Just as strict were the starting times for Monday's qualifying round. One pro drove into Chicago from California late Sunday night and made the mistake of not taking a dry-run trip out to the club from his loop hotel.

Traffic and detours held him up the next morning, and he missed his starting time by 20 minutes. He was disqualified and went home with nothing to show for the trip but some thinner tires.

Just about all the big names in golf are in the tourney, with the only notable exceptions being Jack Nicklaus and Sam Snead.

SNEAD IS INVOLVED in some kinds of a commercial arrangement with a tire manufacturer that couldn't be postponed this week, and the tourney officials are understanding his situation. They're not so jolly about Nicklaus' absence, though, and there has been some grumbling about how Big Jack isn't as hungry as a pro should be.

One man even went so far as to intimate that Nicklaus is afraid of the course. "It's too tight for him," he said. "He's not anxious to come out here and look like a fool," he added.

Nicklaus is at his home this week.

Tickets for tomorrow's rounds are $5 and for Saturday and Sunday they are $6. Kids under 14 get in for half fare. You can wander in anytime after 6 a.m. and you can stay until after 7 p.m. if you're that much of a golf nut. Just don't try to bring a picnic basket and a quilt -- the club is fussy about litter.

THERE ARE THREE reasons to go see at least part of the tournament. One is the field of golfers that includes the greatest names in the sport. The golfing will be at its finest, and students of the game should have a field day seeing how the big guys handle the problems of No. 3.

Another reason is to be part of a spectacle -- to watch sports history being made, and to be part of it. If Casper and Palmer team up in another playoff, and it's decided by a long putt on the 18th, you'll be glad you can say you were there.

And finally, the money you spend will be for a good cause. The 560 college students being supported by the Evans Scholar Foundation are a worthy investment. Almost all the graduates of the program are outstanding citizens today -- including doctors, lawyers, ministers and businessmen.

ONE OF THE top doctors in the Chicago area drops everything for a week, once a year, and volunteers for whatever duty the W.G.A. wants him for. He does it, he says, as partial payment for the education he got from the Evans Scholars Foundation.

Astros Whitewash Giants In Arlington Major League

Danny Crane and Chuck Pill shut out the Giants on six hits yesterday to pace the Astros to a 4-0 opening game win in the second half of the Arlington Heights Boys' Baseball Major League race.

CRANE STRUCK out one and walked one in two innings before an injury forced him to retire in favor of Pill. Pill went on to whiff eight Giants and walk three. Ed Leister and Brian Nelson drove in all of the winners' runs.

In the only other Major League game played last night, the Tigers romped to their second straight victory over the winless White Sox 5-2. Joe Luhan bested Rick Brook in the mound department, and Mike Cook contributed a home run to the winning cause. Mike Cleveland also came up with a pair of doubles for the Tigers.

GREG EVERHART had a big day in the Varsity 1 League, as he led the Knights to a 14-3 conquest of the Pelicans. Everhart paced the Knights' 14 - hit offensive with a home run and yielded only four hits while claiming the victory on the hill.

Greg's brother Doug Everhart also clouted a home run last night, while the South Blue Intermediate Ravens romped over the Rangers 8-2. Extra base hits fell like rain on losing pitcher Brooks Bauske who also surrendered a home run and a triple to Jim Green, another triple to Don Wessels and doubles to Mark Turcaw and Jeff Seiler. Bauske himself got in on the fun when he slashed a triple for the Rangers' only extra base hit. Green was the winning hurler.

In other intermediate action, the Cadets clubbed the Doves 16 - 6 behind the five-hit pitching of Bruce Conroy, and the Colts outlasted the Dragons 9 - 7. Starter and winner Jim Dumke was one of four Colt pitchers in the battle which was highlighted by a Jim Miller home run for the victors.

MARK DI MUZIO swatted a home run and a triple for the Bearcats but it wasn't enough to save them from a 7 - 3 setback at the hands of the Terriors, in the only other intermediate tilt.

The North Blue Juniors Boxers exploded for a 20-run fifth inning to bury the Larks 29 - 11 yesterday. Bob Thompson struck out 13 and allowed only one hit to get the win.

John Lerchenfeld also fanned 13 while leading the Jays to a 2-1 South White Junior conquest of the Padres. Lerchenfeld added insult to injury by scoring the game's winning run.

Piano Workshop At N.I.U.

Malcom Frager, a concert pianist who won two of the most difficult international competitions, will be featured at Northern Illinois University's piano workshop, July 19 and 20.

Frager, a music professor at Wichita (Kan.) State University, will lecture and give a recital at 8 p.m. July 20 in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

Dr. Robert Steinbauer, head of the keyboard department at Wichita State, will be guest lecturer for the workshop. The sessions will stress piano literature and materials of the elementary and intermediate level.

Dr. Steinbauer's topics will include a survey of Mozart piano sonatas and content and contrasts of styles and idioms.

Fee for the two-day workshop is $20. Reservations and further information are available from the university's music department.

Frager is the first instrumentalist to win both the Edgar M. Leventritt Award and the Queen Elisabeth of Belgium International Music Competition. Admission to his concert is open to the public without charge as part of Northern's Summer Artist Series.

Midsummer Eve Of Supersitions

BY JAN BONE

June 21, says the Mount Prospect Public Library, was the magical Midsummer Eve before the summer solstice, well-known for fire, grass, and water traditions. Fank & Wagnalls Standard Dictionary of Folklore tells of the great Catherine-wheels plaited of grasses and hurled blazing down steep mountainsides, of carrying burning brands through the fields, and the driving of cattle through fires built at community cross-roads.

In England today, many older folk believe that the apple crop will fail if the Midsummer fires are not lighted. In Devonshire, people used to crawl under the communion table in the church three times at midnight on Midsummer Eve to cure fits.

Fairies, witches, spirits of the dead, and all supernatural beings are visible on Midsummer Eve, says tradition. In fact, Shakespeare based his play "A Midsummer Night's Dream" on the folklore connected with this festival.

A TIME for lovers, Midsummer has inspired many folk customs. In Norway, girls put bunches of flowers under their pillows that evening to inspire dreams of love. In England, if an unmarried girl fasts on Midsummer Eve, and sets a midnight table with a clean cloth, bread, cheese, and ale, the boy she will marry will enter her door at midnight and join her in the feast.

Greeks and Norsemen alike believed in the power of Midsummer Eve. The myth of Ceres is based on the capture of the sun by Pluto of the underworld, and on its triumphant return for at least part of the year. The Norse thought the killing of Balder by the mistletoe sprig represented the defeat of summer by the more powerful winter. Consequently, they thought any Midsummer feasts would help the sun, and summer, to stay around longer -- so they celebrated!

Even Stonehenge, according to Yale University scientists, may well have been a primitive astronomical observatory, with the great stones arranged so that sunrise on the day of the summer solstice would strike the high altar.

FACT AND Fancy can be a bit confusing, sometimes. What really happens about June 21?

That's the day, says the library, when the sun appears to be farthest from the equator. It seems to stand still for several days, before turning back. It's responsible for the longest period of daylight that the northern hemisphere has, and the day on which that hemisphere gets the greatest heat from the sun, (even if the temperature gets hotter in August).

At midsummer, the region from the North Pole to the Arctic Circle will have daylight for 24 hours; in fact, that's how scientists defined the Arctic Circle in the first place.

We're airconditioned, and open at 10 a.m., closing at 9 throughout the week, and at 5 p.m. on Saturdays.

Plans Help Couple Decorate First Home

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The young couple decorating its first home faces a $2,000 to $5,000 immediate drain on the budget for furnishings alone. This is why it is essential to plan shopping expeditions.

When planning a home furnishings budget, try to analyze each other's needs for comfort, privacy, entertainment and such. Figure out what atmosphere will please each of you the most.

Once certain likes and dislikes are out in the open it becomes easier to shop. You can read through ads for furniture, carpeting, draperies, bath accessories or wall accessories quickly since you know what to reject.

You also can set up a budget allotting specific amounts to the furnishings you want to stress the most.

When shopping you will want to study furnishings for style, quality and price. With a limited budget you will find an over-all plan works best. There is no need, for example, to purchase whole rooms by suites. This is becoming old-hat, even though co-ordinated furnishings are rampant on the market. Start with basic needs such as kitchen equipment if you must buy this, bedroom furniture (always buy the best bedding you can afford to save money and add to your comfort).

For living room furniture select a style, wood finish and fabric that will be decorative and stand the wear of moving and possibly a couple of children within five years. Check upholstered pieces for what is under the fabric for a better buy such as a latex foam rubber cushioning which won't lump and keeps trim after long use.

Rugs and carpeting can be a major investment. If your floors are beyond hope, then you will want to use carpeting or a room-size rug. If the floor is of a good wood or hard surface covering that can be cleaned and polished, save money by using small but colorful accent rugs.

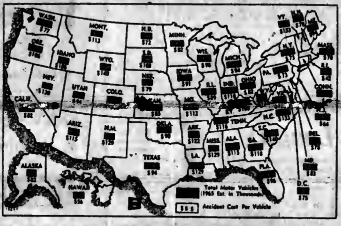
Often the newlyweds' apartment takes on special charm through wall decoration. A handy couple can apply their own wallpapers, for example, in plain, stripe or patterns to change the whole character of a room. Plan the scheme before buying.

If you are going to select a figured rug, consider a textured tone-on-tone or grass cloth wallpaper. Florals, scenics and thematic papers go with plain or textured floors. Look for washable papers and those that are factory pasted and trimmed to save time and labor costs.

Accessories for the wall range from snapshots of the college queen or campus hero, art prints or miniature wall cabinets like those from Syroco that are reproductions of antiques.

Whatever you select, the key is planning ahead to create a co-ordinated room or rooms with items bought within a budget both of you enjoy living with.

Young couples decorating their first home or apartment face a multitude of decisions. Hit-and-miss or impulse buying of furniture and accessories can wreck any budget and lead to a mish-mash decor. Before shopping, determine an over-all decorating plan and select furnishings to fit the scheme. Couple here finds a store vignette with Heywood-Wakefield contemporary furniture in solid cherry aids their decorating thoughts. She checks swatches while he checks an obelisk wall cabinet by Syroco against a floral striped wallpaper. At home the couple continues to decorate around pieces bought. Decision is between a decorative stripe wallpaper in putty, tan and orange or a cane print in beige and white to co-ordinate with floral rug.



THE COST IN MONEY -- Highway accidents are an expensive proposition in terms of both cash and lives in the United States. Newsmap above shows how total financial liability resulting from motor vehicle accidents during 1965 works out in terms of the cost for each registered vehicle in each of the states. Statistics were compiled by State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co. in co-operation with National Safety Council.

Driving School to Mark 10th Year in Chicago

The Municipal Court Driver Improvement School, which has trained 97,035 motorists to be "Ambassadors of Good Driving" is celebrating its 10th anniversary.

The school, copied by more than 187 cities in 33 states and 14 foreign countries since its establishment, has been honored by the American Bar Assn. as "the best of its kind in the United States."

A luncheon marking the 10th anniversary of the good driving program will be held June 29 in the Louis XVI room of the Sherman House. Among those attending will be Chief Judge John S. Boyle of the Circuit Court; Judge Eugene L. Wachowski, presiding judge of the Municipal Court; Judge Felix M. Buoscio, supervising judge of Traffic Court, and Dr. Arthur L. Conrad, director of the school.

THE SCHOOL started October 8, 1956, under the direction of Judge Raymond P. Drymalski, former chief justice of the Municipal Court of Chicago. Effective January 1, 1964, it became a function of the First Municipal division of the Circuit Court under Chief Judge Boyle.

Approximately 65 per cent of the students attending the school are traffic violators referred by the courts and the remainder are volunteers.

No distinction is made in the classroom between the violators and volunteers. Classes are generally kept under 50 students.

Instructors in the school are 13 Chicago police officers assigned by Supt. O.W. Wilson to the Safety Education division of the police department.

THE COURSE runs for eight hours and students attend four two-hour sessions at the Central Office building, 320 N. Clark St., or at one of the several outlying schools, which include Lakeview, Vocational, Carl Schurz, Austin, and Bogan High Schools.

Classes are held in Spanish and Polish for motorists who do not speak English. A special course for deaf persons was begun in April of 1962 and more than 500 persons have attended.

Last year, 15,315 motorists attended the school and since its inception, 97,085 drivers have earned the "Ambassadors of Good Driving" certificates.

Often whole groups or clubs sign up for the course designed to teach good driving habits.

Stevenson Farm Open For Country Rally Sunday

The Libertyville farm of the Adlai E. Stevenson family will be open to the public for the first time Sunday as visitors from the Chicago area attend an old-fashioned country rally.

A steam calliope, clowns, cotton candy and two bands will add to the pageantry. A picnic menu will feature free beer for adults, Kool-Aid for youngsters, 10-cent hot dogs, ice cream cones and marshmallows for roasting over a bonfire.

Celebrities from the entertainment and sports worlds, including Chicago Cubs manager Leo Durocher and former Notre Dame football star Johnny Lattner, will attend the event.

ADLAI E. Stevenson III, Democratic candidate for state treasurer, will welcome visitors. Sen. Paul H. Douglas and Donald Prince, the Democratic candidate for superintendent of public instruction, will address the gathering from a hayrack.

A $5 contribution at the gate will admit each adult. Children accompanied by parents will be admitted free.

To reach the Stevenson farm, take the Tri-State to Illinois 59-A (Town Line Rd.), then go west one mile to St. Mary's Rd. The farm is on the west side of St. Mary's Rd., 1/2 mile south of 59-A.

Marine's Story of Viet Nam

BY JACK A. VANDERMYN

Marine Cpl. Rick Harbour was riding in a "casualty cart" in Quang Nai Province, South Viet Nam, when he was wounded by sniper fire from black pajamaed Viet Cong guerillas.

TIME: 10:30 a.m. Rick's unit was pinned down by enemy fire for nearly three hours. TIME: 1:30 p.m., March 5, 1965. A helicopter reached the combat team and snatched Rick and several other casualties to safety.

Just six days later, Rick, a former Arlington Heights Boy Scout, was in Great Lakes Naval Hospital recovering from serious shoulder wounds.

Cpl. Harbour, attached to L Co., 3d Batallion, First Marine Division, was in the field tending wounded marines when he himself was hit.

YESTERDAY, Rick told his experiences in Viet Nam to a group of Arlington Heights businessmen known as the "Young Turks."

And experiences he had to relate. Rick told of doubting the allegiance of South Vietnamese troops — of not knowing who the enemy was, of being spat at and hooted by villagers, of being held in contempt by the very Vietnamese people American troops are dying to protect.

Rick has answered literally hundreds of questions from people who have been interested in his experiences in Viet Nam. He was stationed overseas twice, but saw no combat during his first tour.

"You learn a quick lesson about war when bullets are popping over your head," Rick said. "Our training was excellent. We were isolated in a California base for six weeks in August, 1965, before shipping to Okinawa for more jungle training. We were ready to fight when we landed in Viet Nam."

And fight, the young Arlington Heights marine did until Communist bullets put him out of action in Operation Utah.

THE THREE questions most frequently asked Rick are:

—How he personally felt about the undeclared war?

—What was troop morale like in Viet Nam?

—What he thought about the demonstrators back in the United States?

"I was in Viet Nam helping protect your way of life," Rick told the Young Turks. "Our troops are fighting so that you can enjoy your happiness and freedom."

Rick said that troop morale in Viet Nam was excellent. He said, "It's not all sitting on a sunny beach in Viet Nam . . . it's a tough country."

Concerning the demonstrators in the United States Rick said, "I'm glad they are left behind in the states. We have to depend on the man next to us in combat and we couldn't depend on those type of people."

RICK attended St. James School in Arlington Heights and graduated from Notre Dame High School in Niles. Prior to entering the Marine Corps three years ago, he was a student at Bellarmine College in Louisville, Ky.

The 24-year-old marine was critical of the South Vietnamese troops used in combat with Americans in the war.

"You can't depend on them," Rick said. "They will turn on you when the going gets rough."

Concerning the enemy, Rick said there were two types of adversaries.

"We called one type "black pajamas." They were the Viet Cong — or nonregular troops. They were disorganized, poorly armed and supplied. They ranged the countryside in small groups and were more of a pest as snipers than a definite hazard."

Village Stuck With $150,000 Storm Bill

Village Manager L. A. Hanson said the village will have to foot the bills for the cleanup after the recent tornado which swept the northwest suburbs.

Hanson said the cleanup costs, which will run between $150,000 and $175,000, will be borne by the village and that no state or federal aid is available.

Hanson said he was informed by the office of the governor that a 1965 disaster bill passed by the state Legislature for the amount of $500,000 was to be used only to prevent damage to public property such as sandbagging during flooding.

Hanson said damage was not extensive enough to require federal aid.

"WHILE this area was recommended to the President of the United States as a disaster area for small business loans and the President is the only person who can declare an area a disaster area pertaining to public domain and whereas our damage was insufficient for this declaration, no federal funds are available."

In his report to the Village Board of Trustees, Hanson advised against using the contingency fund of the 1966-67 budget to pay the bills. He said that this would be an unwise move since the village has more than 10 months to operate before a new fiscal year.

HANSON said that the major portion of the cleaning up has been completed, and that the large task of removing or repairing damaged trees is under way.

"All trees will be inspected regardless of the lack of visual damage to determine if any hazards exist," he said. "I am sure many trees will require cabling and bolting to protect against future wind storms."

Hanson estimated that in addition to cleanup costs, $15,000 would be needed for the replacement of trees.

THE DEBRIS from the cleanup work is being dumped and burned at the old sewer disposal plant near the east village limits on Northwest Hwy.

Hanson said permission was obtained from the county to dump in the Forest Preserve, but that an additional $250 an hour would be necessary to keep loading equipment in full operation due to the added distances to be travelled [illegible].

Burning is under the direction of the fire chief and the village is doing all possible to control burning so as not to create a nuisance for residents. Hanson said the burning will continue for the next two weeks.

Historical Society Maps Campaign for Museum

Committee members involved in planning a permanent historical museum for Arlington Heights include (from left): Mrs. Z.R. Rogozinski, 1219 Woodford Pl.; Mrs. John Allen, 116 W. Euclid, Michael Hoggay, 24 S. Chestnut; Mrs. John Shabeck, 626 N. Douglas and Virgil K. Horath, 614 N. Haddow. Members of the Historical Society, and the Arlington Heights Women's Club are planning a meeting July 7 for all community organizations to discuss the museum.

Meeting Called To Outline Goal

BY MAXINE TYMA

An historical museum for Arlington Heights is a possibility not a pipe dream.

A preliminary meeting of representatives of the museum committee of the Historical Society and other interested community groups was held last night in the home of Mrs. Stephen Jurco, 645 N. Douglas.

Attending were Mrs. Z.R. Rogozinski and Mrs. John Shabeck, co - chairmen of the community improvement committee of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club; Mrs. John Allen, president of the Historical Society; Michael Hoggay, member of the museum committee of the Historical Society; Virgil K. Horath, fund chairman of the museum committee; L. A. Hanson, village manager; Mrs. Ralph Lidge, first vice president of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club and George C. Beacham, member of the library board. Mrs. Jurco is president of the Woman's Club.

The group discussed the idea of an historical museum as a permanent place to store the accessions of the Historical Society.

A LETTER will be sent by the community improvement committee of the Woman's Club to representatives of the organizations to attend a meeting Thursday, July 7, at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building. Village officials and members of the Historical Society and representatives of the Woman's Club will explain plans.

The Historical Society has been collecting and storing items relating to the history and growth of the village. The collection is stored in the Wheeling Township Hall and in several private homes. Frequent requests are made to the society by schools and organizations to view the objects.

Two years ago the Arlington Heights Woman's Club gave the Society funds to establish a Museum Fund. Mrs. Rogozinski, who was club president at that time, is serving as co - chairman of the community improvement committee of the club to promote interest in the museum. Mrs. Jurco formed the committee this year.

THE VILLAGE board has announced its endorsement of the work of the society and its efforts to raise funds for a permanent museum. A plaque will be presented to the society at the July 7 meeting in recognition of its work.

Milk, Bread

Bread and milk will be some of the items up for approval Monday night when the High School Dist. 214 Board of Education meets at 7:30 p.m. in the Slicheomyer Administration Center.

The board will consider bids for milk and dairy products and bread supplies for the district and bids for fuel oil.

Other board business will include action on a recommendation to authorize the administration to make purchases up to $1,500 or less without approval of the board of education. Present policy provides that purchases up to $200 considered "basic" and "necessary" can be made without board approval.

The student accident insurance for the school year and a recommended list for recipients of Board of Education agendas will be discussed.

A decision on the responsibility for purchase of fixed equipment for the sixth high school has been requested by engineers Berger, Kelly, Unteed & Assoc.

At the June 13 board meeting the board placed the responsibility for the purchase of cafeteria equipment for the school with the architects and the board voted to assume the responsibility for the purchases of the fixed equipment for the library, art and music areas and site development.

The mechanical engineers need specific information regarding items of equipment which need plumbing, electrical, heating and ventilating connections.

Paving Project Stalled

The Northwest Highlands paving project was continued by the Board of Local Improvements Thursday.

A special meeting will be held July 7 when final plans on the special assessment portion of the project are to be ready. BOLI is expected to pass an adhering resolution recommending that the Village Board go ahead with the special assessments.

RESIDENTS of all but about seven blocks in the project have deposited letters of credit or money with BOLI. They seek to have their portion of the project done by private contract.

The streets included in the project are Walnut, Chestnut, Olive, Marion, Thomas.

Also continued was the public hearing on extension of Lillian St. to Arlington Heights Rd. That hearing will be held at 8 p.m. on July 8.

BOLI adopted an adhering resolution recommending that the Village Board proceed with the special assessment portion of the paving project for Belmont north of Oakton.

$10,000 in Bad Checks Reported Cashed in Area

The Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce has warned merchants to watch for bogus checks which have been circulated in the area.

Executive Director Chuck Alft said the checks are green in color and drawn on the Bank of Arlington Heights in the 150 series and above.

The checks are issued to the account of Robert or Kathleen Thorson of Elk Grove Village, Alft said. An estimated $10,000 in checks has been cashed.

Merchants have been asked to notify Arlington Heights police if any of the checks are spotted.

Hasbrook Civic Assn. to Meet

There will be a general meeting of the Hasbrook Civic Assn. at 2:30 Sunday afternoon in the Hasbrook Field House.

According to Roland Ley, president of the association, the meeting was called to amend the constitution and by-laws.

Friends again are Eugene Schlickman (seated) and Tom Novotny. Schlickman defeated Novotny in a tight race for Wheeling Township committeeman. Novotny's Regular Republican Club called last night's meeting a "get well" party to re-unite the party for an onslaught against the Democrats in November.

Everything Rosy Again; Republicans Say It's So

A unified Republican Party in Wheeling Township will sponsor a combined fund raising dinner-dance at Chevy Chase Country Club on Saturday, Oct. 8.

Announcement of the function, which will benefit all of the Republican organizations of Wheeling Township, was made at a "get well" party last night sponsored by the Regular Republican Club.

Speakers at the meeting included William Moore and William Means, defeated candidates for the Illinois House of Representatives, and Thomas Novotny, who lost to Eugene Schlickman in a hotly contested committeeman's race for the township's top GOP post.

Schlickman was the guest of honor and made the principal address to some 70 Republican club members and guests at the Arlington Heights VFW.

SCHLICKMAN said that the primary campaign, which he labeled as hard fought, should be an example that a party can fight a primary within its ranks and still present a unified front against the opposition in the general election.

Commenting on the proposal for a combined fund raising affair to benefit all Republican organizations in the township, Schlickman said, "The Republican party needs money to operate. We need money to fight the battle against the Democrats in November and we need money to organize our forces."

Schlickman said that the reason for the move of Township Republican headquarters to downtown Arlington Heights from Mount Prospect Plaza was designed to help reduce party expenses. He said the move gave the party a substantial financial advantage.

THE NEWLY elected committeeman made it clear, however, that the party would open to large headquarters, one in Prospect Plaza, the other in Wheeling, prior to the Nov. 4 general election.

Unity was the keynote at last night's meeting, organized by Novotny who has seven months left to serve as chairman of the Republican Club.

Teen Day

Youth in the Church

By Lee Strobel

(Note: From time to time, Teen Day will feature articles concerning the youth work in local churches.)

A new concept to promote better understanding between the youth of the church and the church itself has come into effect at the Lutheran Church of the Cross, 2025 S. Goebbert.

The idea is a "youth council." According to Pastor Bruce K. Benander, it "is under the church council and its purpose is to plan the youth program of the church."

The main idea behind the council is to give the youth an opportunity to plan and promote their activities and guide the youth of the church.

A FEW "youth - helpers," adults who assist the group but don't actually guide it, attend their functions.

"The youth of today want help in understanding life," Pastor Benander said, and the helpers "help them to reach their own conclusions."

The organization has two meetings a month. The first is a study of Christianity, faith, modern witnessing, and the discussion of such questions as "Is Christ out of date?" The purpose of this is to "involve the youth in life's situations."

THE SECOND meeting is a social one, like a fellowship with "an atmosphere of friendship." There they often plan activities such as weekend retreats, dinners, softball games, barbecues, and swimming.

"This is one time when the youth can entertain their parents," the Pastor said.

The idea for the youth council was that of Pastor Benander's. He saw a similar program in a Canadian Church and transformed it to fit the needs of the Church of the Cross.

When it was first formed, it had two executive councils, the Junior League for those in 8 - 9 grades, and the High League, for those in 10 - 12 grades.

NEW OFFICERS have recently been elected to the council and for the first time it will be "into full swing."

The council is also interested in the well-being of the youth outside of their church. Submitting proposals to assist the teens of the community, it seems that in the future this organization will have a lot to do in solving the problems of Arlington Heights teens.

Head Start Volunteers Needed

What Can You Do to Help?

Head Start needs:
- Volunteers to work with preschool children
- Trucks, dolls, doll equipment, toys in good condition
- Boys' and girls' used clothing, good condition, sizes 3-7, (to be used for emergency changes)

If you can help, call the Head Start center nearest you: Community Presbyterian Church, Wheeling 537-4895; Bethel Lutheran Church, Palatine 359-2824; Mark Twain School, Wheeling 537-8153; Church of the Holy Spirit, Elk Grove Village 439-8479; Norwesco (Head Start director) 439-

Head Start Director Dave Fankhauser has asked Day readers to give him dolls, trucks and toys in good condition. They'll be used by children taking part in the preschool education program, sponsored by Norwesco (community action organization).

Volunteers to help with Head Start classes are also needed. Fankhauser said they need no special training in education, but should be "warm and friendly, and like children."

Because the school atmosphere is strange to the children, Fankhauser hopes volunteers will be able to give time consistently, so the children will come to know them. He suggested giving several mornings or afternoons a week, rather than isolated time.

CLASSES began Wednesday in Mark Twain School, Wheeling, and at the Church of the Holy Spirit in Elk Grove Village. Morning and afternoon programs at each location keep Head Start classes to a maximum of 15 children.

On Monday, Head Start begins at Bethel Lutheran Church, in Palatine, and at Hillcrest School in Hoffman Estates.

ARLINGTON Heights classes will open Wednesday in the First Presbyterian Church on Dunton St.

Field trips and medical examinations will be included in the program, which will run till Aug. 31.

Wheeling Band To Defend Crown

The Wheeling High School Marching Band will attend the Aquatennial in Minneapolis July 15 to 17, it was disclosed today.

Ted Falen, new president of the Wheeling Instrumental League (Parent Band Boosters Club), said the band will defend the first place flag won last year.

Dean DePoy, band director, explained to parents in the club that there will be 125 students and color guards, 14 chaperones and a registered nurse making the trip north.

The trip's schedule will allow the troup to leave Wheeling High School at 7 a.m. on the 15th and arrive in Minneapolis at 4:30 p.m. that afternoon. A band jamboree will be held that night.

On Saturday, July 16, the band will participate in a TV show at the parade stadium and in the parade that afternoon.

"When the judging is over," DePoy said, "we hope to have another first place flag to bring back to Wheeling High School."

Accompanying the troup will be Doug Peterson, who will be assistant band master at Wheeling High School next year. Peterson is a graduate of Iowa State University, Ames, Iowa.

DePoy commented that "we should both like to thank all the parents in the Instrumental League who helped make this trip possible.

"We're sure it will be an enriching-experience for the youngsters," he said.

Day by Day

By the Waterfall

by Catherine O'Donnell

Keith Marshall, who lives in Streamwood, has an interesting and unusual occupation that brings him into the Arlington Heights area quite often.

Keith designs and constructs garden waterfalls and pools. His favorite here is the beautiful weather edged rock pool in the tranquil garden of the Robert Rowans of S. Belmont.

"People work hard at making their yards and gardens cool, restful spots," Marshall said. "They achieve beauty that appeals to the sight and to the smell but they neglect one of nature's most lovely offerings. That is the sound of moving water.

"Nothing is more appealing than that," said Keith.

He constructs each waterfall so that it looks as if it had been there before the house was built. Another one which he is well-pleased with is the Japanese garden of the I. Clarks in Bensenville. It is complete to a tea house and a bamboo bridge.

In the garden of one home, he built the waterfall into the side of a man-made hill so that it looks like a natural spring.

The J. Cayler family of E. Euclid in Prospect Heights had a waterfall constructed as a 25th wedding anniversary present. Keith emphasizes that the water is a wonderful way to cool a patio area.

Keith works for the Rusk Landscaping Co. of Hoffman Estates and the Carl Klehm Landscapes of Arlington Heights. His greatest compliment came from a customer who said that whenever life seems to be crowding her she goes out to her garden and sits beside the pool until whatever is bothering her slips away.

No Foxes

On Sunday, June 26, the Horse and Hound Exhibition, which had been tentatively announced for the July sidewalk days, will be held at 1 p.m. at Forest View High School.

This colorful event is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. The jumping horses will be supplied by Tri-Color Farms. They're trained by Bill Corwin. There will be performances by the Oakbrook Hounds Club.

According to Executive Manager Charles Alft of the Chamber, this colorful event is representative of the oldest of all sports.

Thinking Teen

The "thinking teens" or "man over machine" might describe the ingenuity of Jim Chappel, 16 years old, who lives on S. Forest.

Jim was in Des Plaines and had to make a telephone call. There was no place to get change and the smallest coin he had was a quarter.

He deposited it, got his number, delivered his message and had the party call the operator. The operator called him in the phone booth and promised that the company would return his 15 cents.

Are You Ready

If summer comes, can fall be far behind?

The proceeds of the tournaments provide funds for the club's philanthropies. Cele may be called at 255-5040 and Fran at 253-5178.

Some Day

... by Frank E. Von Arx

Ronald F. Wittmeyer of 1522 W. Kennicott, Arlington Heights, stands alone.

He said other people would express the same concern he has over the fate of the Cellar, the teen recreation center that will be discussed by the Youth Council Monday night.

Nobody has shown concern. Just Wittmeyer, unless you count the comment from a few Mount Prospect policemen who said the Cellar or some such operation is a valuable community function. And one letter to the editor.

Wittmeyer wants to know what an adult can do to help youngsters enjoy their fun without running the risk of street brawls that befell the Cellar. He has the advantage of experience in youth work, a point he demonstrated quickly during conversations with the high school group that accepts pay from Day Publications for dubious services such as taking Little League scores and heckling the news editor.

What can an adult do? That basically was Wittmeyer's question.

Who knows? That was the only answer. Wittmeyer did leave with some names of people who might have part of the answer. People such as Maurice English of the police who might have part of the answer. People such as Maurice English of the police department, John Edwards of the Youth Council and Jack Martin of High School Dist. 214.

Wittmeyer had a talk with Tom Walsh, one of The Day's freckled-faced, apple-cheeked sports experts. Young Walsh was one 8 years old, about the time his older brother and sister were active in raising funds for a youth center in Riverside.

The building still stands, a monument to the initistive and enterprise of teens who worked five or six years to build a building of their own. It operates today trouble free.

"Of course," Walsh said, "it is only a little way from the police station."

Not only would it give them valuable experience for later years, but it would also solve the problem of what to do with that great big empty lot in back of our police station.

As of the moment, however, we are willing to bet Wittmeyer will be pretty lonely Monday night if he thinks adults ought to hear the Cellar story as it unfolds before the Youth Council.

Vantage Point

... by Jack Vandermyn

Those of us in the news gathering business spent a lot of time in courts of law. Our news beats take us to court as often as many lawyers.

From our experiences in covering court cases, we gain a great respect for the lawyers -- both prosecution and defense -- who make their living before the bar of justice.

Too often, the image of the lawyer is that of ambulance chaser. While this label might be deserved in some cases, it is no more justified than labeling all politicians grafters; all cops crooks and all newspaper writers hacks.

There are political grafters, crooked cops and newspaper hacks, but they are exceptions. Most professionals -- be they politicans, cops or newspaper men -- are doing the best job they can.

THE LEGAL profession is one of the most exacting sciences known to man. A lawyer, to be worth his fee, must be intelligent, well educated, personality conscious and willing to work hard, long hours.

It takes a good liberal arts education to gain the background needed to study for a law degree. A lawyer must have the mental power to retain facts and the mental agility to present those facts in a pleasing, convincing manner to client, judge and jury.

All lawyers have one thing in common -- a dedication to the law and to the fine balance of the scales of justice.

SOME lawyers fight dramatic criminal cases, others file personal property liens. Some lawyers work for huge corporations, filing multi-million dollar law suits that eventually are adjudicated by the supreme court, others defend the rights of traffic violators.

Attorney General William Clark, the state's top lawyer and considered by many gubernatorial timber in 1968, recently addressed the American Legion Premier Boys State convention in Springfield on the importance of lawyers and the significance of the legal profession to our society.

Clark urged young men entering the legal profession to consider a career in government law as either practicing attorneys in his or some other government agency.

THE COOK County State's Attorneys office has long been a training ground for criminal practitioners. Most of the good criminal lawyers in Chicago, received their first trial experience on the side of the people.

They branched off into defense work either because of financial need or the desire to serve as defenders.

THERE ARE other areas of governmental law equally as interesting as criminal work for the fledgling lawyer to consider.

Government law, however, can only be a training ground because a lawyer working for a government agency will never achieve the income bracket of the private practitioner.

Too often, we feel that law school -- perhaps like journalism school -- teaches only theory and does not give the student enough actual practical experience.

IT IS in the field of governmental law that the young lawyer can first spread his wings before a court, judge and jury and find out if the theory he learned in school is practical.

Attorney General Clark pointed out to the Boys' staters that experience can best be gained by the lawyer by working in a governmental agency -- by serving an apprenticeship in a profession that does not treat inexperience or ineptitude gently.

CLARK SAYS there is a shortage of lawyers today, although the two political partys might not think so as they screen candidate lists or call the roll in the Illinois General Assembly.

Unfortunately, Clark points out, the consequence of the present attorney shortage is that many clients find themselves involved in perhaps the only law suits of their lives with an inexperienced, although well educated, lawyer who has not had the practical, court room experience of practicing under wiser, older counselors.

Clark feels that the place for young attorneys to gain this experience is in government. He says that every year literally hundreds of vacancies in governmental legal circles go begging for want of candidates desiring this type of experience.

If our son chooses the law for a career we will be proud of him -- just as we will be proud of him if he chooses politics, law enforcement or even the newspaper business.

If he chooses law, he will be well rewarded for his educational efforts -- and we hope he takes advantage of Attorney General Clark's advice to test his wings on the side of the state.

The Roots of Crime

The latest Supreme Court ruling drawing a wider circle of protection around the rights of criminal suspects may well be one more step in the wrong direction, as many argue -- including four bitterly dissenting members of the nine-judge court itself.

Undoubtedly the new restrictions on the questioning of suspects will make the job of the police more difficult than it already is. One justice, John Harlan, denounced the decision as "dangerous experimentation" at a time of a "high crime rate that is a matter of growing concern."

But is society's problem with crime solely that of apprehending and convicting lawbreakers? There is hardly a shortage of tenants for the nation's overcrowded prisons.

It is true that some who belong in prison may go free because this new ruling curtails the power of the police to obtain evidence by means of confessions. But thousands of others are released from prison each year because they have qualified for parole.

A good many of them come out to lead law-abiding lives, if given a chance by society. Yet far too great a percentage of these supposedly rehabilitated men and women leave prison only to renew their careers in crime until they are caught and imprisoned again.

There are quite a few who, in serving time in prison, are converted from first-time lawbreakers into hardened characters through association with other criminals.

If we are really concerned about crime and the criminal, we should do something about making penitentiaries and reformatories the cure for anti-social behavior, rather than, as they sometimes are, postgraduate courses in crime.

We should also put more emphasis on the traditional tenets of our professions as men on Earth -- the basic moralities so often forgotten in our society.

We should worry about these things at least as much as we do about capturing criminals in the first place.

What Next?

"Travel Talk," published by the Information and Tourism Division of the Nebraska Game, Forestation and Parks Commission -- whew -- reports that authorities in Cristobal, C.Z., have banned night water skiing in the Panama Canal.

We didn't even know it was permitted in the daytime.

The Beautiful Bridesmaid

Youthful Freshness, Simple Hairdo

An attractive hairdo for the young bridesmaid features long hair, says stylist John Bernard.

Summer days have become popular ones for weddings in recent years, and advice to brides flows as freely as the balmy season's breezes.

Often neglected in the flurry of concern for the wife-to-be is the sister or friend who will act as her maid or matron of honor or bridesmaid.

The attendant has a special role at a wedding, that of helping establish a mood of serene beauty, but her role must remain a secondary one.

A BRIDESMAID'S dress frequently is one chosen to carry out a color scheme, a style selected because it flatters the majority of female attendants. Although the bridesmaid may be delighted with the dress, it sometimes would not have been her individual choice for a major public appearance.

Generally, though, she'll be pleased when she sees herself and the other attendants gathered in their softly colorful wedding costumes.

WHETHER or not she looks lovely in the dress depends a good deal on her hairdo. John Bernard, a New York hairstylist, suggests that a girl with wedding duty in sight first take a searching look in her mirror.

The looking glass, he asserts, should reflect youthful freshness -- not a face hardened by lots of make-up.

Bernard also is far from pleased with the current outbreak of "kooky" hairstyles. Among these, he classifies the architectural haircut, which features hair chopped sharply in layers.

FOR THE bridesmaid, he suggests a style that frames the face to advantage -- but doesn't cover it like a sheepdog.

Long romantic styles are Bernard's favorites for the woman under 25, and he thinks a postiche for the youthful woman is an attractive addition in a wedding.

Bernard, who says he's a romanticist, urges the bridesmaid to begin well before the wedding to pamper her complexion, gain or lose a few pounds if she looks a bit gaunt or plump and generally work to look her best at the ceremony.

JAMES W. Jenkins, a hand care specialist for Pacquin, suggests use of hand and body lotions on upper arms, elbows and the neck every night for at least a week before the wedding.

Remember, bridesmaids, all eyes are on the bride during the ceremony. But you're a co-star at the reception, and it's your pleasant duty to make the bride feel that her attendants are the most beautiful a bride ever had.

MR. AND MRS. RIDER

Bonnie Ann Gauss, Bride of Robert Rider

Miss Bonnie Ann Gauss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville H. Gauss of Arlington Heights, recently became the bride of Robert C. Rider of Detroit in ceremonies at Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Rider is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rider of Detroit.

THE BRIDE, who attended Schurz High School and Wright Junior College, both in Chicago has been employed by the Bell Telephone Co. in Arlington Heights. Her husband, a graduate of Wilbur Wright High School in Detroit, is stationed with the Navy in Great Lakes.

The reception was held at the Moose Hall in Des Plaines, after which the couple took a honeymoon trip to Wisconsin and Mackinac Island.

Lambs To Hold Country Fair

The lambs, a Chicago pet shop operated by mentally retarded young adults, will sponsor its first annual country fair Sunday, June 26 at the Pet Lambs Park in Libertyville.

The fair, to be held from noon to 6 p.m., will feature box lunches, games rides, booths, and a bake sale. Proceeds will help the Lambs' program, which serve northwest area young adults.

Day AT HOME

Are You Expecting Too Much of Yourself?

If you have a headache right now, you have lots of company.

Plenty of women suffer from headaches -- more women than men. And homemakers get more headaches than other women.

The reasons may be their husbands, homes and heirs -- or a combination of the three.

Medical science confirms that women suffer more migraine than men and almost three times as many muscle-contraction, or nervous tension, headaches.

WHAT IS a nervous tension headache? Are those experienced by women different than those suffered by men? Why are homemakers seemingly more vulnerable to headache than other women?

In reviewing the history of 1,000 patients treated for seven years at the Headache Clinic in New York's Montefiore Hospital, Dr. Arnold P. Friedman and his associates noted that almost two out of three were females. All suffered from a muscle-contraction or nervous tension headache."

This type, said to be the most common of chronic headaches, accounts for an estimated seven of 10 headaches. It results from sustained contraction of the muscles in the neck.

The skull feels as though in a vise, the pain often is dull and steady, and muscles tighten in the shoulder and the head and neck. Pain may be short or go on for days and weeks, returning repeatedly.

UNLIKE migraine, this kind of headache occurs during the immediate period of anxiety or tension, rather than afterwards.

Doctors say that although the nervous tension headache that strikes both women and men is the same, each reacts differently. Dr. Joseph C. White, assistant director of the neurology department at Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, described the difference:

"The mechanics of the female headache are the same as the male," he said, "but it is the endocrine glandular process of the female that intensifies her emotional reaction and gives her headache some subjective differences from the male.

"THESE differences are a wider variety of causes can bring on a headache; it is triggered more easily; her system responds more severely; this severity causes her to tense up and experience even more pain; and her headaches come back more frequently."

A woman suffers more because she generally is more sensitive to all forms of stimuli, the doctor said. Her five senses are more acute, her sight is sharp and she is apt to have fewer eye defects than men.

These heightened senses may help a woman better protect her children and home, but she also is more sensitive to pain on the physical level -- and to criticism on the psychological level.

THINK about it, and you'll realize that women are sensitive to others' opinions of them and usually thin-skinned about criticism. Being taken for granted by husbands and children probably is enough to generate hidden hostilities that ultimately trigger nervous tension headaches.

Doctors theorize that the term "housewife," especially on middle-class levels, lacks prestige and glamor. In her multiple job a woman serves as mother, shopper, housekeeper, hostess, chauffeur, teacher and nurse -- each with its own problems, frustrations, anxieties -- and headaches.

In the light of evidence of female vulnerability to nervous tension headaches, it isn't surprising that they are the largest purchasers -- and consumers -- of pain relievers.

Besides taking such medication, a woman often can improve the situation that caused her tension. She may find that she expects too much of her[illegible] roles.

IF YOU'RE shaking your aching head by now, try keeping a log for several days on how much time you allot to various duties. If you come out with no time left for yourself, even if you have a large family, something needs adjusting.

By the application of personal insight and some of her natural ingenuity, a woman can learn to cope with almost anything -- even headaches.

Service League Gift

New Training Aid For Center

The complex mechanism of the tape recorder is examined by Mrs. John Griffin (left) and Mrs. Donald Hammerstrom.

The Center, 5903 W. Fulton, Chicago, provides therapy programs for handicapped youngsters throughout Chicago's north side and the north and northwest suburbs.

The tape recorder, which will be used in speech training, was provided by the Ampex Corp. through Mrs. Pipher's husband, an Ampex employee.

THE SERVICE League, organized last September, is a charitable organization dedicated to aid of the Center. League members pledge contributions acquired from individual projects.

Mrs. Richard Kelly (left) and Mrs. Charles Pipher look pleased with the equipment the Service League for Crippled Children will present to the Children's Rehabilitation Center in Chicago.

Sweeping the fashion world are paper dresses like the one worn here by Gail Casterline. They are available by mail for $1 from the Scott Paper Co. (Paper Caper, P.O. Box 1966-A, Philadelphia, Pa. 19105 with 25 cents for handling) in the bandana print (shown) of red and yellow and a black and white op-art print. Sizes are petite, small, medium and large.

Our Gals Have A Ripping Time In Paper Dresses

BY JERILYN WATSON
Woman's Editor

The day began with promise. Atop a stack of mail on my desk were two neatly folded red bandanna dresses — the long awaited paper dresses.

"They came!" I said. Instantly a bevy of female Day employees from the classified advertising and circulation departments gathered.

"They're really cute," said one gray-haired lady.

Then her motherly self surfaced. "What happens if they catch on fire?" she said.

The label in the back of the dresses had the answer. The paper dresses, it said, were fire resistant. A cautionary phrase was added, though:

"Washing, dry cleaning or soaking will make the fabric dangerously flammable when dry," it said.

AFTER three weeks of watching the mail for my Paper-Capers, as the Scott Paper Co. calls its fashions, I couldn't wait.

Off to the ladies' room I went, quickly followed by Gail Casterline, wife of The Day sports editor.

Our dresses were not exactly perfect fits. Mine was a little clinging on top and loose below the waist, Gail's, too large in the shoulders.

A brilliant idea seized us. "We ought to wear the belts to our regular dresses," we chirped in unison.

"Just wanted to make sure," he said, grinning as we backed away.

"Sisters, maybe?" asked the headwaiter who led us to our luncheon table at a nearby restaurant.

THE TEEN-AGE girls at the next table weren't so polite. They laughed in our faces, but quickly turned away when Gail tried to explain our experiment.

"Guess I should have ordered one dress in another pattern," I said to Gail. Suddenly, she bit into a huge cheeseburger behind which she was trying to hide.

Our waitress, unbelieving, examined the fabric several times.

"I think that's what we need," she said. "When it gets dirty, you can just throw it out instead of having to wash it."

ENCOURAGED, we tried to creep back to the office without attracting attention. That is somewhat difficult when two girls identically dressed in red bandanna prints accompany one another.

Home safely, Gail tried to set the hem of her dress on fire with a match, while I waited with a cup of water. But the manufacturers' claim held true. The dresses wouldn't burn.

We did have a catastrophe, though. Several, in fact.

"Well," [illegible] Gail, [illegible] as she repaired the fourth rip in her paper dress with paste. "At least you don't have to know how to sew."

Today's Chairs

Comfort Built-In

Half the U. S. population may be under 28 years of age, but there are a few "oldsters" left with memories of comfortable old outdoor furniture.

There were the easy wicker chairs, touched up each summer with a coat of white paint. And you can recall the groaning porch swing in which your beau wooed you on summer evenings.

But let's wait a minute before becoming too nostalgic. Was old-fashioned furniture really so comfortable? Or do we think of it that way because it was part of a more relaxed, protected time in our lives.

Manufacturers tell us that today's outdoor furniture is designed specifically for comfort, with special provisions made for aching backs.

These combinations still are popular, but with the aluminum chair set, the color-conscious homemaker can turn to pumpkin, avocado, orange and yellow.

More color also has come to the frames, with one manufacturer of outdoor furniture divisions (Hamilton - Scotch) adding an ice-blue finish in anodized aluminum and an antique finish called patina green.

STRESS of better design for comfort and good looks appears in the middle to high-price range. As with all design innovations, contouring and use of webbing with better snap-back quality will filter down eventually to many of the budget-priced pieces.

Contouring of seating to the shape of the human body plus other features brought several design awards this year to the Samsonite Sunrest furniture collection.

Mrs. Melva (Allen W.) Wickman discusses the Book of Mark with the women from 10 to 11 a.m. Wednesdays in the home of Mrs. Raymond Hilton, 600 Banbury.

Mrs. Wickman, whose husband is pastor of the Emmanuel Covenant Church, began giving Bible lessons and inspirational talks when her husband gave up a business career several years ago to train for the ministry.

While the couple lived in California before coming to Chicago, Mrs. Wickman traveled about 400 miles weekly as a Bible teacher.

SHE HAS spoken to the Christian Business and Professional Womens Councils of America and the World Council of Churches on World Day of Prayer. In addition to her Arlington Heights class, Mrs. Wickman conducts a Bible class in a Chicago coffee house and fulfills other speaking commitments throughout the midwest.

California newspapers have said that Mrs. Wickman "stresses that Christians should be plain speaking but they need not be plain looking," and that she shares "a contagious enthusiasm with her listeners."

The classes in Arlington Heights are open to the public. Women of many denominations are attending.

Mrs. Melva Wickman makes a point as she discusses the Bible for a group of about 40 Arlington Heights women. The women, members of various churches, meet from 10 to 11 a.m. Wednesdays in the home of Mrs. Raymond Hilton, 600 Banbury, Arlington Heights.

DOCTOR SAYS

Asthma

W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Although asthma has long been recognized as an allergic disease, other factors appear to play a part in its cause. Their exact role is not altogether clear. For example, emotional stress, although rarely if ever the sole cause, may trigger an attack and long [illegible] stress may aggravate what would otherwise be a mild case.

Some asthmatic persons appear to have a defect of their heat - regulating mechanism. The surface temperature of their palms is lower than that of normal persons and after immersion in cold water the temperature returns to the pre-immersion level more slowly.

This may account for the fact that a sudden cold spell often precipitates asthmatic attacks in these persons. Another possibility is that, with the onset of cold weather, indoor heating units are turned on and the dust level of the indoor air is increased. If this is in truth a factor it would be helpful to have a thorough fall cleaning instead of, or in addition to, the customary spring cleaning.

Besides soot and lint, house dust often contains a variety of molds. One of these, Candida albicans, the mold that causes thrush, has been found to be especially bad for asthmatics. Treatment with the antifungal agents used against thrush are, however, of no use in the treatment of asthmatic attacks from this cause.

A recent study conducted in Iowa has suggested that some germ or virus present in asthmatics may be transmitted from person to person as a result of prolonged close contact. For example, some persons who had no previous allergies developed them after 10 to 30 years with a marital partner who was asthmatic.

Furthermore, asthma was found to develop more frequently in children when the mother, with whom contact is closer, was asthmatic than when the father was afflicted. It was also more common in siblings who occupied the same bed than in those who slept in separate beds.

Mr. Richard Henry
THE ARLINGTON DAY
217 South Arlington Heights Road
Arlington Heights, Illinois 60005

Dear Mr. Henry:

We at Right Girl, Mr. Henry, want to thank you and your staff for the many courtesies you have extended to us in the past.

The first quarter of 1966 saw Right Girl Temporary Service, Inc. exceed all previous sales figures for your area.

The ARLINGTON DAY played a major part in our growth because of the fine results we obtained in this period in recruiting temporary and part-time office workers through your classified ads.

Our Miss Jane Nelson who supervises the Right Girl office located at 3200 Dempster (across from Luthern General Hospital) extends a welcome to all women in the area to come in and discuss the many interesting opportunities available through part-time and temporary work.

Sincerely yours,

John T. Boyd

☐ CALL Right Girl FOR A

Mr. John T. Boyd, President of Right Girl Temporary Service is well aware of the results that the classified columns of Day Publication offer. As a result of Right Girls use of the classified columns of the northwest suburbs DAILY newspapers, Arlington Day & Prospect Day record sales were enjoyed for the first part of 1966.

This further points out the important roll that a daily newspaper provides a businessman as well as all the people in this great growing area from Parkridge west to Barrington.

MR. BUSINESSMAN

Now is the time to join the new and exciting world that awaits you when you merchandise your business in the classified columns of The Arlington Day ... Prospect Day.

Marine Tells Viet Nam Story

troops in Viet Nam, according to Rick, were "hard cores," North Vietnamese regular soldiers.

"These soldiers were well-trained, well-armed and highly disciplined," Rick said. "They fought you man to man and gave as good as they took. We respected them as soldiers."

Rick believes that the war in Viet Nam is going to be a long one.

"The North Vietnamese are pouring troops into the south. One report says there are 23,000 well-trained "hard cores" just in the Da Nang area."

One of Rick's bitterest memories about Viet Nam is the attitude of the Vietnamese people toward Americans.

"They resented us," Rick said. "When our troops march through villages, they are jeered and even spat at."

Rick believes that much of this resentment stems from the French domination of the country. "We look more like the French, and they were hated people," Rick said.

The Arlington Heights marine said that Korean troops serving in Viet Nam were greatly respected by the Americans for their fighting ability.

"The Koreans are among the finest combat soldiers in the world," Rick said.

BECAUSE of the vast resources of Viet Nam to produce rice, Rick believes that it is imperative that America keep the country from falling into Communist hands.

"Viet Nam could supply most of Southeast Asia with rice," Rick said.

Rick Harbour lived in Arlington Heights until 1961. He made his home at 307 N. Derbyshire. The family now lives in Hinsdale.

The young marine corporal is among the nearly 1,000 wounded Viet Nam veterans at Great Lakes Naval Hospital. He hopes to be discharged from the Marines in about eight months. "My tour of duty ended today," Rick told his audience. "I am being held over for medical reasons."

When his release is completed, Rick plans to go to work for a paper company, traveling in the Midwest and Canada as a salesman.

Board Opposes Zoning Change

The board passed a resolution which is to be sent to the Cook County Clerk and Zoning Board of Appeals.

The zoning board heard a request earlier this month to change the zoning on McDonald Driving Range north of Euclid Rd. and west of Wolf Rd.

SCHOOL Dist. 26, in which the complex would be located, has objected to the zoning change on the ground that such a "planned development" would create a need for another school which the district could not afford.

The village of Mount Prospect's objections to the zoning change were based on five factors, according to the resolution.

1. There single - family re[illegible] the north and south so that the entire area takes on the atmosphere of a single-family district, thus making this proposal (for a zoning change) incompatible with the area."

2. The "only means of ingress and egress (to and from the development) is three driveways onto Euclid Ave., which limits greatly the ability to properly control and combat a fire."

3. The development has "no provision for streets and roads except private streets, which makes the project a burdensome one for the county, which is duty bound to provide adequate streets for fire and police protection."

4. "WATER facilities in the area have been planned for single - family residential development and would be overtaxed by multi - family development."

5. The developers plan "to handle the additional flow of surface water" into McDonald Creek is not satisfactory.

At present the 38 - acre range is divided in half, with the northern 19 - acres zoned R-4 (single - family) and the southern half zoned B-5 (business).

[illegible] and [illegible] want both parts zoned R-5 (multiple - family) and presented the zoning board with drawings of similar plans for both the north and south half of the property.

William Durant, who founded the General Motors Corp. as a company originally, operated the largest buggy manufacturing firm in the world before he began making motor cars.

Fined $80

Judge Simon. S. Porter fined Argelio Martell, 43, of Arlington Heights, $80 on two charges in Mount Prospect court Thursday. Martell was arrested for public intoxication and for not having a valid operators license after police found him asleep in his auto at Cathy Ln. and Busse Av.

The Bronze Star Medal was awarded posthumously to Army Spec. 4 John M. Harden for heroic action in Viet Nam. The award was conveyed to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Harden of Barrington in a ceremony in their home by Lt. John E. Briggs, (left) representing the Commanding Officer, Fort Sheridan, Ill. Spec. 4 Harden was previously awarded posthumously the Purple Heart, the Army's oldest award given for wounds received in action against an enemy.

Delinquent Loans Decline

Mortgage loan delinquencies at the nation's savings and loan associations during May declined to 1.02 per cent, lowest May figure since 1960, C. A. Duncan, Jr., president of the United States Savings and Loan League, reported today.

The League executive explained that the continuing monthly study of loan delinquencies conducted by the trade association is based on a survey of 900 reporting associations across the country. These savings and loans report the percentage of mortgage loans in arrears 60 days or more to the total loans in the portfolio at the end of each month.

"During the first five months of 1966, delinquencies were considerably lower than the corresponding period last year," Duncan said. "The 1965 delinquency figures were: January, 1.25; February, 1.28; March, 1.17; April, 1.18; and May, 1.20.

"In 1966, the figures were: January, 1.05; February, 1.15; March, 1.06; April, 1.04; and May, 1.02."

DUNCAN, who is also president of Farm and Home Savings, Nevada, Mo., said that the current figures reflect a downturn that began in 1964. While delinquency figures will vary from month to month, they began to decline in a fairly dramatic fashion between 1964 and 1965.

The steadily declining number of mortgage loan delinquencies indicates that savings and loan managers have tightened up their collection procedures," Duncan stated. "In addition, it indicates that there is a far greater selectivity being exercised in the granting of mortgage loans."

Although the delinquency rate has been declining steadily, Duncan pointed out that it has been accelerated by the tight mortgage money market which began shortly after the first of the year.

"With the inflow of savings funds drastically reduced as a result of competition from commercial bank consumer certificates of deposit, lenders have become more and more selective in lending policy," he said.

Boy's Baseball Report:

Passed Ball Is Culprit in Browns' Loss to Warriors

The Warriors slipped past the Browns 4-3 last night in the Senior Division of the Arlington Heights Boys' Baseball League.

Winning pitcher Alan May and losing hurler Barry Clark teamed up with a pair of seven-hitters, and the game wasn't decided until a passed ball allowed Ron Dolejs to score for the Warriors.

The winners' record is now 3-5.

The Yankees ended up on the short end of a 6-1 tally last night against the Athletics in the American Division. Both teams had nine hits, but Gordon Kaser got the win by fanning nine and walking only one.

Marty Friel was the big noise in the As' attack, getting a triple and a single and scoring twice and driving in three teammates.

Both teams are 1-1 in the second half of the season.

The Cougars trimmed the Falcons 5-2 in the Varsity II Division last night as Bob MacDonald went all the way for the win. He whiffed nine and walked three.

Art Eggert and Craig Smith sparkled defensively for the winners, who had six hits -- all singles. The Falcons also rapped only singles, getting eight.

THE VIKINGS knocked off the Orioles 11-5 in their Varsity II encounter last night, with Jay Benson getting the win and Vess Duro suffering the loss.

Duro rapped a homer in his own behalf, and the Vikings' Craig Benton and Jim Smrz both doubled.

The Triplets scored 10 runs in the first inning and coasted to a 12-3 win over the Comets in the North White Intermediate Division last night.

DON TESSMER struck out 10 and walked six en route to his three-hit victory.

Dave Auge, Tom Duczi and Ted Bialek all tripled for the winners and Mike Wendt, Terry McDonald, and Ray Thorsen all doubled.

The Solons picked up a 5-3 win over the Huskies last night in their South White Intermediate squabble, as Keith Johnson got the win. He struck out 12 and walked two.

Brian McHale of the Huskies got the game's biggest hit, stroking a triple. It was the losers' first defeat after three straight triumphs.

MIKE DONATO pitched the Hornets to their second win against no losses in the second half of the North Red Intermediate season. He beat the Twins 5-2 on a three-hitter, fanning 16 and walking two.

Jim Donato homered and doubled for the Hornets and Ed Helleson tripled. Rick Miller was pinned with a six-hit loss, whiffing nine and walking only one.

PHIL NOWLIN got the win in relief of Don Bledsoe, striking out 11 and walking six. The two hurlers combined for a no-hitter.

The Sox tripped the Rebels 6-5 in their North Blue Junior clash last night as J. R. Weber pitched three innings in relief to get the win.

A three-run homer by Ken Ligon in the first inning started the Trojans on their way to a 14-11 win over the Rockets in the North Red Junior Division.

Gary Schoeneck tripled and doubled for the Trojans and Tom Ellsworth tripled as well. Gary McNamara doubled for the Rockets, and Schoeneck and Tomaso doubled for the Trojans.

DAN MICHALEC homered and Gary Takata tripled for the game's big blows.

U.S. Tankers Eye Records At Moscow

Five world-record holders -- including Yale University's Don Schollander -- are on a United States Swimming team that will compete in an international meet in Moscow July 16-17.

Schollander missed the 1965 A. A. U. National Outdoor Championships due to illness, but he recently retained his 200-yard free style title in the indoor championships. His world records are for the 200- and 400-meter free - style events, with times of 1:57.6 and 4:12.2.

At Moscow he'll be joined by four other world-record holders, including Dick Roth of Atherton, Cal.; Martha Randall of Wayne, Pa.; Sue Pitt of Highland Park, N.J.; and Sharon Finneran of Santa Clara, Cal.

Roth holds the 400-meter medley mark of 4:45.5. Miss Randall holds the women's 400-meter free style in 4:38; Miss Pitt is the 220-yard butterfly champ with a time of 2:31.9; and Miss Finneran holds the 800-meter free-style record of 9:36.9.

The U.S. team is sponsored jointly by the state department

En-Lightened

ATLANTA (NEA) -- When infielder Woody Woodward signed with the Braves he was a junior at Florida State University.

Appreciative of the opportunities he had at Florida State he donated $3,000 of his bonus to the university for the installation of lights on its baseball field.

Bucks' NCAA Baseball Title Is Big 10's Fifth

Ohio State collected the Big Ten's fifth national baseball title and its third in the last five years last week in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's World Series in Omaha, Neb.

Behind the pitching of two-time All-American Steve Arlin, the Buckeyes avenged a 2-1 defeat at the hands of Arizona State in last year's final game.

MICHIGAN LAUNCHED the Western Conference's recent tournament success habit in 1962 when the Wolverines gained a berth in the playoffs as an at-large entry. They followed their national triumph with a world collegiate championship, defeating Japan's Hosei University three games to two.

Minnesota captured an N.C.A.A. title in 1964 before Ohio State claimed the runner-up spot and the championship in 1965 and 1966. Gopher Coach Dick Siebert is one of only two coaches ever to win the national crown three times. His other titles came in 1956 and 1960.

Ohio State's Arlin has also brought his fair share of glory to the Big Ten. He was the only league player to be named to the Coaches All-American team this year, and the only conference competitor to gain that honor twice.

ARLIN'S TOURNAMENT performance this year earned him the outstanding player award in the series. Three other Big Ten players have been so named, including Tom Yewcic of Michigan State, Jerry Thomas of Minnesota, and John Erickson of Minnesota.

Eighteen baseball All-America teams have been named since 1949, and the Big Ten has claimed 24 positions on them.

It's A Big Year for Caddies At Western Open Golf Tourney

BY DALE HOFMANN

In a way, it has been a bad Western Open year for local golf fans. Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player aren't in the field, and while 24 of the meet's 134 starters are Illinois pros, not one hails from an area club.

Still, Medinah Country Club is one of those places where you're just bound to run into someone you know this weekend. And the best place to look for a familiar face is the club's spacious caddie shack.

THIS IS THE BEST Western Open ever for seven Arlington Heights youngsters who are closer to the action than the most avid golf nut will ever get. They are the boys who are carrying the sticks for some of the nation's top pros this week.

The thrill still hasn't faded for 19 - year - old Jerry Winters though he has caddied in five other tour tournaments. He thinks he is walking with a winner this year -- a red - hot Champagne Tony Lema.

KEN BELYNSKY was traveling in the same threesome with Winters on opening day. It's his first big tournament, and his hopes are pinned on Belleville's Bob Goalby.

Jim Whitnell caddied for Jack McGowan last year in the qualifying round at Rolling Greens, but this is his first year in the big show. He's pulling for George Archer. It's the first year too for Scott Wallworth, who is working for Bill Martindale.

JOHN MCNAMARA may not be linked with one of the favorites, but he still had plenty of company on the course. McNamara is toting for Bob Rosburg, and Rosburg yesterday played with Billy Casper, the U. S. Open and defending Western Open Champion.

The pros who are going after the Open's top prize of $20,000 are among the best in their business, and so are the boys who are carrying their clubs. Medinah Caddy Master Paul Smith chose the club's top caddies for the tournament and then asked other clubs for the cream of their crop to fill in the vacancies. The local seven were among those who filled the bill.

PLAYER ASSIGNMENTS were drawn from a hat last Saturday, and if anyone was disappointed by the draw he wasn't letting on. Only one of the local bag - toters ventured to pick a winner. "I think if I had a chance to pick my man I would have taken Doug Sanders," Whitnell said. "He's been hot lately, and I think Casper was tired out by the U. S. Open."

The 15 - year - old Arlington High School junior based his opinion on long experience as a golf fan although somewhat shorter tenure as a golfer. He just took up the game last year, and he's still flirting with 100.

All of the Arlington caddies are golfers and most of them compete in other sports during the school year. Whitnell was a varsity wrestler for the Cards last year, while Belynsky played baseball and basketball for St. Viator, and Wallworth wrestled and golfed for Arlington.

THE ONE EXCEPTION to the random caddie assignment system was Winters. Lema asked for him. Winters has been one of Lema's staunchest supporters since he caddied for him in the Western Open in 1962.

"I follow him on the tour as much as I can," Winters said. "This year I watched him twice -- in the Buick Open and the U. S. Open."

While most of the local caddies have high hopes about their golfers' chances, Winters is the most convincing when he explains why Lema is the man to beat. "He's playing as well as he has at any time in his career," the Northern Illinois University freshman said. "And he hasn't finished lower than third in any of his last four tournaments."

IF LEMA DOES TAKE top money it will probably mean a payoff somewhere in the hundreds for Jerry Winters. Even the tail - enders' carriers can figure on something like fifteen dollars per round.

But it is a pretty safe bet that there is lot more than money on the minds of Arlington's seven privileged spectators at the Western Open this week.

Change Stance For Better Drives Says Golf Pro

BY CHUCK PEDERSEN

Golf Pro, Midlane Farms C.C.

The ability to get off long and accurate tee shots regularly often separates the men and the boys on a golf course.

TOP PROFESSIONALS agree that the big booming drive gives them a considerable advantage over the average hitter. While there is a wide variation in the lenght of tee shots in the pro ranks, almost all of the touring pros average at least 240 yards per drive.

The big hitters like George Bayer and Jack Nicklaus rap them out 270 yards and more, enabling them to be within the immediate area of the green even if they miss their second shot.

THE MOST COMMON fault among short drivers can be found in an improper hip turn through the hitting zone. This can be corrected with a couple basic adjustments.

Then move your right foot back just a little to give you more of an open stance. From this position you will be able to achieve a much greater turn with your hips on the downswing, and you will get good body leverage at impact.

Prospect H.S. Fills 5 Athletic Posts

Four new coaches and a head trainer have been named to fill vacancies in the Prospect High School athletic department for next year.

Two of the new men will function as head coaches for the Knights. Walt Strom will lead the Prospect trackmen in 1967, taking over for Dick Calisch who is transferring to the Elk Grove High School.

Strom comes to Prospect from Mattoon, Illinois where he was football and track coach for 14 years. He earned his Bachelor of Arts degree from Eastern New Mexico University in 1951 and his Master of Science Degree from the University of Illinois in 1952. Strom also coached football and track at Tatum High School in New Mexico.

The new mentor will also serve as an assistant football coach as will Jim Wright, new head varsity tennis coach.

Wright has been assistant freshman tennis coach at the University of Illinois since 1964. He received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from Oberlin College in 1964 and his Master of Arts Degree from the University of Illinois this year. He played varsity tennis and football for Oberlin for four years.

Also helping to fill out the Knights' football staff will be Dick Tschudi, who will be an assistant grid and wrestling coach. Tschudi earned his Bachelor of Science Degree at the University of Iowa, and served as a student coach at Dubuque High School in Iowa. He was a state high school wrestling championship runner-up, and a varsity wrestler and lineman for the Hawkeyes.

Richard Anderson, a familiar name to Arlington High School gymnastics fans, will join the Prospect staff this year as an assistant gymnastics coach.

Anderson competed for four years on the Cardinal gym squad, placing on the 1960 state championship unit. The local gymnast was also high point man on the Northern Illinois University team and was named most valuable man on the Huskies' roster in 1961 and 1962. Anderson received his Bachelor of Arts degree from N.I.U. in 1965.

He has also taught swimming and lifesaving at Pioneer Park pool in Arlington Heights for the past five summers.

Richard W. Kirstein takes over the head trainer's job at Prospect after eight years in that capacity at Glenbrook North High School. Kirstein received his Bachelor of Science Degree in education this year from Illinois State University.

Ryun to Compete At A.A.U. Meet

U. S. mile champion Jim Ryun will take another crack at the world record Saturday when he and two Kansas University teammates travel to New York for the National Amateur Athletic Union Track and Field Meet.

The Kansas freshman, holder of the national record in the mile, will enter only one event. Bob Steinhoff, another Jayhawk first-yearman will compete in the pole vault, while Kansas co-captain John Lawson is slated for the three- or six-mile run.

Michigan State football fans figure the 1966 home schedule of North Carolina State, Penn State, Michigan, Purdue, Iowa and Notre Dame is the choicest in history.
